MARX GIVES UP REINS

German Cabinet Quits in Crisis

Von Hergt Suggested as New Chancellor; Tirpitz Flatly Rejected

Dawes Reparations Plan is Predominant Issue as Reichstag Meets

BY GEORGE SELDES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, May 26.—The German Cabinet resigned tonight. President Ebert immediately accepted the resignation, and then asked the Cabinet to continue running the government until he obtains a new Chancellor.

Following the resignation of the Cabinet, the German Nationalists demanded the Chancellorship, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and presidency of the Reichstag. The Nationalists made a second attempt to force Admiral Von Tirpitz into the Chancellorship, whereupon the Socialistic and Democratic party leaders met in conference and decided flatly against Admiral Von Tirpitz.

President Ebert, according to official circles, will offer the Chancellorship immediately to the former Prussian Finance Minister, Herr Hergt of the Nationalist party, but it is not expected that any government will be formed until Monday. Coincidentally, Prince Max Baden is expected from Switzerland Monday, giving the Nationalists a big leader.

HERGT OR MARX

It is generally acknowledged that the Chancellorship lies between Herr Hergt and Herr Marx. If Herr Hergt receives the Chancellorship it means that the Nationalists will control the government, aided by the People's, Bavarian and probably Fascist parties, forming a second Marx Cabinet and soon a victory for the bourgeois or central liberal bloc.

The Reichstag, which opens one of the most critical sessions of its existence tomorrow, faces only one big question, upon which all home politics for a considerable time will be based—namely, the Dawes reparations plan.

Communism, Kaiserism, Nationalism, Internationalism, Fascism, the present industrial crisis in the Ruhr, the strike of 1,000,000 workers and a score of other big issues will fade out in comparison with the name which the Chicago banker is created in Germany.

TAX BILL TO PRESIDENT

House Approves Measure

Early Decision by Coolidge Forecast as Congress Completes Work

Mellon Holds Its Provisions Offer Improvement on Present Statute

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The tax reduction bill was put up to President Coolidge for final enactment into law today by Congress.

Like the Senate, the House by an overwhelming majority approved the conference compromise on the main provisions. The vote was 376 to 9.

An early decision by the President was forecast by those close to him on the basis of his insistent demands that Congress hasten action on tax reduction.

Mr. Coolidge had asked Congress for the bill proposed by Secretary Mellon, but has let it be known he will consider the measure as passed on its merits as compared with the present law. In this connection Secretary Mellon indicated today he considered the bill on the whole an improvement over the present law.

Within a few minutes after the measure had reached the White House it was sent to the Treasury Secretary for study. Mr. Mellon expects to have a report containing his analysis of the bill in the hands of the President tomorrow or Wednesday. It was indicated he would confine his report to a comparison of the measure with the present law without definite recommendations.

FLAT REDUCTION THIS YEAR

The bill provides for a 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year; permanent revision downward of the income, miscellaneous and excise taxes; additional reduction after this year of 25 per cent on earned incomes of $10,000 and under, and numerous changes in the administration provisions, most of which were proposed by the Treasury.

The bill was acclaimed today by leaders of both parties in the House, as was done also in the Senate, as "fair and just."

Chairman Green of the Ways and Means Committee read Treasury figures to show that it would provide sufficient revenue to meet all government expenditures next year, including the cost of the new bonus law. The bill cut taxes by $22,000,000 more than that proposed in the Mellon plan, Mr. Green added.

Red Cross Workers Rush to Mississippi Town Wiped Out by Twister

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

JACKSON (Miss.) May 27.—Advices received here early today from Brookhaven, Miss., by Red Cross workers stated that eight persons were reported killed and twelve injured about 11 o'clock last night by a tornado which virtually wiped out the settlement of Johnson Station, twelve miles from Brookhaven.

Red Cross workers from Jackson and Brookhaven were rushing to the little village.

The advices added that an unconfirmed report stated the tornado had hit Summit. Wires were reported down and details were lacking.

Britons Want Further Test of Death Ray

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, May 26.—The demonstration of the death ray by its inventor, Grindell Matthews, today evidently was not conclusive in the eyes of British government experts for the Air Ministry tonight issued a statement to the effect that after watching the demonstration the air experts asked Mr. Grindell Matthews for a "simple but conclusive test."

The inventor is stated to be considering the request of the air ministry and will reply tomorrow. It is understood that today's tests were similar to those made last week before French experts.

Home Closed to Curb Wet Transgressor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 26.—An injunction to close a private residence for violation of the prohibition law—the first ever issued in this State—was granted here today in Federal Court against John Ostrowsko.

Although ordering the injunction issued, the court allowed the defendant to file bond and live in the house, at the same time ruling that police be allowed access to the house at all times to search for liquor.

If "wet goods" should again be found in the home, the ruling is that Ostrowsko shall go to jail for contempt.

FRANKS SUSPECT ESCAPES

Eludes Cordon of Detectives Thrown Around Hotel; Man Held, Identity Not Revealed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, May 26.—Detectives hunting the slayers of Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of a Chicago millionaire, whose nude body was found in a swamp last Thursday after demands for a $10,000 ransom had been made, were searching tonight for a man who answers in almost every detail the hypothetical description of one of the kidnapers, built up by the police from various fragments of evidence.

For a time late today it was thought that the man sought was surrounded in an apartment hotel where he applied for a room. Detectives made a thorough search of the building, but the man eluded them.

CLERK SUSPICIOUS

The man, slim, nervous, about five feet nine inches tall and weighing 140 or 145 pounds, excited the suspicions of the hotel clerk. The clerk said he appeared about 35 years of age, had a slim face, wore tortoise-shell spectacles, and was exceedingly nervous.

When the clerk informed him there was no room available, the man said he "had to get in off the street" and left but was followed and entered a nearby building.

SPECTACLES AS CLEW

The police believe the man may be the wearer of the spectacles found near the slain boy's body. These spectacles were of peculiar make and oculists said they could only have been worn by a man with a thin face or by a woman. They also declared that an examination of the lenses indicated they were probably worn by a highly nervous person.

The police are also holding a man whose name they refuse to reveal, and who is said to answer in a general way the description given by a florist, of a man who purchased a wreath. This wreath, bearing the name "George Johnson" was sent to the Franks home on the day of the boy's funeral.

George Johnson was the name used by the man who tried to obtain a ransom of $10,000 from Jacob Franks, father of the slain youth.

In applying for the writ of habeas corpus for the release of the two instructors, Mott K. Mitchell and Walter Wilson, their attorney, Charles S. Wharton, asserted they had told everything they knew and that if any detrimental admissions were obtained, they were the result of the manner of examination to which the instructors were subjected.

The police announced tonight that these instructors, as well as a third instructor, had been virtually eliminated from consideration, but that another instructor had been involved by the latest information.

According to the latest theory, the boy was accidentally killed while held for ransom. The latest suspect is an instructor who the police believe may have used his landlady's automobile for the purpose of taking the boy's body to the swamp.

NEW WITNESS

A new witness, the police said, saw what he believes to be the automobile carrying the boy's body shortly after midnight Wednesday. The glasses found near the body, according to the latest theory were not the property of a man, but of the woman whose automobile is believed to have been borrowed.

The police tonight took their latest witness to the home of the woman under suspicion where he was to try to identify the automobile.

TELLS ITALIAN WAR FEAT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Making what he termed his first public address on Italy's military participation in the World War, Prince Gelasio Caetani, Italian Ambassador to the United States, told a gathering of the Association of the Army of the United States here today how he directed the destruction of Col Di Lana, an Alpine peak, which served as the "eye of the Austrian army."

He also detailed the Piave campaign and the final routing of the allied Austrian and German forces.

CLOSE TO ENEMY

"We dug through the mountain until we were within four feet of the Austrian sentries," he said. "We could hear them tramping over us, mystified by the noise of the blasting out of the tunnels we were making. At times we synchronized the firing of our batteries with the blasting under Col Di Lana so as to confuse the enemy even more. Then we loaded the two explosion chambers with sacked dynamite, which we tamped into place with our feet. We could hear the Austrians digging and picking away within a few inches of us.

"Finally they got too close. We had to let go. I telephoned in English to headquarters for the order to explode the big mines. The answer came back in English. 'Let 'er go.'

ONE MAN LOST

"We ordered out all of our sentries. But one man failed to receive the order. He was never seen again. Then I touched off the charge. There was no great explosion as I expected. Instead a great cloud of dirt and rocks that blotted out the full moon, and the great white top of the mountain was gone and the Austrian position with it. The eye of the Austrian army was blinded."

Prince Caetani was serving as a lieutenant of engineers at the time,

COOLIDGE HITS EXCLUSION IN APPROVING ALIEN BILL

Need for New Immigration Act Is Held to Outweigh Objections to Needless Slap at Japan

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Deploring its provision for Japanese exclusion, but heartily approving its main features, President Coolidge today signed the immigration bill.

Steps were taken immediately by the Department of Labor to prepare for administration of the law, which provides for further restriction of immigration after June 30 when the existing quota law expires, and for total exclusion of Asiatic immigration after that date.

The President approved the bill reluctantly, issuing a statement after he had affixed his signature in which he said he regretted the impossibility of severing from the measure the exclusion provision which he and Secretary Hughes had opposed strongly during the course of the legislation through Congress.

"There is scarcely any ground for disagreement as to the result we want, but this method of securing it is unnecessary and deplorable at this time," the President said with reference to the exclusion section.

"If the exclusion provision stood alone I should disapprove it without hesitation, if sought in this way at this time."

ACTS ON BILL AS WHOLE

The President pointed out that the bill put before him was a comprehensive act dealing with the whole subject of immigration and setting up improved administrative machinery and also that the existing act automatically expires June 30.

"I must therefore consider the bill as a whole and the imperative need of the country for legislation of this general character," he added. "For this reason, the bill is approved."

Occasion was taken by the President in his statement to declare that he gladly recognized that the enactment of the exclusion provision "does not imply any change in our sentiment of admiration and cordial friendship for the Japanese people, a sentiment which has had and will continue to have abundant manifestation."

Secretary Hughes, who had opposed vigorously the proposal to exclude Japanese immigrants by law, holding that exclusions should be accomplished by diplomatic arrangement, conferred with the President just before the bill was approved.

EXCLUSIONISTS HAPPY

Proponents of Japanese exclusion in Congress expressed gratification over the signature of the bill by the President, although they had held that should the Executive veto the measure they could command sufficient strength to pass it over his veto. Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee, one of the strongest of the exclusion advocates, called at the White House after the bill was approved, and was presented with the pen with which the President had signed the measure.

Masanao Hanihara, the Japanese Ambassador, whose note of April 1 suggesting "grave consequences" if the exclusion section was adopted had the effect of making an issue of the exclusion provision, called at the State Department after the President had signed the bill. The Ambassador was furnished with a copy of the President's statement, but at the Japanese Embassy it was said he would have no statement to make "at this time."

The steps taken by the Labor Department to assure effective administration of the new law when it goes into force July 1, include the redrafting of regulations governing national quotas. These quotas under the new act amount to 2 per cent of the number of nationals of the respective nations resident in the United States at the time of the 1890 census and will result in a considerable restriction of immigration over the present law, as well as changing the greatest immigration flow from the countries of Southern Europe to those of Northern Europe.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The President's statement accompanying his approval of the bill follows:

"In signing this bill which in its

SENATE FOR PUBLICITY

Passes Bill for Funds Reports

Measure Yet to be Voted on in House Requires Ten-Day Returns

Calls for Publication of Names of Donors to Campaign Funds

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Full publicity of political contributions at intervals of ten days during the coming Presidential and Congressional campaigns would be required under a resolution approved unanimously today by the Senate with fifty-five Senators voting. It has yet to be acted upon by the House.

Besides calling for publicity during the campaign, the measure would make mandatory the publication of the amount of any deficit at the end of the campaign and a public announcement thereafter monthly of the amounts received from each contributor to wipe out the deficit.

Adopted as an amendment to the pending postal increase bill, the measure is broad in its terms and would apply to all campaigns for the election of members of Congress and all officials of the government after its enactment but it would not limit contributions. It would affect "all committees, local, State and national, and all persons and parties having any part or share in the election or in the campaign for the election of such officials."

PUBLICATION REQUIRED

Moreover, it would call for the publication during the campaign and thereafter of the name and residence and official position, if any, of each contributor and the amount of his contribution. The requirement with respect to residence and official position was written in at the suggestion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and under it would be disclosed the amount of contributions by office - holders, such as marshals, postmasters and custom collectors.

Every person offending against the provisions of the proposed law would be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction would be imprisoned for not more than one year or fined not more than $5000, or both.

Explaining the amendment, Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, its author, declared it was broad enough in its terms to encompass reports not only on contributions used to help elect a candidate, but also contributions to organizations or persons seeking to bring about the defeat of any particular candidate.

WALSH FOR INQUIRIES

During the debate on the amendment, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, suggested that there should be provision for continuing Congressional investigation of campaign contributions and expenditures throughout the coming campaign and expressed the hope that adoption of the Borah amendment would not serve to shut out such inquiry.

Assuring him it would not, Senator Borah said he was in sympathy with proposals for such an inquiry. Senator Walsh expects to confer with several of his colleagues before a final decision to press the investigation which he suggested.

AMENDMENT TEXT

The text of the Borah amendment follows:

"That all committees, local, State, or national, and all persons or parties having any part or share in the election or in the campaign for the election of members of Congress and all officers or officials of the government of the United States, shall render at the end of each ten days a financial report of contributions received by, or for the account of, the committee or person or party, or candidate, directly or indirectly with the name, residence and official position, if any, of each contributor and the amount of his contribution, directly or indirectly and at the end of each campaign for the election of such members of Congress or officers or officials of the government of the United States, shall publish a complete and detailed financial statement, giving the name of each contributor and the amount of his contribution, together with the amount of any deficit incurred in the campaign; and such committee or party shall thereafter publish at the end of each month the amounts received

RUNS AMUCK IN PRISON

Negro Stabs Trio at Baptism

Condemned Slayer Reveals Plan to Hold Women in Cell for Ransom

Attacks Group With Ice-Pick After Rites in Effort to Gain Freedom

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLORENCE (Ariz.) May 26.—A fiendishly conceived plan of William B. Ward, negro condemned to die June 20 for the murder of Ted Grosh, University of Arizona athlete, to entrap two church women in his cell and hold them for ransom of his life and freedom collapsed today after he had stabbed and seriously wounded the two women and a prison guard, and himself had been set upon and beaten so severely by guards and other prisoners that he may die.

His attack with an ice pick which had been concealed in a hymn-book was made just after he had been baptized by Miss Stella Martin, woman evangelist of Globe, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Wright of Claypool, who had been called to the prison at Ward's request.

DELIVERS ULTIMATUM

At the time of his baptism, Ward handed to Superintendent Sims of the prison what was presumed to be a full confession of his crime. When the superintendent, after the battle in the cell, opened the document he discovered that instead of a confession, it was an ultimatum to the prison authorities demanding his release on penalty of death for the two women.

Ward's plan miscarried when the superintendent and a guard accompanied the women into the cell for the baptismal ceremony. Then, it is believed, he determined on a desperate attempt to gain his liberty by a murderous attack on all those in his cell with the ice-pick which he had planned to use to enforce his threats on the lives of his intended women prisoners.

ASKS FOR HYMNAL

The baptismal ceremony concluded, the negro asked for a hymn book, which was handed him, and he turned his back for a moment. He whirled suddenly, the ice pick upraised, and tried to stab his way out of the cell. The evangelist, her companion and Guard Burke each were wounded with the sharp weapon before they could recover from their surprise.

Then the Superintendent and the guard sprang into action and rained blow after blow on the negro. Half a dozen convicts who were near by formed into a mob and attacked Ward, beating him severely. His condition is critical.

The cell in which the convicted murderer was placed has been searched regularly, it was declared, and the prison authorities are unable to explain how the negro gained possession of his weapon and where he concealed it. Neither the guard nor the woman stabbed was seriously injured, it was said.

Grosh, a university student, and a girl companion were held up on the highway by a negro and a white man last winter. Grosh was killed and the young woman attacked. Ward was arrested, tried and convicted of the murder.

NEW ANESTHETIC FOUND

New Orleans Professor Announces Discovery of Gas He Asserts Is Superior to Those in Use

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—Discovery of a new anesthetic was announced tonight by Dr. John T. Halsey, professor of pharmacology and therapeutics at Tulane University, in a paper read before the Orleans Medical Society.

The anesthetic is propylene gas, contained in some natural gas, which Dr. Halsey and his laboratory assistants, Chapman Reynolds and Harold B. Cook, discoverers of its properties, believe can be manufactured from mineral oils.

Dr. Halsey's announcement followed several months of laboratory work.

"Propylene is similar to ethylene, the discovery of whose anesthetic properties, announced last year in Chicago, was hailed with enthusiasm by the medical profession, and resulted in its extensive use in surgical cases," said Dr. Halsey. "Propylene, it is believed, possesses distinct and striking advantages over its sister gas, ethylene, which has itself been found for most purposes superior to any other anesthetic.

"As soon as it is possible to observe the gas in sufficiently large quantities, its actions will further be studied in the Tulane laboratories and if these further experiments justify it, its use upon humans will follow promptly."

Dr. Halsey stated that the apparent superiority of propylene was due to the fact that it was active even though considerably diluted with oxygen. An anesthetic depends for its usefulness upon its administration in proper strength to complete anesthesia without injury from the poisonous property of the gas, he pointed out.

Oxygen must be administered, mixed with the gas, and it is therefore essential that the anesthetic itself be of sufficient strength to bring about complete unconsciousness, even when inhaled considerably diluted with oxygen. Propylene is so much more powerful than ethylene that a more complete anesthesia may be obtained without the necessity of supplying the patient with too little oxygen.

While it follows, he said, that with its greater strength, its toxicity must be greater than that of tehylene, numerous experiments have indicated that it is not sufficiently toxic to be unsafe.

CALIFORNIA ACT UP FOR REVIEW

Supreme Court Rehearing on Accident Law

Marine Workers' Status in State Action Sought

No Decision on Long and Short Haul Question

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Supreme Court today reviewed its recent decision in cases brought by the Industrial Accident Commission of California, in which it held that Congress could not validly make State workmen's compensation acts applicable to maritime workers on ships in navigable waters in harbors.

The California Accident Commission sought to have the court rehear cases it brought against the James Rolph Company and others, and against the Zurich General Accident and Liability Insurance Company. It especially asked the court to rule whether States could enforce laws applying to fatal injuries, pointing out that the Federal maritime law makes no provision for such cases, and also to determine whether employers and employees can voluntarily bind themselves to be governed by State laws, these being two points not touched upon in the other decisions.

NOT "AGAINST ENEMY"

Troops in cantonments in this country during the World War, in training to go overseas, were "not operating against an enemy," the court held. The government raised the question in a case against Charles J. Ferris, who, during a part of the war served, by order of the commanding general of the Eighteenth Division, as colonel of the Three Hundred and Fifteenth Field Artillery in training at Camp Lee, Va. Col. Ferris at the time of this assignment was lieutenant-colonel of the Three Hundred and Fourteenth Field Artillery and the Court of Claims held that he was entitled to the pay of colonel "serving with troops operating against an enemy." The government contended that the only troops operating against the enemy were those overseas and that officers serving with troops training for war in this country were not entitled to the increased pay.

The Court announced that it would not give further consideration to the long-and-short-haul cases from the Pacific Coast involving the Director-General of Railroads and others and decided by the court on April 7, last.

Butter holding 16 per cent or more of moisture is not "adulterated" under the act of May 9, 1902, the court held, and is not subject to a tax of 10 cents a pound unless an abnormal quantity is added.

SEATTLE DECISION

The ordinance of Seattle, requiring pawn brokers to be licensed and restricting licenses to American citizens, was declared by the court to be unconstitutional and void under a treaty with Japan. The ordinance was attacked in a case brought by R. Asakura, a Japanese. The Superior Court of King County, Washington, restrained enforcement of the requirement as unconstitutional, but the Supreme Court of the State sustained the ordinance.

At the request of New Mexico and Texas, the court set for rehearing on November 10, next, the case involving their boundary dispute which has been pending in the court since January, 1913. The hearing of the boundary dispute between New Mexico and Colorado also, was set for November 10.

The Court reversed the decision of the lower courts in the cases of the Home and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. A question of telephone rates in Seattle and Tacoma is involved.

The Federal law making possession of intoxicating liquor in the Indian country a criminal offense was not repealed by the National Prohibition Amendment, the Court held.

DEFINITE POLICY ON MARINE TRADE URGED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A definite policy should be laid down by the government giving notice that the American merchant marine will continue in operation for at least ten years, the House Shipping Investigating Committee was told today by Joseph E. Sheedy, vice-president of the Fleet Corporation. Until such action is taken, Mr. Sheedy said, the "stock argument" of foreigners that the American fleet is only a temporary one will continue.

COOLIDGE SIGNS NEW ALIEN BILL

main feature I heartily approve, I regret the impossibility of severing from it the exclusion provision, which, in the light of existing law, affects especially the Japanese.

"I gladly recognize that the enactment of this provision does not imply any change in our sentiment of admiration and cordial friendship for the Japanese people, a sentiment which has had and will continue to have abundant manifestation.

"The bill rather expresses the determination of the Congress to exercise its prerogative in defining by legislation the control of immigration instead of leaving it to international arrangements. It should be noted that the bill exempts from the exclusion provision government officials, those coming to this country as tourists or temporarily for business or pleasure, those in transit, seamen, those already resident here, and returning from temporary absence, professors, ministers of religion, students and those who enter solely to carry on trade in pursuance of existing treaty provisions.

"But we have had for many years an understanding with Japan by which the Japanese government has voluntarily undertaken to prevent the emigration of laborers to the United States and in view of this historic relation and of the feeling which inspired it, it would have been much better, in my judgment, and more effective in the actual control of immigration, if we had continued to invite that co-operation which Japan was ready to give and had thus avoided creating any ground for misapprehension by an unnecessary statutory enactment.

"That course would not have been derogated from the authority of the Congress to deal with the question in any exigency requiring its action. There is scarcely any ground for disagreement as to the result we want, but this method of securing it is unnecessary and deplorable at this time.

"If the exclusion provision stood alone I should disapprove it without hesitation, if sought in this way at this time. But this bill is a comprehensive measure dealing with the whole subject of immigration and setting up the necessary administrative machinery. The present quota act of 1921 will terminate on June 30, next. It is of great importance that a comprehensive measure should take its place, and that the arrangements for its administration should be provided at once in order to avoid hardship and confusion.

"I must therefore consider the bill as a whole, and the imperative need of the country for legislation of this general character. For this reason the bill is approved.

MISSIONARIES FEEL EFFECT OF EXCLUSION

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TOKIO, May 26.—The smaller native Christian churches have been dealt a damaging blow by the passage of the American immigration bill with its clause excluding Japanese, according to the Hochi Shimbun and other papers. These journals declare the action on the American bill has made the Japanese distrust the missionaries and their teachings and has been influential in causing many Japanese Christians to leave the churches.

Native Christian leaders are quoted in the Vernacular press as saying that few Japanese believe in Christianity as it is taught by missionaries here, considering it a sham and the missionaries' professions of Christian humanity, justice and brotherhood false.

These leaders are quoted as saying the effect of the exclusion clause will be the divorcing of native churches from the American mission bodies, which may in the long run be beneficial as encouraging the remaining Japanese Christians to stand unsupported by foreigners.

PROTEST BEING PREPARED IN TOKIO

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TOKIO, May 27.—The signing of the immigration bill by President Coolidge surprised nobody here. During the past fortnight the Foreign Office has been working on a protest against the provision of the bill excluding Japanese from the United States anticipating its final enactment.

The Cabinet, it is understood, at its meeting this morning discussed the protest, which will be sent to Ambassador Hanihara in Washington in a few days.

The protest, it was learned, will be based on alleged violation of Japan's treaty rights under the first article of the treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Japan.

NO REVISION OF ANCIENT CREED

Methodists Reject Plan to Change Wording

Use of 'Catholic' in Phrase Causes Argument

Detroit Pastor Warns of Drifting Apart

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) May 26. A proposal to change the Apostle's Creed, substituting the words "Christ's Holy Church," for "the Holy Catholic Church," was rejected by a close margin at the Methodist Episcopal General Conference here today.

"A protest that is almost a rebellion," Rev. J. W. Abel, of Oklahoma, said in supporting the resolution, "is coming up from our people against the use of the word 'Catholic.'"

Dr. George Elliott of Detroit, asserted that the proposed change in "the oldest confessional in the Christian church" would tend to separate the Methodist Church from other evangelical churches.

"It is our fault if the word 'Catholic' has the wrong meaning to the people," Dr. Elliott said. "'Catholic,' in its real sense, is all-inclusive; it is the word 'Roman' that excludes."

Rev. William G. Alston, a negro delegate from Louisiana, declared that use of the words 'Holy Catholic' in the creed was driving adherents from the churches. "No one thing has given me so much trouble all my life as those two words," he added.

HERITAGE OF PAST

"I won't give up my family because it's someone else's," Rev. Abraham W. Harris of the Maine delegation, secretary of the board of education, said. "Let us demand and keep the heritage of the past. The word 'Catholic' carries us back to the very beginning of the Christian church. Don't lay your hands upon that past. I stand for the creed as my fathers said it and as I want my son to say it."

Balloting earlier in the day for three publication agents of the Methodist book concern, to serve through the coming quadrennial, the delegates re-elected John P. Race of Cincinnati, and elected George C. Douglass of Troy, N. Y., and Prof. C. G. Markham of Baldwin City, Kas.

COOLIDGE GETS NEW TAX BILL

from the Republican side assailed the measure because of its provisions for publicity which would permit the publication of the amount of tax paid by each tax payer and open the hearings of the proposed board of tax appeals to the public.

NINE IN OPPOSITION

Although only nine Republicans actually voted against the conference report, there were indications that probably many more would vote to sustain any veto on account of the publicity provisions. Only six Senators voted against the report and some of those announced they would vote to override a Presidential veto.

The revenue bill passed the House three months ago by a vote of 405 to 8. Two members who then voted against it, today supported the conference report—Bacharach, Republican, New Jersey, and Howard, Democrat, Nebraska. Three Republicans who previously voted for the bill voted against the report—Hill, Maryland; Moores, Indiana, and Phillips, Pennsylvania.

The Treasury Department previously had announced objection to the publicity provision and the increases in the estate tax rates.

Republicans as well as Democrats defended in the brief debate in the House today the publicity proposal, declaring no harm would result while a lot of good might be accomplished if the amount of taxes paid were made public.

HOUSE ENTHUSIASTIC

Cheers, mounting in several instances to real ovations, greeted speakers during the debate today and, as the vote indicated, the House seemed thoroughly pleased with the bill. Representative Longworth, Republican floor leader, defending his compromise stand on the Mellon rates, was accorded enthusiastic applause from both sides of the chamber.

The 50 per cent cut proposed by Secretary Mellon in the high surtax rates with the proposal for a 25 per cent reduction in the normal rate, was not comparable in merit, Mr. Longworth said, with the schedule fixed by the bill, giving a 25 per cent cut in surtaxes and a 50 per cent cut on the lower normal rates.

Despite his objections to some of the provisions in the measure, Secretary Mellon has informed his advisers there are many good provisions in the bill which must be given due consideration in any comment that the Treasury may give the President.

Repeal or reduction of most of the miscellaneous and excise taxes is ordered, and these would go into effect thirty days after enactment of the bill into law.

The revenue bill was one of the first taken up for study by Congress at the opening of this session and has served to bring about sharp legislative party battles, many of the provisions being decided in both branches on strict party lines with Republican insurgents in both bodies holding the balance of power.

In the House the insurgents eventually went with the Republicans, while the contrary was true in the Senate. A compromise on the Senate and House differences was accepted in the adoption of the conference report.

VISIT SOLDIER GRAVES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—Pathetic pilgrimage parties are leaving Paris this summer for the battlefront comprising English orphans of the war and widows of soldiers. Already one group of 1200 has visited the graves of the dead along the Somme. In many cases the British government is paying expenses, in others the French government as well as newspapers and charitable societies and wealthy philanthropists are giving aid.

BERLIN CABINET QUITS IN CRISIS

man Cabinet frequently today offered to resign so President Ebert could appoint a new Chancellor and the Reichstag could begin its session with a clean slate. Just as frequently new coalitions were formed, shattered and revived.

There was one touch of humor to the rather dreary political deal when it became known that the entire Communist delegation, numbering more than sixty members, proposed coming to the Reichstag tomorrow each wearing blue spectacles. This proposal was aimed at Gen. Von Ludendorff, who at the armistice fled from Germany to Sweden, calling himself Dick Lindstrom, and wearing blue spectacles. This Communist scheme was discovered today.

The Communists also plan using their voices to the extreme, and have reserved such slogans as "mass murderer," "war loser" and "Kaiser lover" to hurl at Gen. Von Ludendorff.

In preparation for the Reichstag the Socialist party's organ, Vorwaerts, carried a headline, "France wants peace. Does Germany want peace also? over an appeal to Germany to accept the Dawes plan, cease its nationalistic and Kaiseristic movements, cease singing new songs of hate and come to a friendly understanding with France, whose leader, the Socialists expect, will be M. Herriot.

"Nationalist Germany cannot deal with democratic France, the same as nationalist France could not deal with democratic Germany, but democratic Germany can deal with democratic France," sums up the Vorwaerts, which is exactly the position of the central democratic parties in Germany.

LOSE GROUND STEADILY

Certainly it is apparent that the extreme Nationalists have lost ground steadily since the election, when they claimed they would knock the Dawes plan for a cocked hat, and proposed Admiral Von Tirpitz as Chancellor for that torpedoing job. Not only did England and France express surprise and anger, but economic elements entered into the situation. The nationalists found that the Reichsbank remained firm against issuing large credits to the industrialists who are working against acceptance of the Dawes plan, and 90 per cent of these industrialists and also the Nationalist party are anti-Dawes workers.

The Communist party beginning tomorrow will be headed by a woman, Ruth Fischer, who will become spokesman for the party, occupying a front bench. Admiral Von Tirpitz will occupy the late Herr Helfferich's seat. Gen. Von Ludendorff will sit beside Count Reventlow and Herr Wulle, editor, and one of the founders of Fascism.

DEMANDS FRAMED BY EXTREME NATIONALISTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, May 26.—The extreme Nationalist members of the Reichstag, numbering thirty-two, met tonight and formulated a remarkable program, including the following demands:

First, immediate election of a new President.

Second, repeal of the law for protection of the republic.

Third, amnesty for all participants in the Munich and Kuestrine revolts.

Fourth, trial on the charge of treason of all who participated in the revolution of November, 1918, and collaborated with the soviet government.

Fifth, expulsion of all Jews who have entered Germany since 1914, partial confiscation of their property and abolition of their right to change Jewish names.

Sixth, all Jews to be placed under special legislation.

Gen. Ludendorff was not present.

Girl Swallows Poison, Dances to Her Death

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YREKA, May 26.—A note written by Lena Lange, 18 years of age, was found today indicating that she had killed herself by poisoning because she was "tired of life." The girl was to have been married next month to Tony Deavilla and was dancing with him when she collapsed early yesterday morning. She died four hours later.

The note left by the girl mentioned a man, whose name is being kept secret while he is being questioned. It said:

"I am tired of living. I will see you in heaven and if I don't see you there, it will be in the other place."

Six Hundred at Convention of State Dentists

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—More than 600 dentists of the State attended the opening session of the fifty-fourth annual convention of the California State Dental Association here today. The president, Dr. Harry Leppo of Santa Rosa, delivered an address.

Balloting for a new president, who will not take office until the 1925 convention, began with Dr. S. B. Fontaine of Oakland and Dr. H. T. Hendricks of Hanford as the candidates. The result will be announced Thursday. Dr. Hendricks was prevented from attending the convention by his serious injury in an automobile accident at Kansas City last Friday.

EX-BISHOP GOES ON TRIAL TODAY

Former Dignitary Up Over "Contrary Doctrines"

"Radical in Belief," Says Once Episcopal Head

"Jesus Fictitious Character," Admitted Authorship

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND (O.) May 26.—Leaders of the Protestant Episcopal church tonight were prepared for the trial, opening here tomorrow, of William T. Montgomery Brown, former bishop of the Arkansas diocese. Nine bishops as members of the court, three as presenters of Bishop Brown on charges of teaching doctrines not held by the church, and half a dozen laymen as counsel, will be the active participants in the proceedings.

Bishop Brown came from his home in Galion, O., and conferred with his attorneys. Statements issued by him repeated previous pronouncements that he admittedly was "radical" in his beliefs, but that this was no legal ground for the action brought against him.

NO "FUNDAMENTALISM"

Charles L. Dibble, an attorney of Kalamazoo, Mich., who as "church advocate" will have the task of presenting the case on behalf of the three accusing bishops, emphasized that no question of "fundamentalism" is involved.

Mr. Dibble explained that the charge was scarcely "heresy" in that it was not concerned with the right or wrong of the defendant's theories. The technical charge is "teaching doctrines contrary to those held by the Protestant Episcopal church," and he added that, if the circumstances could be summed up in one word, the word would be "atheism."

The trial will be based upon twenty-three charges detailed by Bishops Arthur C. Hall, Vermont; Joseph M. Francis, Indianapolis, and William Gravatt, West Virginia.

DIVINITY "IS FICTION"

They are excerpts from one of the books which Bishop Brown published since his retirement, 12 years ago.

In these charges Bishop Brown is accused and he today admitted having written among other things that the Divinity worshipped by the church is "at best a fiction and at worst a superstition."

That there is no Christ on earth, save human knowledge and that "there is no rational doubt about the fictitious character of the 'Divine Jesus.'"

BONUS CASH REQUEST IS IN CONGRESS

President Transmits Plea of Veterans for Millions to Lawgivers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A request from the Veterans' Bureau for an appropriation of $127,817,898 to defray the costs of the soldier bonus until July 1, 1925, was transmitted today to Congress by President Coolidge. Of the total, $1,188,500 would be for administrative expenses.

Director Lord of the Budget Bureau, estimated that $8,174,240 would be needed to meet payments to 827,125 veterans entitled to $50 or less in cash, and $18,451,274 for the first two quarterly installments due beneficiaries of deceased veterans, estimated to number 185,499.

The request included $100,000,000, the maximum authorized under the bonus law to be appropriated for the calendar year 1925, for the annual premium to be provided for the payment of the face value of adjusted service certificates.

The total appropriation sought from Congress, is in addition to $3,600,000 requested by the War Department, and $450,000 asked by the Navy Department for assisting in the administration of the Adjusted Compensation Act.

Pupil Confesses Murdering Girl School Teacher

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ELLSWORTH (Me.) May 26.—Roland MacDonald, 15-year-old pupil in a country school at Amherst, has confessed, according to Sheriff Ward W. Wescott of Hancock county, that he killed Louise B. Gerrish, youthful teacher at the school, on a lonely road last Wednesday night.

In a statement made after conference with State and county officers at the Hancock County Jail, where MacDonald and his brother, Victor, two years younger, are prisoners, the Sheriff said Roland had pointed out the spot where the 19-year-old teacher was shot and re-enacted the crime.

Child Is Slain in Race Fight at Pittsburg

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSBURG, May 26.—A 3-year-old girl, Ida Kirtsman, was injured fatally during a riot between groups of white men and negroes in the Hill District here tonight. The child was struck on the head by a brick and died later in a hospital. The disturbance was quelled by police.

GROUND IS LOST BY MODERNISTS

Signally Defeated in Vote at Presbyterian Assembly

Moderator Upheld in Action on Seminary Report

Resolution Adopted Hits at Film Caricatures

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) May 26.—Bitter controversy today brought the fundamentalist-modernist division in the Presbyterian church into the open with a signal victory for the fundamentalists, when the general assembly, in heated session, voted 445 to 341 to support Dr. Clarence E. MacArtney, moderator and fundamentalist leader, on a point of order.

Charges of heresies on the part of some teachers in theological institutions of the church and in the published works of some churchmen were made.

The debate sprung to sudden life during the reading of the committee report on theological seminaries. Dr. Walter F. McMillin, of Philadelphia, a commissioner from Dr. MacArtney's presbytery, sought introduction of a resolution imposing upon teachers in theological seminaries the "solemn obligation to see to it that their teaching is in conformity with the confirmation of faith."

MODERATOR WINS

Members of the New York Presbytery in the debate that followed took the stand that rules of the assembly proscribe attacks from the floor on individual ministers. The moderator ruled against this point of order and when an appeal from his decision was taken, he was upheld with a majority of 104 votes. Further debate was choked off by adoption of a motion sending the theological seminary report back to the committee.

High points of today's assembly sessions were:

Unanimous adoption of a resolution written by William Jennings Bryan, pledging the church to the International Court of Justice and arbitration of differences, but reserving the right of "this nation to control its own destiny, and decide whether and when to declare war."

HIT AT FILMS

Adoption of a resolution objecting to the caricaturing of clergymen in motion-pictures, with the provision that the resolution be called to the attention of Will H. Hays, an elder of the Presbyterian church and president of the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Acceptance of the report of the committee on education, in which the assembly went on record as "renewing" its approval of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The question of the union of the two branches of the church will be revived tomorrow by the fraternal visit to this assembly of Dr. Thornton Whaling of Louisville, moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States (South.)

London Throng Greets Italian King and Queen

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, May 26.—Crowds which had been gathering since early morning around Victoria Station gave King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy, and the Prince of Piedmont and Princess Mafalda a rousing reception upon their arrival from Dover, where the Prince of Wales had met them.

Members of the British royal family and of the government, soldiers, the staff of the Italian embassy and a number of black-shirted Fascisti were at the station.

The pageantry of the three-days' visit began with a fanfare of trumpets, the blaring of military bands and the cheering of the multitude of onlookers as the royal carriages wheeled away from the station and moved along streets lined by troops toward Buckingham Palace.

VICTOR HERBERT IS DEAD

Famous Composer Suddenly Stricken in Physician's Office; Heart Disease Believed Cause

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Victor Herbert, famous composer and musician, died this afternoon at a physician's office near his home in One Hundred Eighth street. It is believed heart disease was the cause of death. Mr. Herbert's daughter confirmed the news of her father's sudden death.

"It is true, I am sorry to say," she said, "Mr. Herbert was at the office of his doctor when he was stricken. He had been in poor health. That is all I can say now. I am too overcome to say more."

The news of the death of Mr. Herbert came as a shock, not only to his family, but his hundreds of friends in the music world. He had an engagement with Florenz Ziegfeld at the New Amsterdam Theater at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and shortly after that hour a telephone message was received stating that he had been taken to a physician's office and that while restoratives were being administered.

BORN IN IRELAND

Victor Herbert, 'cello, composer and conductor of such, was born in Ireland, February 1, 1859, and was a grandson of Samuel Lover, the Celtic poet and novelist who wrote "Handy Andy." His melodies got their inspiration from Ireland, his thereof as a musician sprang from his training in Germany where he was taken to become proficient in the tonal art.

As a virtuoso on the 'cello he soon leaped into prominence, being various solo positions and finally being called to Stuttgart as 'cellist of the Royal Opera there. In 1886 he came to New York as a solo 'cellist of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and assistant conductor to Anton Seidl.

From 1893 to 1898 he was conductor of the Twenty-second Regiment Band (Gilmore's) and from 1898 to 1904, of the Pittsburg Symphony Orchestra. While in Pittsburg he was invited to play several concerts of the New York Philharmonic Society. In 1904 he returned to New York and organized his own orchestra, making extensive tours throughout the country.

As a composer, Victor Herbert was most successful. His compositions for orchestra include "Romantique," a symphonic poem, "Woodland Fancies," "Suite Columbus" and "Irish Rhapsody," besides many works in smaller form. His cantata, "The Captive," was produced at the Worcester Music Festival. His concerto for 'cello includes a cadenza for two 'cello concertos, one of which is now a standard number. His notable productions for the stage are operas, Natoma," which had a repertoire of the Philadelphia Opera Company, and has been given with excellent success throughout the country.

Mr. Herbert married Miss Therese Foerster, a prima donna, and had two children, Clifford Victor and Victoria.

RAIL BOARD HITS ESPEE IN ARIZONA

Commerce Report Fails to Save Line Between Mesa and Phoenix, is Ruling

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, May 26.—Corporation Commissioner Betts denies that the tentative report of the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Finance, with regard to the Arizona Eastern's extra right of way, thus far constitutes any order that may save the right of way to the Southern Pacific between Mesa and Phoenix. He states:

"Objection was made by the Tidewater Company, as by this commission and twelve other intervenors, in the lease case to inclusion of the duplicate and unused trackage in the lease to the Southern Pacific. The objection was based on the fact that such inclusion would permit the Southern Pacific to adjust its rates to earn a return on property which is unused and useless to it for railroad purposes and which it has virtually abandoned, as far as railroad operations are concerned."

The commission will file protest against acceptance of the tentative report.

Yreka Parties Seek Lost Son of Lumberman

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YREKA, May 26.—Searching parties are following old brushed-over trails tonight for William King, Jr., son of William King, superintendent of the Longvale Lumber Company at Weed, who has been lost in the mountains near Weed since early yesterday morning, when he failed to return from a fishing trip. Young King is a clerk in the lumber mill.

King went on the fishing trip with C. C. Cappell of Weed. Cappell caught his limit after a few hours but King decided to stay longer at the fishing place.

He did not return after several hours and Cappell set out from Weed in search of him. He failed to find him and then reported to the father. A searching party was sent out and hunted throughout the night without avail. Augmented by other parties it took up the search again today.

NEW BLOCKS TO ADJOURNMENT

Congress Faces Reclamation and Muscle Shoals

Log Rollers in Senate Have Back Up for Fight

Outlook Declared Dark for McNary-Haugen Bill

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Reclamation, relief legislation and Muscle Shoals bobbed up in the Senate today as further obstacles to the carrying out of the plans of leaders to adjourn in advance of the national political conventions.

Farm aid measures and the proposal to abolish the Railroad Labor Board already had threatened to prove stumbling blocks and with the adoption of reclamation and Muscle Shoals leaders became doubtful that their program could be put into effect.

With the fate of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill still in doubt in the House and with a vote there out of the question before the end of the week, Senator Frazier, North Dakota, a Republican of the farm bloc, served notice in the Senate that there would be resistance to adjournment until some sort of agricultural aid bill had been put through.

Then Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, inflated that Congress should not adjourn until reclamation relief legislation had been enacted, declaring that unless it were thousands of western homesteaders would lose their property. Later he said privately that farm legislation also must be enacted before adjournment.

LOG ROLLING ON

A demand for action on Muscle Shoals, and more particularly Henry Ford's offer, was made by Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, and Senators Borah and Warren, Republican, Wyoming, and others gave him assurance of their support in demanding action after the Alabama Senator had announced he would vote for justice for homesteaders.

In the face of these developments, Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, said he and other leaders in the House, as well as some of those in the Senate, were determined to conclude this session by the end of next week, and that failing in that he would insist that there be no recess through the convention period. He conceded, however, the possibility of a determined group in the Senate blocking adjournment.

The Senate Agricultural Committee apparently is about ready to report on Muscle Shoals and Chairman McNary of the Senate Reclamation Committee, predicted that action could be had by the Senate on reclamation relief legislation within ten days. This would leave farm aid as the outstanding hurdle.

OUTLOOK IS DARK

After a further canvass of the situation in the House, some leaders of the farm bloc were in agreement with party managers that the outlook for passage of the McNary-Haugen measure was dark. Should it fail some were of the opinion that a substitute should be pressed, if possible, during the coming week, while others declared they were willing to see Congress adjourn in the belief that agreement on farm legislation was impossible.

Should the McNary-Haugen bill be passed by the House, there appeared some doubt that it could be put through the Senate where the Norris-Sinclair bill is to be brought forward as a substitute. The latter measure already has been rejected by the House Agriculture Committee.

Regardless of the fate of the McNary-Haugen bill, House leaders said they were disposed to pass the Hoch resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the railroad freight rate structure with a view to a general reduction on farm products.

DOMINION BECKONS TO SCANDINAVIANS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

COPENHAGEN, May 26.—Mrs. Charles Thorburn of Ottawa, Canadian representative of the Dominion Immigration Bureau, attending the women's international congress here, is encouraging Danish and Scandinavian emigrants to go to Canada because the Dominion offers better chances than the United States. Mrs. Thorburn declares that Canada is especially desirous to attract Scandinavians to Canada.

Canada this spring is carrying on intensive propaganda, promising excellent opportunities to thousands of men and women agricultural workers. Every ship leaving for Canada is crowded with Scandinavian emigrants.

SUGAR PRICE DOWN TO NEW LOW LEVEL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Another reduction in the price of refined sugar was announced today bringing the price to a basis of 6.85 for fine granulated, a new low level for the year. Later several refiners dropped their price to $6.80.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Refined-sugar prices were reduced by 20 cents a hundred pounds today, making the new cane base $7.20 and the beet base $7. This marked the third 20-cent reduction within a week.

BAY CITY CONVICTIONS OF SALOON MEN STAND

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Conviction and sentence of Peter P. McDonough, formerly prominent as a saloonman, politician and bail broker here, and his former bartender, Harry Rice, on charges of violating the Volstead law were upheld today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. McDonough's sentence is fifteen months in the Alameda County Jail and a fine of $1000. Rice was given a year in the same jail and a fine of $1000.

WOMEN AND MEN CALLED 'HONORABLE'

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Every delegate and alternate to the Democratic National Convention next month will be an "honorable."

Men delegates have held this title for some time. Now it has been conferred also on women.

At the headquarters of the committee for the entertainment of women delegates and alternates, lists are being compiled of the 500 women members of the convention from various States.

In most instances the official lists do not indicate whether a woman delegate is "Mrs." or "Miss" and Mrs. Louise Graham Harding and others in charge of the headquarters were at a loss how to address them.

Diplomacy would have to be exercised. It would never do to address a married woman as "Miss," or a single woman as "Mrs." Still the letters had to be written. What to do?

Then some one got the wave; length of a bright idea and made it a permanent wave. The men delegates had the title of "honorable," so why not call the women "honorable," avoid mistakes and leave a pleasant impression? It was done.

Gate-Crasher Champ on Way to Michigan City

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) May 26.—One-Eyed Mike Connelly, "the Ithaca giant," and world's champion gate-crasher, passed through on his way to Michigan City to the Gibbons-Carpentier fight.

He has been in California all winter, but said even the climate couldn't keep him with the prospects of seeing the big bout.

"Supposing they toss you out, what then?" he was asked.

"Tossed me out at the Dempsey-Carpentier fight thirteen times, but I saw it," he retorted. It might be added that "The Eye" is not using Mr. Pullman's well-known car.

MOTHER HID SECRET OF CHILD TO DEATH

DEPOSITION TELLS STORY OF BIRTH AND ADOPTION OF OWN DAUGHTER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OMAHA (Neb.), May 26. — A deposition by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, San Diego, Cal., recorded a story of a woman who, for thirty years posed as the foster mother of her own child, Mrs. Verna Andresen, and was the chief factor in the decision by County Judge Wheat at Papillion in awarding the mother's $35,000 estate to Mrs. Andresen, the Omaha World Herald said today.

The mother, Mrs. Emma Bloedel, 58 years of age, a Papillion business woman, died March 5, 1923, leaving no will and carrying her secret to her grave. Mrs. Andresen was about to give up a fight to establish herself as an heir when she consulted Edward Bloedel, 69, of Papillion, who married Mrs. Bloedel forty-two years ago, but who separated from her years before Mrs. Andresen was born.

Bloedel recalled that Mrs. Graham might help her. The California deposition that followed said that thirty years ago Mrs. Bloedel came to Mrs. Graham, then of Fremont, Neb., confided she was to become a mother and unfolded a plan to keep the matter a secret. A baby was born following which Mrs. Bloedel returned to Papillion. Later, according to the story, she left, telling neighbors she was lonesome and had decided to adopt a baby girl, returning later with her own child.

RADIO WIRE KILLS

Woman Touches Aerial Hanging From Charged Line

WASHINGTON (Iowa) May 26. Mrs. Alvin McCall, 55 years of age, was instantly killed when she grasped a radio wire suspended from a live wire on the lines of the Iowa Gas and Electric Company. Neighbor boys had been using the wire for a radio aerial. It broke and fell across the hot wire at the rear of the McCall home.

THREE HELD IN THEFT OF $145,000 IN BONDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Three men are held here without bail today on suspicion of having robbed the Walton State Bank of Walton, Kan., of $145,000 in Liberty Bonds on January 19, last. They are John Kemkoff, Joseph Faber and Frank Markey, all of New York City. The court was told that stolen bonds worth $47,950 were recovered when the three were arrested here last Saturday.

GRASSHOPPER PEST BUSY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—The grasshopper pest, especially those species breeding on the dry lands, are already destructive to orchards and vineyards in the outlying districts, according to T. D. Urbahns, entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture. He has just completed a survey of conditions in San Joaquin, Placer, Yuba, Sutter, Butte, Tehama, Glenn, Colusa, Yolo and Sacramento counties. In the northern counties of the Sacramento Valley they were not as far advanced as they were farther south.

RIVER CHANGES CHANNEL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL POINT (S. D.) May 26.—For twenty-five years the Missouri River has been cutting the banks on the South Dakota side of the stream near Elk Point, but in the high water this spring the fickle stream suddenly changed to a new channel. It has abandoned the South Dakota shore and is now running along the Nebraska shore, having cut an entirely new channel through a large sandbar.

RAP TAKEN AT SHIPYARD BIDS

Sheedy Says Federal-Owned Stations Unreliable

Estimates and Actual Cost Are Held Different

Sale of Vessels to Dollar Company Discussed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Failure of government shipyards to live up to their estimates for repair work has led the Shipping Board to award such contracts to private yards, Joseph E. Sheedy, vice-president of the Fleet Corporation, testified today before the House committee investigating the board.

Although navy yard estimates frequently are lower than private bids, actual costs on work awarded the former, Mr. Sheedy said, usually run considerably higher than the original estimates.

Sheedy said he is opposed to the provision in the Shipping Board appropriation bill that navy yards be given prior consideraton in all reconditioning and repair work.

USED AS HAMMER

"The value of the navy yard at present," he said, "is that it protects us against a steal. We have that as a hammer over the private yards. If I can get work done at a private yard for the same costs as the estimate of the navy yard plus a normal profit I will give it to the private yards every day."

Declaration by the witness that many of the private yards built during the war for emergency use, should now be given work for peace time support, brought from Representative Davis, Democrat, Tennessee, the statement that the board should let its repair contracts "in the interests of the government and not try to take care of somebody who got stuck during the war."

SALE COMES UP

"If the navy yards will guarantee a fixed price," Sheedy testified, "I am for the navy yards every time, but they can't back it up. Their work may run $30,000 or it may run $200,000 over."

Taking up the sales for $550,000 each of the seven "President" ships to the Dollar Steamship Company of San Francisco, Representative Davis said his information was that the President Adams had made a profit of $250,000 on her first round-the-world voyage.

While he was without official figures, Sheedy said, his information was that the vessel had sustained a loss of from $50,000 to $100,000.

Fort Sill Artillery Stages Huge Demonstration

Sham Attack Under Barrage Witnessed by 50,000

Field Kitchens Serve Lunch After War Game

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FORT SILL, LAWTON (Okla.) May 26.—One of the largest peace-time artillery demonstrations in the history of the United States Army was carried out here today before a crow estimated at more than 50,000 persons. The demonstration was in connection with the visit here of the National Editorial Association, members of which are touring Oklahoma.

For five minutes large and small field guns swept the front line of the enemy's position and then the barrage was concentrated on the "enemy batteries and lines of communication" for twelve minutes. A battery of 155 millimeter howitzers opened the artillery exhibition and four batteries of 75's joined in.

Bombing planes from Kelsey Field attacked the "enemy" positions from the air, dropping heavy bombs on the hill which was the objective of the attacking force.

During the maneuvers the planes blanketed the enemy lines with a smoke screen made by smoke from bombs and the artillery showered smoke shells covering the attacking force.

The editors were served a lunch prepared in the army field kitchens.

BARUCH CHARGE DENIED BY GARY

Magnate Says Nationalization Statement Correct

Declares Industry Efficient in War Supply

Disclaims Intention to Pin Plan on McAdoo

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, replying to charges of Bernard Baruch that his recent address to the American Iron and Steel Institute, revealing the government's plan to nationalize the steel industry during the war, was full of inaccuracies, declared today that his statement was entirely correct. He added that it was respectful and not controversial, and expressed regret if anything he said had offended anyone.

"The steel industry had been cooperating satisfactorily to both sides, apparently, with the War Industries Board for many months before the question of taking over the industry was brought up for consideration and determination," Mr. Gary said. "If there had been previous discussion in Washington with reference to this subject, steel men were not present or informed."

INDUSTRY LOYAD

Mr. Baruch, in a statement issued last Saturday, said the government's threat to take over the industry had been made in early negotiations with the steel men because of difficulty in agreeing on prices.

To this Mr. Gary replied that while some members of the steel fraternity in the beginning demanded prices that others believed were too high, the differences always were adjusted after careful and painstaking consideration.

"The steel industry was loyal, energetic and efficient concerning the supply of steel for military purposes, throughout the war," he asserted. "It would, of course, have been a great calamity if the industry actually had been taken over by the government."

McADOO NOT BLAMED

Mr. Gary suggested that if William G. McAdoo, then Secretary of the Treasury, was concerned about the statement that he was responsible for the federalization plan, he could deny it without fear that he would be disputed by anyone in the steel industry.

"As to whether or not the Secretary of the Treasury suggested it, it was expressly disclaimed there was any knowledge on the subject and positively asserted there was only a report in circulation to that effect," he said. "I feel very certain if he had made a suggestion based on any information received he would not now be ashamed of it."

Light at Cape to be Dimmed After 95 Years

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CAPE ELIZABETH (Maine) May 26.—The new light for Cape Elizabeth will be put in place June 15. After that the east light at the Cape, which has flashed its warning for 95 years, will shine no more.

The Cape Elizabeth lights are known all along the Atlantic seaboard as the Two Lights. East light now has a candlepower of 22,000 and the west light of 12,000, but when the new light is placed in the west tower it will send a light of 140,000 candlepower across the waters of some of the most dangerous reefs and ledges on the coast of Maine. It will flash once every five seconds.

The east light tower will remain as a landmark to sailors, and be held in readiness, should it ever be needed again.

COLORADOAN INDICTED IN REAL ESTATE DEAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 26.—An indictment charging John D. Blue, Jr., an investment banker of Sterling, Colo., with larceny and confidence game has been returned by the Cook county grand jury in connection with real estate dealings, it was disclosed today.

Blue is charged by Franklin Hardinge of Chicago with having represented to him about September 1, 1920, that he was a representative of a Colorado syndicate dealing in land and that additional security was required for the purchase of more land.

Hardinge asserts he lent Blue ten $1000 Canadian government bonds on the promise of 15 per cent interest on the sum of $10,000 and the return of the bonds before May 1, 1921. He says the bonds were not returned.

SHANGHAI AWAITS FLYERS

BY JOHN POWELL
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, May 25.—Shanghai is making a serious attempt to retrieve the loss faced due to the wreckage of the French airman, Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy's plane in preparations for the reception of the American round-the-world flyers, who are expected here on the 30th or 31st inst.

Capt. W. I. Bisler, Shipping Board agent here, has charge of the preparations and has completed laying buoys in the Wgampoa River, about five miles from Shanghai and midway between Shanghai and Woosung at the mouth of the Yangtze.

Gen. Frederick Ward of the American Legion here has charge of the entertainment, and Chinese officials are co-operating to welcome the American airmen, who were the first to cross the Pacific Ocean and reach the coast of Asia by air.

Added interest in the event here is due to the possibility of the English round-the-world flyer, A. Stuart Maclaren, reaching here at the same time.

The Frenchman, Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy, is still here, experimenting with the plane loaned him by the Chinese authorities. He expects to start for Peking tomorrow, stopping at Nanking and Tsinanfu and then Peking, hoping to beat the Englishman to the Chinese capital and also to Tokio despite his accident here a week ago.

WIFE GETS WORD D'OISY READY TO GO

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 25.—Mme. Pelletier D'Oisy, wife of the French flyer, received a cablegram today from Capt. D'Oisy stating that he was leaving Shanghai for Tokio tomorrow morning after choosing a new machine.

NEGRO PAIR IS LYNCHED IN FLORIDA

Attackers of Two Girls Killed and Bodies Are Dragged in Streets

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FORT MYERS (Fla.) May 26. An infuriated mob of citizens today shot, hanged and dragged through the streets the bodies of two negroes who had assaulted two school girls.

After the attack became known the townspeople hurriedly gathered together, then stormed the County Jail and captured one of the negroes who confessed. The man instantly was riddled with bullets.

The second negro was captured on a freight train which was just pulling out of the yards. He was confronted by the children who identified him as one of the attackers. Like the first negro he was riddled with bullets. The mob then put ropes around the necks of the dead men and dragged the bodies through the streets.

For a time it was feared that the frenzied crowds would attack the negro district and precipitate a race riot. Sheriff J. E. Albritton and his deputies, however, succeeded in calming and dispersing the mob after they had vented their rage on their victims.

BOY KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MESA (Ariz.) May 26.—Almos Ethington, 12 years of age, was shot and fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of a playmate, Herbert Reuther, 8 years of age. The children found the pistol in a bureau drawer. The bullet penetrated the boy's body to the left of the right lung.

RUBBER MILLS YARD IS SWEPT BY BLAZE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MARTINEZ, May 26. — Fire swept the scrapyard of the Pioneer Rubber Mills at Pittsburg, Eighteen miles east of here, last night, causing damage estimated at $40,000. Between twenty and thirty carloads of scrap rubber were destroyed. The fire was set, supposedly by sparks from the nearby engine-house.

Most busy men do not have the opportunities to really play with their families as much as they should. The result is too little real comradeship with the young folks and, yes, even with the wife. Father reads the paper and later the children go to bed and so they do not really know Father at all. The occasional Sunday automobile ride together or the perfunctory game played at home does not answer the purpose.

What is needed is some good, wholesome—spontaneous fun, where Father can forget his dignity for awhile, where Mother does not have to exercise constantly the restraining hand and where the kiddies can run amuck!

There is no fun in the world that will make Daddy a pal, make Mother a playmate and make the young folks a trifle less awe-stricken and repressed so much as an evening spent at one of the modern Indoor Plunges.

Then, too, it is good, wholesome fun. The exercise is a wonderful tonic and brings with it an exhilaration and a zest that cannot be approached by any other form of exercise.

Soon, too, the young folks learn to swim, and this is important. This knowledge may some day save your child's life.

And, remember, these modern Indoor Plunges are comfortable and safe. The water is heated to a comfortable temperature and it is clean for it is filtered and re-filtered and changed regularly. Every precaution is taken to safeguard your family. These Indoor Plunges are operated according to regulations of the State Board of Health.

Spend a happy, care-free evening with the family in any one of these modern, Indoor Plunges. It will make you a mighty popular man at home.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 26.—Barney Oldfield, the speed king of a former generation, will attempt a come-back here next Friday in the annual Indianapolis Motor Speedway championship race of 500 miles, acting as relief pilot for Cliff Durant. The veteran of hundreds of road races was considered the finest racing driver in the world in his heyday, and won many a contest in the cumbersome cars fifteen years ago.

Although Oldfield has been out of the game for the last twelve years, he lacks none of the courage and skill which made him famous, as he proved to the rail birds recently when he wheeled Durant's silver streak around the two-mile brick track in fast time. He will probably take the wheel for a few laps while Durant gets a rest during the long grind Memorial Day.

TOMMY GIBBONS TO DO ROAD WORK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
MICHIGAN CITY (Ind.) May 26.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul boxer, will take to road work tomorrow and finish his tapering off exercises in preparation for his ten-round no-decision bout with Georges Carpentier, French light-heavyweight, here Saturday.

Francois Descamps, manager of the French war veteran-pugilist, refused to permit his boxer to don the gloves today, declaring Georges in fine shape. Light exercises, with one or two stiff work-outs will comprise his schedule for the remainder of the week, it was announced.

ONE-EYED CONNOLLY OFF FOR AUTO RACE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
CHICAGO, May 26.—Declaring that Carpentier has an even chance with Gibbons in their fight May 31, "One-Eyed" Connolly, king of gate crashers, left for Indianapolis today, via a side-door Pullman. He will crash the gate at the international automobile race at Indianapolis Decoration Day and repeat the performance at the Gibbons-Carpentier fight at Michigan City the following day, he said. Connolly came here from the Coast, where he had worked in movie studios. He declared he couldn't get a kick out of Hollywood.

ANZAC NET TEAM IS HERE FOR TOURNAMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The Australasian Davis Cup tennis team arrived here late today on the liner Ventura. The players are Gerald Patterson, Robert E. Schlesinger, Pat O'Hara Wood and Fred Kalms. They will remain in San Francisco for about a week during which they will play exhibition matches in this vicinity and then they will depart for the East to prepare for the Davis Cup competition.

CROSSING THE BAR

Hank Coggeshall, Poly's high stepper, dragging his hind leg over the stick at 6ft. 2in. The prep star won the right to compete in the final Olympic tryouts at Boston by virtue of this leap, which won the high jump in the local tryouts at the Coliseum last Saturday.

COLIMA MEETS WELLS

Bert in Return Bout With Britisher in Main Event at Vernon Coliseum Tonight

What promises to be one of the toughest main events of recent weeks will be staged at the Vernon coliseum tonight when Billy Wells, claimant of the English welterweight championship, meets Bert Colima in the feature go of what promises to be a mighty entertaining program.

It will be the third bout between the pair, Wells winning in each of the previous attractions, but not without plenty of opposition.

Colima has trained hard for tonight's bout and is in wonderful shape. The same goes for Wells, who has been working out with Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight king, for the past ten days.

The semiwind-up will send Dode Bercot, Seattle battler, against Dan Davis, one of the most aggressive lightweights around this territory. Bercot made a big hit last week by holding Jack Silver of San Francisco to a draw.

Charlie Glaser and Harry La Barre will swap punches in the feature preliminary. They will hook up at 125 pounds.

Johnny Carlson and Eddie Sylvester, 135 pounds, will tangle in a preliminary which should furnish a lot of action. One switch was made on the program last night by Matchmaker "Wad" Wadhams, who found it necessary to substitute Young Corbett for Billy Young, who was billed to take on Paul De Haute.

Other bouts on the program and the order in which they will be staged follow:

Callahan and Adams to Mix in Feature Go

Mushy Callahan, popular newsboy battler, and Johnny Adams, the San Bernardino flash, who two weeks ago put up a sensational championship elimination scrap at Hollywood with Adams taking the decision by a shade, have been rematched for the feature of Thursday's Legion bill. The show is this week only carded for Thursday night, owing to Friday falling on Decoration Day. Next week will find the shows back on regular schedule, with a program slated for every Friday as before.

The rematching of Callahan and Adams comes following the contentions of Mushy's supporters that the worst their boy should have had was a draw, with some license to figure he should have been given a shade. It looks to be one of the most attractive repeaters ever carded at Hollywood.

Owing to Russ Pierce breaking his hand in training yesterday he has been forced to withdraw from his AA elimination bout with Sailor Ashmore. Bobby Corbett, fresh from two victories, one over Jimmy Marcus and one over Alec Maurice, tackles another tough local welter, Bud Soules in the semifinal. It will be Soules' first local start since his recent one-round knock-out victory over Sailor Liston in Oakland recently.

Other bouts: Joe Layman vs. Benny Berris, 135 pounds; Tommy Carter vs. Johnny Carlson, 135 pounds; Toby Montoya vs. Mike Seiger, 122 pounds; Roy Moore vs. Sailor Shafer, 150 pounds; Young Nino vs. Jimmy Bartlett, 115 pounds.

BEARS FRISKY AS COLTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 26.—As frisky as colts, ten University of California athletes played all about the Harvard stadium this afternoon after their long tiresome journey across the continent broken only by an hour's stretch at Chicago while being transported from one station to another. The Bears reached Boston shortly after noon, had their lunch and then went to the stadium where they are to try Friday and Saturday to win their fourth straight intercollegiate track title.

The athletes in the group were Phillip S. Barbour, sprinter; Albert M. Becker, hurdler; Arthur Jensen, two-miler; Paul S. Born, broad jumper; Lauren Upson, pole vaulter; Glen F. Dodson, javelin; Verne Dodson, javelin, high jump, shot put; Robert C. Francis, high jump, javelin, discus; William H. Lang, shot put, javelin, and Capt. William Neufeld, shot put, javelin and discus.

Coach Walter Christie and Student Manager Howard Murphy were the remaining members of the party who are registered at the Brunswick. The little squad will visit the stadium tomorrow afternoon again and it is possible that the Leland Stanford junior athletes from the Coast also will work out, they being expected momentarily.

The third Pacific Coast team expected, University of Southern California, will not reach here until Thursday, and Coach Christie believes that this will hurt their chances of winning the meet which is started Friday afternoon.

SPALLA DISCOVERS FASTEST COUNTER IN BUENOS AIRES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
NEW YORK, May 26.—Armenio Spalla, the Italian heavyweight who recently went fourteen rounds in Buenos Aires with Luis Angel Firpo, arrived here today with an explanation of how it all happened.

He was on his knees taking a rest and when he got up the referee was putting on his hat and coat.

According to Spalla the referee was the fastest counter in the world and the way he awarded the fight to Firpo was premature. He wasn't knocked out at all, just dazed by the speed with which the referee rattled off numbers.

The first number that Spalla recognized sounded something like "twelve."

"I was tired," said Spalla, "and the ring was wet with rain and water spilled by Firpo's seconds. He hit me on the left side of the face soon after the start of the fourteenth round. I was off my balance and slipped on the wet canvas. I wasn't hurt a bit. I stayed on my knees to take as much of the count as I could and rest and when I got up the referee had awarded the fight to Firpo."

Uruguay Team to Clash With Yankee Eleven

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
PARIS, May 26.—Uruguay against the United States—South America against North America—will meet in the quarter final of the Olympic soccer football competition on next Thursday in consequence of Uruguay's crushing defeat of Jugo-Slavia today. The South Americans displayed the best football shown in any of the six Olympic matches played thus far, and confirmed their right to be considered favorites for the championship.

CHARLES DAGGS IS LIKELY TO GO EAST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
CLAREMONT, May 26.—Charles Daggs, hurdle star, who fell in his race at the Los Angeles Coliseum last Saturday, will probably be sent back to Boston for the United States Olympic tryouts, even though he failed to place in the high hurdle event in the Southwestern tryouts. Daggs is carrying around a bandaged knee from his fall, but claims he will be in tiptop condition to go back East. He will probably be sent back by the Los Angeles Athletic Club or some other organization, as his reputation as a high-timber man is already made, and many feel he should be given the chance to again make the American Olympic team.

Robert Maxwell, Homer Frisbie and Charles Eaton, all Pomona College stars that placed among the first three in their events last Saturday, are ready to go into intensive training before they leave Southern California for Boston in June.

PADDOCK MAY QUIT SPRINTING

Champ May Not Compete in Olympic Games; Condition of Ankle Poor

The American Olympic team may be minus the services of Charlie Paddock when the track and field championship is decided at Paris in July. Yesterday the fastest human declared that he was not at all satisfied with the way his ankle is acting, and that unless decided improvement is shown, he will not run the risk of disabling himself for the sake of competing in another Olympic meet.

During the latter part of the 200-meter event at the Coliseum last Saturday, when the Southwestern Olympic trials were held, Paddock's ankle bothered him considerably, in spite of the fact that he came within one-tenth of a second of the world's record in the event. He wrenched his ankle badly several months ago, and a pulled tendon in his upper right leg complicates matters.

Paddock is still training carefully, however, and hopes to compete in the Olympic finals at Boston.

Sargent Sets Course Record at Oak Park

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
CHICAGO, May 26.—George Sargent of Columbus, O., champion in 1909, today took advantage of greatly improved conditions in practice for the National Open Golf championship at the Oak Park Country Club and made a new course record of 69, after Emmett French of Youngstown, O., with a 70, had broken the previous figure of 71, set by Chick Evans and George Duncan.

The course, still heavy from recent rains, seemed to suit the Pacific Coast players, MacDonald Smith of San Francisco, open champion, scoring 74, while Abe Espinosa was one better at 73. Jock Hutchinson, formerly British open champion, took 37-36-73 after missing his first drive and failing to get home any putt of consequence.

Warm weather came today after a week of cold and rain, but showers were threatening as the players went to bed tonight preparatory to the two 18-hole rounds that will decide whether they will go to Detroit and continue the contest or return home.

Gala Program Arranged for Culver Track

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]
CULVER CITY, May 26.—Everyone has seen a three or four-ring circus, but nature did not endow us with eyes enough to see everything that took place in those three or four rings.

The Lions' Club of Culver City, therefore, has arranged its big program to start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon so that everything will take place right in front of the grand stand. Included in the rodeo will be airplane stunts, motorcycle nad auto races, bucking horses, steer wrestling, calf roping and other feats of the range and plains.

A landing field has been constructed for airplanes which will fly over the grounds from Clover Field. There will be "something doing every minute" of the time from 1 o'clock until 5 p.m., and then on until midnight.

BREAKS CONSECUTIVE GAMES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
NEW YORK, May 26.—For the first time since the 1920 season Aaron Ward failed to start in a Yankee ball game. Today his place was taken by Ernie Johnson. Ward's record for consecutive playing was getting to be nearly as interesting as Everett Scott's.

May 15, 1920, was the date Ward started his long string, nearly 500 games up to today. Ward pulled up lame yesterday.

TWENTY-FIVE LOCAL STARS WILL GO EAST ON JUNE 7

Sixteen Other Athletes Will be Sent Provided Sufficent Funds Are Secured

BY BRAVEN DYER

The names of twenty-five Southern California track athletes who will be sent to compete in the final Olympic Games tryouts at the Harvard Stadium June 13 and 14 were made public by the local Olympic committee last night.

There is a possibility that sixteen others, recommended by the committee, may take part in the trials, provided their respective institutions raise the money to send them East or the local organization realises sufficient funds from last Saturday's tryouts to take care of their expenses.

Three former Olympic Games stars head the list. They are Charles Paddock, world's champion sprinter, who will take part in the 100 and 200-meter dashes; Charles Daggs, entered in the 110-meter high hurdles, and Otto Anderson, scheduled to participate in the 400-meter hurdle race. All of the other men will be going through their first big trial for the honor of representing the United States in an Olympiad.

LIST IS LONG

Following is the list of the twenty-five men being sent by the local Olympic Games organization: Charles Paddock, Hershel Smith, Keith Lloyd, Yale Marts, Johnny Powers, Percy Niersbach, Art Forward, Charles Daggs, Robert Maxwell, Leighton Dye, Ross Nichols, Morton Kaer, Kenneth Grumbles, Otto Anderson, Charles Lewis, Cliff Argue, Les Barnes, Charles Rickmore, Harry Smith, Henry Coggeshall, Clarence Houser, Norman Anderson, Earl Wilson, James Dorsey and Charles Eaton.

The other local men who will be sent, providing there is enough money to take care of their expenses, or on condition that the institution they represent, defrays the cost, are Brice Taylor, Vic Klein, Archie Woodyard, Howard Torkelson, Reginald Harrison, Nick Carter, Mike Elwood, Garland Courage, Russell Pomeroy, Glen Graham, LeRoy Goodenough, Alden Ross, Homer Frisbie, Lou Minskey, Harold Ryder and Holly Moyse.

NIXON IN CHARGE

Eugene White Nixon, director of athletics at Pomona College and head track coach at that institution, has been placed in charge of all local athletes and will begin his new duties tomorrow when all of the above named candidates report at the Coliseum for practice.

The committee which picked Southern California's representatives was made up of Robert Weaver, Eugene Nixon, Dean Cromwell, Kinter Hamilton, Owen Bird, Sid Foster and Fred Kelly.

The local athletes will leave here one week from Saturday. Many of the above named men are already en route East, some with the U.S.C. team which competes at Boston Friday and Saturday in the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet. Coggeshall, Klein, Woodyard, Barnes and Nichols take part in the national interscholastic meet at Chicago, Friday.

Following is the complete list of al lmen picked, those listed as optional being sent only if their respective institutions can raise the money or providing sufficient funds were received at the local trials last Saturday:

100 and 200 meters—Paddock (L.A.A.C.), Hershel Smith (U.S.C.), Lloyd (U.S.C.) Optional; Taylor (U.S.C.), Klein (Hollywood), Woodyard (Jefferson).

400 meters—Marts (U.S.C.), Powers (Occidental), Optional; Yerkovich (U.S.C.).

16 miles High Hurdles—Daggs (L.A.A.C.), Maxwell (Pomona), Dye (U.S.C.), Nichols (Hollywood Tech).

220 meter hurdles—Kaer (U.S.C.), Grumbles (U.S.C.), Anderson (U.S.C.) Optional; Pomeroy (California).

Broad Jump—Lewis (L.A.A.C.).

Pole vault—Argue (Occidental), Rickmore (U.S.C.), Harry Smith (Los Angeles), Lewis (L.A.A.C.) Optional; Graham (Occidental), Goodenough (Occidental).

High Jump—Coggeshall (Polytechnic), Optional; Houser (University of Arizona), Dorsey (U.S.C.), Eaton (U.S.C.) Optional; Frisbie (Pomona).

Shot and Discus—Wilson (U.S.C.), R. Anderson (U.S.C.).

Broad Jump—Kaer (U.S.C.), Wilson (U.S.C.) Optional; Frisbie (Pomona).

Shot and Javelin—Kaer (U.S.C.), Barnes (L.A.A.C.), Wilson (U.S.C.) Optional; Minskey (L.A.A.C.), Ryder (U.S.C.).

Javelin—Eaton (Pomona).

Hammer—Optional; Hayes (Outlook).

Pentathlon Team is not complete as to send all of the optional athletes they will be picked in the following order: Graham, Minskey, Frisbie, Taylor, Ross, Pomeroy, Courage, Carter, Goodenough and Harrison.

SMITH AND LOOS WIN ON THE LINKS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
CHICAGO, May 26.—Playing over a slow course, MacDonald Smith of San Francisco and Eddie Loos of Lakeshore won an exhibition match from Jock Hutchison of Glenview and Laurie Ayton of Evanston at the Wilmette Golf Club yesterday. The match was played for the benefit of the Olympic fund. Smith had low individual score with 36 on each of the nine holes.

Speed Wagons numbers 1 and 100,001 are both in use. So are most of the hundred thousand in between.

Cubs Strong Contenders in National League Race, Says McGraw

KILLEFER HAS SPEEDY BUNCH

Chicago Boss Developing a Strong Outfit

Defensive Game Good, Says Giant's Manager

Grantham Shows Improvement in Recent Contests

BY JOHN J. McGRAW,
Manager, New York Giants
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CINCINNATI, May 26.—Recently when we were playing in Chicago I was asked a number of questions regarding the Chicago Cubs by a number of my friends there who are Chicago fans. I will answer the questions as I go along.

Killefer has done wonderful work with the Cubs. In a comparatively short time he has the club, made up mostly of young material, well organized and has developed the spirit that wins. Killefer's club is based on speed and, knowing the game thoroughly, he has taken full advantage of that speed at every opportunity. Killefer's success with the present club will depend upon making use of that speed and he fully understands it.

The fact that Killefer is a real leader and knows the game is best show in the way he masses his strength on one point—speed. With Hollocher back in the game there is no doubt in my mind that the Cubs will be a real contender. The New York club and all baseball, for that matter, wants Chicago rivalry. With the two big cities in a fight it increases interest in baseball throughout the country. It is a good thing for the sport.

DEFENSIVE

The Cubs play an excellent defensive game and the pitching is good. This added to speed gives Killefer a powerful team.

"Have you noticed any change in Grantham?" was one of the first questions asked me.

Yes. He is a much better ball player. With his speed and natural ability he is bound to be good. His improvement in a year has been remarkable. Grantham is still a little weak on ground balls but he will overcome that. I look to see him eventually a great star and a credit to the game.

"What do you think of the system of using a pitcher every four days; that is, allowing him that much rest?"

That depends entirely on the man. There can be no set system about it. Some men require five days' rest and others can work every other day. In 1884, for example, Kid Gleason pitched seventy-two games. Rusie and Meekin could pitch sixty games and not break down. Radbourne pitched twenty-seven games in succession and won twenty-six of them. Other pitchers sometimes require a week of rest. Usually, though, four or five days is enough.

"Please compare Friberg of the Cubs, and Traynor of the Pirates."

They are both good young ballplayers. Friberg is fast and a great ground coverer—a great defensive ball player. Of the two, though, Traynor has more punch. As ballplayers say, Traynor can sock. Both are real ball players, the advantage going to Traynor in his punch.

WEAK AT PLATE

"Do you think Heathcote will continue to hit, especially in the pinches?"

Frankly, I do not. Heathcote is a great defensive player and will always be of value to any ball club, but he is not what I would call a natural hitter.

"Do you think Vogel will ever make a great outfielder or a shortstop?"

I haven't seen enough of him to answer that question. On his general appearance he strikes me as being a little clumsy for a shortstop, but, as I say, I will have to see more of him.

"How strong is the Cube pitching staff as compared with other clubs?"

It ranks high. Kaufman is developing into a great pitcher and Keene also looks very promising. Jacobs has had considerable experience and has improved a lot. The whole pitching outfit looks good enough for a first-division club.

Remember, though, that the Cubs' pitching staff is helped a whole lot by the presence of Alexander. There is a master pitcher. With him on the club the others have taken him as a sort of model and they show it in their work. Alexander appears to be pitching just as well as ever and the artistic way he does it has been a lesson to all the others. A pitcher like Alexander is a wonderful help and, I might say, inspiration to any ball club. He is the balance wheel.

A noticeable thing about the work of the Cubs is the absence of bungling, the clean-cut way in which they go after a ball game. They step right out in a business-like fashion and there is no monkey business or covering up. They look better than any club I have seen so far this season.

Fans should bear in mind one thing, though: No matter how good or bad a club may look in spurts there is no accurate line to be had on any club in the spring. They have not settled into their regular stride.

HARRIS TO ADVISE POMONA FRESHMEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 26.—Trewhitt "Jerry" Harris, one of the gridiron heroes of the Pomona College varsity last fall, will return to his Alma Mater in September as freshman class adviser and pea[illegible] football coach. Harris, although he never made his letter in Pomona, was a member of Pomona College teams for four seasons and played a prominent part in both the Southern Branch and Occidental games last fall. Coach Eugene Nixon regards him as one of the best players ever turned out from Pomona, and only his lightness as a lineman kept him from holding a varsity berth secure during his three years of varsity experience.

Tufts College Golf Association is being organized. A six-hole course on the college campus surrounding the athletic field is rapidly taking shape.

YOUTH WILL BE SERVED

BY PEG MURRAY

Robert L. Templeton, known as "Dink," is the track coach of Stanford University, whose team is picked by Ted Meredith to win the eastern intercollegiate track-and-field title this week-end. If Dink can carry away the honors from such veteran coaches as Moakley of Cornell, Robertson of Pennsylvania and Fitzpatrick of Princeton, it will be a remarkable victory, for Templeton is about 25 years old and has been coaching for only four years.

In 1919 Templeton enabled Stanford to beat California by winning the broad jump when he was given only an outside chance to place, just as his brother "Rick" had beaten the Golden Bears in 1915 by an unexpected third place in the same event. Dink was best at the high jump, however, and held the Coast conference record at 6 ft. 4 in. in the final Olympic tryouts in 1920. Dink's jumping form was protested by eastern jumpers and he was finally disqualified for "diving." He was mad clear through, made a post-entry in the broad jump, qualified for the trip to Antwerp and beat all the American jumpers but one, placing fourth in the Olympic games!

Weekly Health Talk by Barclay L. Severns

OUTWARD APPEARANCE, ARTICLE C

Some years ago I thought of buying a car. My knowledge of the different makes at that time was very vague. To me they were all automobiles, and they looked about the same. I had a friend who had driven his car for five years and the upkeep had been so little that I came to the conclusion that that particular make of car must be the best car made.

I of course learned later that there were many makes of cars far superior to his; it being only a middle-grade car.

We are deceived on many things during our life through ignorance.

I learned a few years later from my friend that the reason for the condition of his car was due to the fact that he had in the first place taken care of the engine itself; being an expert engineer, he had never exceeded thirty miles an hour—and only once had he taken his car to the automobile hospital. He never allowed any filth to collect in the engine, which might cause friction, and used the best oils that money could buy.

NEGLECTS ENGINE

Strange to say, that same individual had neglected his own engine for twenty-five years to my knowledge! Poisoned his system through improper diet—had been on the operating table a number of times, and for a number of years had been compelled to live on a restricted light diet to prolong his health.

If this same individual had used half the discretion in his manner of living that he used on his car he would have been in fair health today. He was over-cautious about the speed of his car for two reasons, as he explained to me. (1.) He said it racked the car to pieces to run faster than twenty-five or thirty miles an hour and he figured people were crazy to abuse a car. (2.) The element of danger in running fast was too great.

How considerate this person was regarding an article that could be replaced, and by one who could well afford to replace it with a new one each year, had he so desired, and gave the old one away.

The speed in which he drove his own engine did not matter. He hit forty-five to fifty-five miles an hour for weeks at a time in his work for the purpose of accumulating a fortune; knowing at the time he would not be able to replace any of the parts that were being overtaxed, and must give out in time.

LOOKS DECEIVING

The man who appears to be in good condition may be ready to collapse. All he needs is a slight jolt. His engine may be so weakened from abuse that there is no resistance left. The arteries may be so incrusted with that calcareous coating that the elasticity is about gone. If that was true of the automobile it would be necessary to replace the parts worn out; but the human engine, while you cannot replace the old parts, Nature is able to rebuild them if they have not been neglected too long. Provide the proper material in your diet, in proper combinations, also diminish the quantity, drink plenty of water (between meals,) go to bed early, get your required rest, learn to relax, stop that worry and fretting you have been accustomed to indulge in. Take mild exercise morning and night; spend five minutes three times a day in deep breathing, and you will be surprised what Nature will do in a few weeks' time.

There is no difference in the construction of a human being, the body may have a different shape, the same as the different types of automobiles. The length of time one will last depends on the individual care given the body; especially the engine that runs it. And the engine depends on the fuel one feeds it, plus the number of hours and the rate of speed it is kept running, as to how long it will remain in use.

There is this difference, however, between a human being and an automobile. The body of a car may be worn out without affecting the engine; but the human body is affected by the misuse and abuse of the vital organs, commonly called the engine of the body. The vital organs replace the worn-out tissues each day, if we live as Nature intended we should; but the trouble is, with most of us, we not only tear down more than can be replaced, but neglect to supply the material necessary to rebuild, even if we were living a normal life. The very fact that we run at high speed is all the more reason why we should be more particular in the matter of supplying the right kind of material to make up in a way for this extra tearing down.

SUSPENDS PLAYERS FOR ROWDY WORK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 26.—First Baseman Blue of the Detroit Tigers and Mike McNally, substitute infielder of the Yankees, were indefinitely suspended before today's game here by President Johnson of the American league as a result of their fistfight at the Yankee Stadium yesterday.

HUNDREDS TO BE IN BIG FIELD MEET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, May 26.—Seven hundred and fifty-five athletes will compete in the national interscholastic track and field tournament at the University of Chicago Friday and Saturday it was announced today. There will be 633 men from 154 high schools and in the academy division 122 athletes. Twenty-three States will be represented.

SCULLING EMBLEM WON BY COSTELLO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Paul Costello today won the Philadelphia gold challenge cup, emblematic of the world's single sculling championship from W. E. Garrett Gilmore by two and one-half lengths. The race was over the mile and a quarter course in the Schuylkill River. Both oarsmen are Philadelphians. Costello's time was 7m. 36s., and Gilmore's, 7m. 43 2-5s.

JAP NET CHAMP IS AGGRESSIVE

Harada Impresses Tilden in First Appearance

Seems Stronger Than Kumagae, or Shimidzu

Will Enter Some University in United States

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II
National Tennis Champion

Every new champion is a source of pleasure to me. I always welcome the arrival of a new tennis personality. It is particularly interesting when there is a touch of mystery, a bit of color or a spice of the unusual attached. Certainly the Japanese people, as a whole, have an element of mystery, a hint of inscrutability, that is fascinating. Japan has already given the tennis world a valuable contribution in the persons of Ichiya Kumagae, Zenzo, Shimidzu, M. Fukuda, S. Kashio and the late I. Mikami, sportsmen and players of repute, world famous in the field of sport.

This year Japan sends us her new champion, Takio Harada, and a worthy representative of his illustrious group of fellow-countrymen he should prove.

I saw Harada at the Germantown Cricket Club during the Middle States clay-court championship. The Japanese champion was far from his best—not yet acclimated, unfamiliar with out food, unaccustomed to our conditions and language and handicapped by terrible weather conditions; yet what I saw of his game impressed me with his potential power.

HAS THE PUNCH

There is a punch to Harada's game that only Kumagae, of all the Japanese, approached, yet even he did not hit so hard. Harada, like all the oriental tennis players, has a peculiar grip. He is a baseline player, with a fast, looping drive off his forehand, a flat, fast backhand shot and a powerful slice service which he uses with excellent judgment. His volleying is better than any of the Japanese when they first appeared in America, though not so good as Kumagae's when he left. His overhead is not the equal of Shimidzu or Kumagae, but is severe, if erratic.

The point about Harada's game which impressed me was the severity of pace and aggression of attack which he shows. The other Japanese players, even Kumagae, were essentially defensive in their style. Harada is of the aggressive type. He goes out for his shot with regularity and should shortly reach the form where he will make it with regularity. If Harada should round into the form which his early appearances give promise of, he will be a serious opponent for any one. He has all the earmarks of a first-class star, and should he become acclimated to American conditions should do much to bolster Japan in the Davis Cup series.

SPEEDY PLAYER

Harada is short, wiry and very speedy of foot. He is 24 years old. He is planning to enter some university in America next autumn, although which one he will attend is not yet definitely settled.

Just a word concerning the other Japanese Davis Cup players. Okomoto is now en route from Calcutta to England, where he will join Harada and Fukuda for Wimbledon and the Olympics. The three will return to America for the Davis Cup trials, where Shimidzu will join the team. Okomoto is said to be very good.

Fukuda is still erratic and uncertain, but I think has gained some ground since last year. He is still prone to streaks of wildness that cost him many matches.

Shimidzu is just starting practice and is taking off surplus weight, a goodly quantity of which he acquired over the winter. His general health is greatly improved over last season, and I hope to see him back in his form of 1920, 1921 and 1922. There is no doubt but what he is one of the greatest players in the world when he is in true form.

HOLLYWOOD ATHLETES ON WAY TO CHICAGO

A team of five athletes from Hollywood High School is en route to Chicago to represent the foothill school in the national interscholastic championship track and field meet scheduled for Friday and Saturday. Those making the trip are Barnes, Eads, Klein, Smith and Traughber.

The Rotary Club of Los Angeles donated $375 toward the expenses of the team, the deficit to be made up by the school.

Barnes, one of the high school men, is picked to win the national pole vault title as a result of his showing at the Southern California Olympic tryouts Saturday when he cleared 13ft. 2 1-8in. Klein will enter the sprint races, Eads the high jump and hurdles and Smith the 440-yard run. Barnes will also take part in the discus throw and broad jump.

Filipino to Risk Flyweight Crown in Fifteen-Round Bout in Eastern Ring

BY JACK FARRELL
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—English fight fans will clamp on their ear phones tomorrow night, listening eagerly for the American broadcast of details of the fifteen-round, Henderson Bowl flyweight title bout between their favorite, Frankie Ash, and Pancho Villa, world title-holder.

They haven't forgotten what the Filipino did to another English idol, Jimmy Wilde, when taking the title. Both men are around the 112-pound notch, possibly less, and are reported at top form.

Brooklyn fight clubs are certainly having their troubles with the law. Promoter Hendersen of the Nostrand Club must now show cause, owing to court action begun today by residents near the arena, why a permanent injunction should not be granted stopping the bouts.

The neighbors object to having crowds mill across their lawns, but Henderson thinks it is spite work, brought on by his refusal to issue large blocks of complimentary tickets.

Johnny Dundee will probably be as good as 20 to 1 favorite over Luis Vincentini, his Chilean challenger, when the twain meet on Wednesday night at the New York Velodrome, albeit, Luis has won four of five fights in the United States. They will be at the required 135 pounds Wednesday afternoon when scale time comes.

PASSES CENTURY MARK

El Caballero Country Club Gets First Hundred Members; Permanency Appeals to Golfers

El Caballero Country Club's drive for members passed the century mark yesterday and plans are being perfected for a celebration by the first 100 Angelenos to join what promises to be Southern California's permanent country club.

Billy Bell and George Thomas, Jr., who will co-operate in laying out the golf links, have had surveyors at work for several days, and hope to have plans for twenty-seven holes ready to submit to the golf committee soon. In addition to golf, the new club will offer splendid facilities for polo and swimming, while a system of bridal paths is already in existence.

With the successful organization of the club assured, President Rex B. Goodcell announced yesterday that plans of construction have been adopted that will make El Caballero the great show place of Southern California in the way of country clubs.

"El Caballero Country Club inaugurates a new epoch in Southern California country club life," President Goodcell said yesterday in receiving congratulations on the successful membership drive.

"El Caballero is the first major standard club to be established on the West Side after it has become possible to fairly determine the direction and character of metropolitan growth.

"Practically every one concerned with the organization of El Caballero is a member of one or more of the West Side country clubs—several are or have been officers and directors. They are not organizing a new club through dissatisfaction or for any other reason except their knowledge that present clubs are not only crowded but almost certainly doomed by the advancing wall of building activity incidental to the city's march to the sea.

"The main portion of the club's property, 130 acres, including the clubhouse, is generally known as Tarzana Ranch, the home of Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of 'Tarzan.' Mr. Burroughs bought the ranch from the estate of the late Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, who lived but a few months after his beautiful Spanish residence 'Miliflores' was finished. An additional 116 acres adjoining this property has been bought, making a total of 246 acres under club ownership. The club is a nonprofit organization."

Honors Go to Long Beach in Bicycle Race

Long Beach pedal-pushers again justified their challenge to other Southern California cycle clubs and cities in the twenty-five-mile team race held at the Culver City race course last Sunday by winning first honors in this annual grind. The challenge was issued by the Crebs Cycle Club of the Beach City, winners of the 1923 event. Teams competed from Los Angeles, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Van Nuys and other towns; fifteen teams altogether.

Earl Thompson and Manuel Sousa, both well known in Southern California cycling circles, comprised the winning pair, being one of two teams from Long Beach. Their performance was very consistent. Although they did not score as many firsts as the San Bernardine team, their aggregate points were well above competitors' scores.

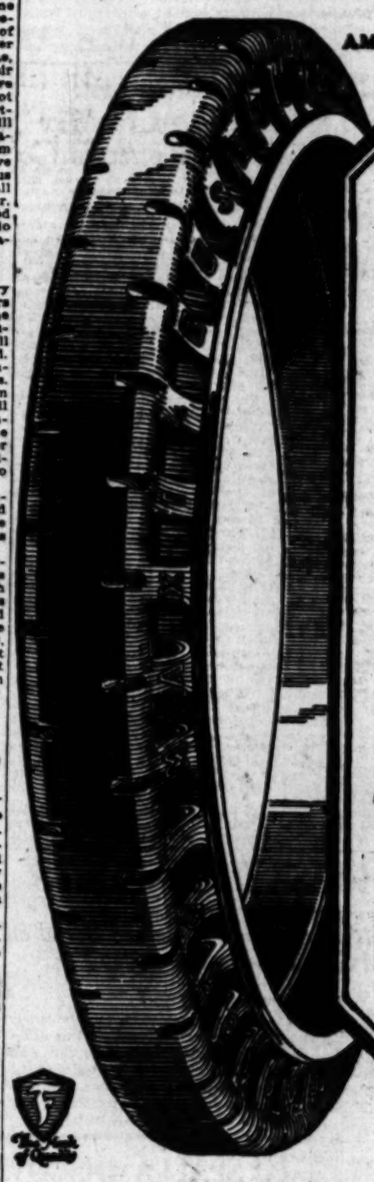
AMERICA SHOULD PRODUCE ITS OWN RUBBER—1925



Longer Life for Trucks and Buses

Here is a tire, engineered to cushion road shocks—to cut truck repair costs—to reduce replacements and depreciation—and to pay an extra dividend in additional months and miles of truck service.

No other truck tire is built on Maxi-Cushion lines—and only the Maxi-Cushion can absorb small inequalities and distribute heavy jolts so that their destructive force is lost in the deep cushion of rubber.

The pockets and side bar construction permit free action of the rubber from tread to base—an immediate deflection that meets changing road surfaces and instantly absorbs jars and blows. The easy movement of this special Firestone Cushion compound is further aided by the tread notches, which are also of material assistance in increasing traction.

The Firestone organization has focused its experience and manufacturing facilities on making this a supremely effective Cushion Tire—one that is surpassed only by the pneumatic. Traction and mileage have also been so highly developed in this construction that the Maxi-Cushion has come to be known as the Cushion that stands the wear and tear—and holds the road.

A Full Line of Firestone Truck Tires and Carefully Planned Service

We know we can fill your truck tire needs because in our complete Firestone line we have a tire for every road, load and condition of service. The Maxi-Cushion is one of a number of specialized types. We know trucks, we know tires; we know local trucking conditions. Let us help you reduce your hauling costs.

Bob Brown Makes a Bid for Bees' Franchise

Would Move Salt Lake Club to Canadian City

Aid of President Williams Sought by Bidder

San Diego and Long Beach are not the only Pacific Coast cities that want the Salt Lake baseball franchise. Latest bidder is Bob Brown, holder of the Vancouver (B. C.) franchise in the old Northwestern League. Brown, who is well known among baseball men here, says that his city could put the thing over big, and asks Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast League, to see that he gets a chance to take over the Salt Lake outfit.

The telegram follows:

"Understand clubs offering Salt Lake 10 per cent additional gate on road if club transferred to coast city. I have made offer to President Lane of free grounds for two years on which to play games if he transfers to Vancouver. Good Coast League park, center of city. Two hundred twenty thousand people within twenty-five minutes of gate. Every Wednesday afternoon legal holiday here. Coast club go good here.
[Signed] "BOB BROWN."

CYRIL TOLLEY AND WETHERED ADVANCE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

ST. ANDREWS (Scotland) May 26.—Roger Wethered, British amateur golf champion, in the upper draw and Cyril Tolley, former champion, favorites to last to the final round, today advanced to the second round in the play for the British amateur title by easy first round victories. Late today there had been no upsets among the star players.

His Quandary

"I want to telegraph my New York broker," said a Georgia grower, "that peaches are ready for market."

"Well, why don't you?"

"I don't know how to work it and I'm really worried. That message should go today, but if I say anything about fruit somebody will take it for a political code message."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

RECALL REICHOW FROM STILL HUNT

A telegram, recalling Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, who was sent East several weeks ago, in an effort to procure players to help the slumping Angels recover their stride, was sent yesterday by J. H. Patrick, president of the club.

"Reichow has not been able to obtain players and probably would be unable to get any at this stage of the flag race," Patrick said.

The recent 2-to-1 defeat of the Texas nine at Waco not only halted at twenty-three games the run of consecutive victories of the Longshore nine, but ended one of the most remarkable records in modern intercollegiate sport. The defeat by Baylor was the first intercollegiate loss in a major sport by the University of Texas for the 1923-24 season. The only other defeat was to the wrestling team in the conference meet at Stillwater. In its string of triumphs Texas captured the conference title in basketball, baseball and track. They are expected to win the tennis tourney. The football eleven was undefeated, but a tie with Baylor marred the conference record and the championship was awarded to S. M. U.

Sixteen six-meter yachts, directed by skilled skippers, may contest for the honor of becoming a member of the United States quartet which will oppose a British team in Long Island Sound in September for the British-American cup.

Auction Off Seats for Big Boxing Benefit

Boxes for the huge fight program in which Jack Dempsey will battle two opponents at Jack Doyle's Vernon Arena Tuesday night, June 3, will be auctioned off in the ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel on Wednesday night. Among those who will assist at the auction are Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, president of the Philanthropy and Civics Club under whose auspices the boxing program will be given, Mrs. J. J. Doyle, chairman of the evening, Jack Dempsey, Jack Kearns, Shirley Mason, Mr. Woods, manager of the Biltmore and several other celebrities.

The headline attraction will, of course, be Dempsey's encounter with Rocco Stramaglia, the heavyweight who cut Dempsey's eye while training for the fight at Shelby last summer. In addition there will be a number of other great battles, including one between Bermondsey Willie Wells of England and Joe Benjamin, two of the finest welterweights in the world. All funds derived from the sale of tickets will be used by the Philanthropy and Civics Club in their charitable work among poor children.

Lumber-jacks Cop Contest From Mailmen

The Hollywood Postoffice baseball nine threw quite a scare into the powerful Lounsberry & Harris nine but failed in the Hollywood Twilight League. The result of the game might have been different but for nine errors committed by the mailman that resulted in six runs.

Jack Hill fielded a nice game for the lumberjacks but the pitching of Russo for the letter carriers was the feature of the contest.

A hot contest is to take place this afternoon in the Twilight League when George L. Eastman will lead his nine against F. & Hartwell's Oak Crest All Stars. If these two managers do to each other what they say they are going to do a riot is sure to take place. Manager Hartwell attempted to kidnap Eastman's star pitcher "Toe" Albers last night and was only prevented by the timely arrival of Manager Eastman.

The batteries for the contest will be Hartwell and Riley, for Eastman, Albers and Yardley.

Yussif Hussane and Clyde Forrest in Feature Bout at Philharmonic

With Yussif Hussane and Clyde Forrest billed as the feature entertainers of the evening the third big wrestling show of the local season will be staged at the Philharmonic Auditorium tomorrow night under the supervision of Promoter B. Sanders Wilson.

The program indicates an evening of high-class entertainment. In addition to the three good wrestling bouts scheduled, James V. Petrie, assistant manager of the auditorium, is holding over his special "Memphis Ten" jazz orchestra to play before and between the matches. There being two navy wrestlers on the program, a large delegation of gobs is expected from Los Angeles Harbor.

It looks as if Hussane has a big order in store if he is to dispose of Forrest, who is so large he covers more territory than a Sears-Roebuck catalog. The giant gob stands 6 ft. 3 in. tall and weighs 280 pounds, all of which marks him as considerable of a man. Hussane is rough and tough and although Forrest's size makes him a slight favorite the Turk is perfectly capable of taking care of himself.

George Kotsonaros and Jack Steele are also carded for a good bout. The former went one hour to a draw with Sonsa Kosak last week, while Steele is the former Iowa champion.

"Bulkhead" Mulligan and Jackie Rich will open the show. Rich is the welterweight champion of the Pacific Fleet, while Mulligan held the same title last year.

Tickets are on sale at the Philharmonic.

Sagehen Nine Prepares for Week's Dates

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 26.—Coach Carl Peter Schott's Sagehen nine began practice today for two important conference baseball tussels to be waged on the local college diamond this week. Occidental journeys to Claremont next Wednesday and Southern Branch plays the Pomona team on the following afternoon, closing Pomona's conference baseball season.

Since defeating the Whittier Poets Friday afternoon the Sagehens have taken a new lease on life and may offer stiff competition to both the Tiger and Grizzly outfits. Schott will probably use the same line-up against these two teams as he used in the Whittier battle. Holsinger and Wiggins will undoubtedly be the battery for the first game, with Earl Merrit playing first and Marvin Miller at shortstop. Miller's showing practically cinches him in the place he played Friday, and Capt. Frater's bum arm will probably keep him out of the game, leaving Merritt to play the initial sack.

SAGEHEN RACKETERS PLAN BUSY SEASON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 26.—In order to prepare early for next year's Southern California conference tennis matches, several of Pomona's star racket wielders will practice their game with well-known tennis stars during the summer months. Capt. George Peterson will practice on courts in the Crown City, with Capt.-elect Darwin Hand, and his brother, David Hand, entering several tournaments in Pomona Valley. Frank Baker, Emil Morhardt, both freshman stars, and Walker Gabbert and Don Holsinger will also prepare for the opening of the 1924-25 season.

Paul Shoup Cites Brevity of Coast Depressions

Talks Before Advertising Men's Convention

Los Angeles Man Winner of Speech Trophy

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, May 26.—That periods of depression in California are shorter and milder than elsewhere, was the assertion of Paul Shoup, president of the Associated Oil Company, president of the Pacific Electric Railway and vice-president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, in his address before the general sessions of the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association here today. About 500 delegates attended. Don Francisco, president of the association, presided.

"There are always times," Shoup said, "when we have a relapse from prosperity. There never has been a time in the history of progress when such a period of depression was not followed immediately by another period of prosperity.

"Advertising is essential to Pacific Coast prosperity. In the beginning we came into our own only after advertising had become a great factor in our life. We are isolated from the rest of the world by oceans and mountains which are still somewhat of a barrier, but we have overcome much by advertising. This advertising made California increase its population three or four times in one decade. New railroad lines were builded and with an advertising campaign in Southern California there came a tremendous boom in the Southland and people came to California by the hundred thousands.

THEN DEPRESSION

"Then came the depression and people went East again. San Diego dropped in population from 50,000 to 15,000, but this was a temporary relapse, for all who had to leave prepared to come back. And this was a great campaign of education, for those who went east told their friends about California, advertising by the spoken word."

W. A. Hamman, an instructor in the San Diego schools, in a talk on "How Advertising Affects the Things That Matter," discussed the relation of the home, the school, the government, religion, creation, business and society. "There is no such potential influence in all history as the Sermon on the Mount. We should teach the Bible as a system of morals, but the schools are scared of it."

Miss Alice Irwin of Los Angeles, in an address son the "Woman's Viewpoint of Advertising," stressed the fact that in a majority of cases women are the ultimate consumers. "The composite woman," she said, "is a woman living on an income of less than $40 a week, and making it meet the needs of four or five persons."

"We are the people for whom the nickel was coined," Miss Irwin said, "who buy gas and oranges and raisins. We know you will give us truth in advertising. We believe so much that you will give us truth that it is sometimes almost pathetic."

NATER WINS TROPHY

H. A. Nater of the Los Angeles Advertising Club won for himself and his club the trophy given for the best three-minute talk on the subject, "What Should an Advertising Club's Activities Include?" in competition with nine other speakers at a luncheon meeting at the Californian. The ballroom of the hotel was filled to capacity and it was necessary to accommodate the overflow in the roof garden.

Competing for the trophy were George Townsend of Long Beach; H. A. Nater of Los Angeles; C. H. Brockhagen of Oakland; Leland Stanford of the Stanford Club of Palo Alto; Hugh Strong of San Diego; George Channing of San Francisco; E. Webb Harrison of Seattle, and John Happy of Spokane.

Judging of the talks was based on thought expressed, continuity of thought and delivery, with six points for the first, two points for the second, and two points for the third.

Picture Bride Wins $20,000 in Suit for Balm

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, May 26.—Penelope Papanastasopoulos, 19-year-old "picture bride," was awarded a judgment of $20,000 by a jury in Circuit Court at the conclusion of the retrial of her $50,000 breach of promise suit against Zissis Zissis, wealthy furrier who operates a store at 1459 Woodward avenue.

At a previous trial a year ago, she was given a judgment of $15,000, but a new hearing was granted when counsel for Zissis presented affidavits attacking the girl's reputation.

Penelope charged that Zissis, after seeing her picture, had her brought from Athens, Greece, to Detroit three years ago to become his bride, and then refused to marry her.

Counsel for the furrier charged that the suit was based on a conspiracy, engineered by Penelope's brother, Agislaos Papanastasopoulos, with whom she has been living at 1966 Davison avenue. The brother was an employee at the fur store when Zissis first saw the girl's picture.

HE MUST ELIMINATE EITHER DOG OR BARK

NERVES OF HIS NEIGHBOR'S MOTHER-IN-LAW CAUSE ORDER TO OWNER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, May 26.—If it had not been for the nerves of a mother-in-law, Alexander Rudy, 4092 Dodge avenue, still would be unfamiliar with the inside of a courtroom. He appeared late yesterday before Judge Thomas M. Cotter in Recorder's Court on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, to wit, a seven-months-old puppy. The pedigree of the pup is doubtful; even Rudy admitted that, but its barking abilities are unquestioned, especially by Rudy's next-door neighbor, Richard Seymour, the complaining witness.

"Your honor," Mr. Seymour told the court, "I am a dog lover myself, and aside from that, I can stand a lot of noise and distraction. But this dog is the limit. His howling goes on incessantly. He starts with the stroke of 12 and continues without interruption until midnight the next day. Then he starts all over again.

"For my part, I could stand it; I am at work most of the time, but my wife is exhibiting symptoms of a nervous collapse. And above all, this barking gets on the nerves of my mother-in-law. Just what that means to a married man, I need not explain."

Judge Cotter smiled sympathetically at Mr. Seymour.

"Ah, a nervous mother-in-law," he mused, stroking the judicial chin. "That is indeed too bad. I can see that a very serious state of affairs exists in your home, Mr. Seymour."

Turning to Mr. Rudy, Judge Cotter declared that he would give him one week to eliminate either the dog or the bark. Now Rudy is confronted with the problem of abating the bark without eliminating the dog.

FEDERAL CARE OF FISH URGED

Senator Dill to Introduce Bill on Subject

Alaskan Reserves Come in for Brief Debate

Hoover's Course Defended and Attacked

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Action by the government to remedy Alaskan fisheries conditions was urged in the Senate today by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, who referred to a "recent grand jury investigation," and without explaining the reference gave notice that he would introduce legislation to bring the subject before the proper committee.

The bill for establishing Alaskan fishing reserves and restricting the take of salmon came in for brief debate, but a vote was deferred when Senator King, Democrat, Utah, said he desired an opportunity to discuss it. Senator King asserted that Secretary Hoover had given licenses for salmon fisheries to a monopoly, the operation of which had aggravated the decline of the industry.

"I am informed he has already issued licenses for the coming year to the same interests," he added.

Chairman Jones of the Commerce Committee defended the Secretary, declaring that without considering whether the latter had acted beyond his authority "it must be admitted there was great justification for the action he took."

Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, agreed with this view and said the necessity for restrictive legislation to protect Alaskan fisheries must be conceded by all Senators.

Officer Stops Runaway Horse Near Children

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Plunging past a crowd of school children, who huddled in doorways or ran from the street, a runaway horse was caught by Patrolman Bernard A. Corrigan of Traffic A, directly in front of Public School No. 23 at Bayard and Mulberry streets. The animal had bolted a block away, at Mott street, when one of the traces came unfastened, and hit its hoofs.

As the horse dashed west in Bayard street, directly toward the crowds of children entering school Patrolman Corrigan warned them by repeated loud blasts of his whistle, and as the horse passed where he was controlling traffic in front of Public School No. 108, he flung himself at its head. Seizing the trailing reins. He halted the runaway, but suffered contusions of the hip and was unable to continue on duty. The horse was attached to a truck owned by John Kuler of 151 Avenue D, and was driven by Joseph Yovar of 476 East Tenth street. The driver remained on the truck during the runaway, but was uninjured.

YOUTH STEALS DRESS

Judge Fails to Accept Excuse That It was for Sweetheart

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, May 26.—Stealing a dress even to present to one's girl as a birthday gift is not excusable, Judge Harry B. Keldan told Victor Pazlitch, 19 years of age, 4671 Brandon avenue, in fining him $75 or 30 days in the House of Correction.

Pazlitch pleaded guilty to simple larceny. He was arrested on leaving a department store. The police said they found a dress valued at $19.50, under his overcoat. Pazlitch told the court he did not have money enough to buy his girl a present.

Two young women were each sentenced to pay $40 or spend 30 days in the House of Correction by Judge Keldan after they pleaded guilty to stealing 31 handkerchiefs, valued at $9.50, from a department store. They were Frances Brooks and Helen Griffin, both of 135 East Grand boulevard.

LOS ANGELES-CHICAGO TELEPHONE LONGEST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL PASO (Tex.) May 26.—El Paso is now on the longest telephone circuit in the world. This was brought by the completion of the Chicago-Los Angeles line, which runs through Denver, Trinidad, Albuquerque, El Paso, Tucson and Phoenix. The new circuit is 2937 miles in length, or more than 500 miles longer than the Chicago-San Francisco line, more than 1200 miles longer than the New York-Havana line, and more than 1500 miles longer than the New York-New Orleans circuit, which heretofore held the records for through circuit length in the "speech highways" of the world. The longest through telephone circuits in any country of Europe are the London-Glasgow line, 418 miles, and the Berlin-Essen line, 342 miles.

PRESIDENT PLEASED BY COLLEGE CLUBS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—With the announcement by the College Bureau of the Republican National Committee that Republican clubs are now organized at 150 colleges and universities, comes a statement from President Coolidge commending the interest in national affairs which these clubs have aroused among thousands of students throughout the country.

"There is a great deal of satisfaction," President Coolidge says, "in the knowledge that so many young men and women now in college are taking interest in the problems which confront the nation. Those who are enjoying the advantage of a college training should fully appreciate that the duties of citizenship are not to be entered upon lightly. Good citizenship requires the same careful study and intelligent application as any business or profession."

ATTORNEY IS ACQUITTED

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) May 26.—Robert McMurchie, attorney for Yavapai county, following a second trial on charges seeking his disbarment, has been declared not guilty by a jury that deliberated only twenty-two minutes. The charges were filed by Homer Wood, chairman of the State Fair Commission and prominent in Arizona Democratic politics.

PARIS IS TESTING "SECRETS OF LIFE"

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—After a searching test the commission of three appointed by the French Academy of Medicine has placed great faith in the discovery by Dr. Isaac Fried, of Czecho-Slovakia, that he has found a serum which can tell four months before a child is born whether it is male or female. The tests are being conducted at the Larboriere Hospital in Paris, and in virtually every case the serum has triumphed. Dr. Fried has evolved his secret method by using just one drop of a mother's blood. He first tested it out at the Czecho-Slovakian Serological Institute, where its success was so marked that it was placed before the Paris Academy.

French General Lists Socialists' Army Reforms

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—Gen. Perein, a close friend of M. Herriot, outlined the army reforms, which the radical Socialist government must undertake. Cutting the military training from eighteen months to ten months and a reduction in proportion of artillery with regard to the infantry are the principal changes.

Gen. Perein points out that the excessive development of artillery as a result of the great war resulted in infantry divisions being unable to be relieved when desired because the roads were choked with ordnance supplies and thousands of men available as infantry were used by the artillery. A column twelve kilometers long on an ordinary road composed of three kilometers of infantry and nine kilometers of artillery permitted the enemy, armed with machine guns, to pounce on the column and capture or destroy the artillery because the guns were insufficiently guarded.

Gen. Perein demands the suppression of courts-martial with capital punishment.

FRENCH FARMER TAKES WORD OF GYPSY NOW; IS OUT 10,000 FRANCS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—A crystal gazer cost Paul Benoit, farmer in the Jura Mountain region, 10,000 francs ($800.) Paul had fallen ill on his little farm at the base of the mountains. A gypsy fortune-teller stopped at the door. Learning that Benoit was ill she promised a cure by loking into a crystal globe. Besides the crystal reading the gypsy promised to stop at Lourdes and say "forty and one" masses at four francs each.

Paul agreed, but the gypsy had one more formula necessary for a complete cure. That was to place 5000 francs in a handkerchief. The handkerchief with the francs would be taken to Lourdes, so the gypsy told Benoit, and there it would be blessed and returned. Just that little trip to Lourdes of 5000 francs in a handkerchief was a marvelous way to regain health, she told him.

So the gypsy parted with the handkerchief and the francs, but returned the next day and met Mrs. Benoit. She declared that, after all, 5000 francs wasn't such a large offering for a cure, and that perhaps if 5000 more could be added Benoit would get back his health just twice as fast. The reasoning listened well to Madam and the gypsy left with the second 5000. Now police are searching for her.

WIFE SLAYER DENIED PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HELENA (Mont.) May 26.—The Montana Supreme Court today denied the request of Seth O. Danner for a new trial. Danner was convicted at Bozeman and sentenced to be hanged for the death of Florence Sprouse of Mobridge, S. D. The woman's husband, John Sprouse, also was slain, the two bodies being found in a mud-hole near Central Park, Mont. Authorities allege that Danner killed both the husband and wife, who were en route to the Pacific Coast by automobile, but formally charged Danner with the slaying of the woman.

BOGUS PASSPORTS FOUND IN FRANCE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—A sweeping inquiry is being conducted by the French police and diplomatic service regarding the finding of several false passports in the hands of five men who were ready to embark at Cherbourg for Canada. The passports were uncovered by the secret service police of the French port. It is believed that a widespread plot has been unearthed to ship immigrants, refused by American countries through by means of the false passports. United States consuls are carefully watching all passports coming through their hands.

MAN RECOVERS RING AFTER FIVE YEARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SEDGWICK (Me.) May 26.—L. W. Guptill of this place, five years ago, lost a gold ring presented to him by the Royal Arch Chapter of Masons. A short time ago, Allyn Welsing, who is now living in the house, while upon a scaffold of the barn, saw through a crack in the floor what he thought was a piece of copper wire. It proved to be the lost ring.

Come visit us at this good factory

Warm welcome and cool Clicquot Club await you. Just a few miles off the Post Road from Boston to Providence stands this clean, light, wholesome plant that makes the wholesome ginger ale—Clicquot Club. Every year people from all over America visit us to see the factory that represents the highest development of the bottler's art anywhere. We hope to see you soon.

SULTRY evenings, thirstiness after long, full summer days. You're tired. You need refreshment. You drink your glass or two of cooling, appetizing Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. You feel refreshed. You are refreshed. Your body has received the revivifying liquid it needed.

Down in Bangor, Maine, Mr. Smith is tired, and he drinks Clicquot Club. Out in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jones refresh themselves the same way. Texas, Florida, Oregon, Illinois—in forty-eight states all over America—Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the little Smiths, and their sisters and their brothers and their cousins that they number by the dozens are drinking Clicquot Club Ginger Ale.

How do we ever keep up with America's thirst?

Over thirty-nine years ago, Lansing Millis originated Clicquot Club for his personal friends. He was an old-school country gentleman, whose sense of hospitality prevented his making Clicquot Club in any but the best way, with the finest ingredients and the water of his famous springs. And even then it was hard to make enough for his friends. So in 1885 the Clicquot Club Company was founded to care for the thirst these friends created by their word-of-mouth advertising.

We have had to expand as this thirst has expanded. From a gentleman's hobby for good things to drink, we became a local bottler for one or two adjacent markets—discriminating Boston and nearby Providence. But America's thirst wouldn't let us stop there. American taste has kept us growing and growing.

Three times in the past five years we've had to expand to take care of America's thirst. The latest plant addition, for which we are now breaking ground, will increase our floor space more than one-third.

Yet with all this expansion of our market and our plant, Clicquot Club has never varied in its quality from year to year, from season to season, or from Maine to California. Today we are shipping many carloads to every state in the Union. Clicquot Club is the standard by which all ginger ales are judged.

LANSING MILLIS made Clicquot Club for his dearest friends long years ago. Among the trees and flowers of his hospitable farm he thought of Clicquot Club, and added something to the art of hospitality.

And as the fame of this drink grew, this small factory grew too, to bottle this beverage which his friends first made popular.

Just why is Clicquot Club so good?

To begin with, we are situated in the country—in that hilly, rock-crusted, pine-clad section of New England which spells two important things—pure water and clean air. Water is the basic thing in making ginger ale—and we have one of the purest, most even water sources in America.

Coming from deep within the rock foundations of New England, our water is so pure that it requires neither filtration nor sterilization (yet, to take no chances, for your thirst we test it regularly). It comes from so far below the surface that its temperature varies but a fraction of a degree, winter and summer. Without such an even water source no ginger ale can keep on being good for thirty-nine years — no matter what its formula may be.

A clean, country plant

What does clean, country air mean in making good ginger ale? Just this—clean, dustless laboratories, bottling rooms, warehouses; healthy workers contented in their toil.

Thus a country-situated plant means, all told—freedom from an irregular, uncertain city-water supply, often requiring special treatment—and freedom from careless, shifting labor and all the other dangers of contamination which go with food-product manufacturing in crowded communities. The Clicquot Club plant was planned for making ginger ale. It is not a renovated factory or warehouse.

Unceasing care makes Clicquot Club so good

It goes without saying that the highest chemical and dietetic skill has guided Clicquot Club through these thirty-nine years of success. Every safeguard for purity and the maintenance of the happy Clicquot Club blend has always been consistently employed.

You can take for granted the high quality of the Jamaica ginger root we put in Clicquot Club. Why, we even prepare it especially to remove all trace of that slightly astringent quality associated even with your grandmother's old-fashioned gingerbread. The cane sugar in Clicquot Club (the quickest energy food man knows) is even better than you use on your own table. Everything that goes to make up Clicquot Club is the best there is.

And as for the carbonation of this delightful beverage—do you realize how important that bubbling quality of carbonated drinks is? The Mellon Institute has proved that the thorough, cold carbonation such as Clicquot Club employs protects beverages indefinitely against the germs which sometimes lurk in unprotected waters.

The gas that carbonates Clicquot Club is tested 99.5% pure. It is put into the beverage almost at the freezing point of 32°. Just uncap a bottle of Clicquot Club and one of any other ginger ale you may happen to have and notice the difference. Clicquot doesn't fizz unpleasantly at the start, and it keeps bubbling long, long after you've poured it out. And that is the infallible sign of carbonation care.

Clicquot Club is a friend you need

Have you ever taken thirst seriously? You need three quarts of liquid every day to keep your body in condition. Remember Clicquot Club in this connection, because if you don't like flat water (and many people don't), Clicquot Club will give you the liquid you need in the purest and most appetizing form. That is the reason Clicquot Club is used in so many hospitals all over the country.

Drink Clicquot Club often. You can get it so easily. After smoky conferences—after tiring train or motor rides—after housecleaning, cooking, dressmaking, shopping. Serve it to the children when they come in tired from play. It gives them energy. It quenches their thirst. The Clicquot Club Company, Millis, Mass., U. S. A.

The Clicquot Kid—one of the world's best-known and best-loved trademark characters. If all the bottles on which he appears each year were placed end to end, they would stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again.

Clicquot Club

PRONOUNCED KLEE-KO

GINGER ALE

Just see the honest package Clicquot Club comes in—two full glasses in every bottle! Its clear glass bottle enables you to examine the golden drink within. You can see for yourself the absolute freedom from sediment. The value of Clicquot Club is in the beverage itself—not in expensive wrappings.

FORD BID ACTION ASSURED TODAY

Western Senators Pledge Aid Toward Vote

Underwood Asks Showdown on Muscle Shoals

Cites Need of Assistance on Reclamation

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Public hearings on Muscle Shoals closed tonight after many weeks of deliberation. Tomorrow the Senate committee will go into executive session to act on the various proposals.

Action by the Senate on Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals bid was virtually assured today when Western Senators promised Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, to support the Southern Senators in obtaining a vote at this session of Congress.

TO TRY AGAIN TODAY

At tomorrow's executive session, supporters of the Ford bill will make another attempt to obtain favorable action by the committee on the offer, and failing in this, they will take the fight to the Senate floor, where they are determined to get a record vote. It could be brought up either as a substitute to the committee report or in an amendment to any other bill that might be pending.

Senator Underwood appealed to the Senate today to permit action on Ford's bill, declaring that Ford was entitled to an acceptance or a rejection.

Declaring that Ford's offer was tied up in the committee, and that opportunity was not given the Senate to pass on it, he said the committee was dominated by Eastern Senators, who are seeking passage of a reclamation relief measure.

TELLS GRIEVANCE

"The gentlemen of the West ask us to help them in a meritorious cause and yet when it comes to disposing of this great Muscle Shoals plant we are not given an opportunity to have it considered," he declared.

"Irrespective of what position the Western Senators take on the Muscle Shoals vote, I will seek by my vote to do justice to the people of the West by justice of reclamation relief."

After his speech, Senator Warren, Wyoming, and Senator Borah, Republican Idaho, assured Senator Underwood that Western Senators would co-operate to bring the Muscle Shoals issue to a vote. Chairman Norris of the Senate Agriculture Committee also favors action at this session of Congress.

BACKS BAN ON RELIGION IN SCHOOLS

Webb Reaffirms His Decision Relating to Public Institutions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—Standing by a previous ruling of his office that religious instruction, either directly or indirectly, in the public schools of California is prohibited by the laws and Constitution, Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb, in an opinion received here today by Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, holds that there is nothing in a recent decision of the State Supreme Court which can be construed to mean that Bible reading is permissible in the schools.

The decision of the court which related to the case of Evans against the Selma Union High School district, the Attorney-General points out, is limited to the use of the Bible for reference purposes only in school libraries.

The question of Bible-reading in the schools was submitted to Mr. Webb by Mr. Wood in response to a communication from W. L. Stephens, Long Beach Superintendent of Schools, suggesting that the Attorney-General might modify his ruling with regard to Bible-reading as a result of the Selma decision.

La comisión que está investigando el asunto de Daugherty escuchó detalles sobre los trabajos de detectives que han sido empleados en este asunto.

La suprema corte sostiene que las municipalidades pueden prohibir que se vendan licores con recetas de médico.

Se recibió en el Senado una comunicación relativa a que se impedirá la clausura de las sesiones, a menos que se vote la ley sobre ayuda a los agricultores, y otras similares.

Según enmienda del proyecto de ley sobre sueldos postales aprobado por el Senado, tendrán que publicarse cada diez días las contribuciones que reciban los comités de campaña en las próximas elecciones presidenciales y parlamentarias.

Los Rebeldes Mejicanos Bombardeados desde el Aire

VERACRUZ, Mayo 26. — Fue muerto el sábado gran número de rebeldes en un raid que llevaron a cabo varios aviones federales sobre el campo revolucionario de La Concepción, cerca de los campos petrolíferos del mismo nombre en el Estado de Veracruz, según telegrama demorado de Puerto Méjico, recibido hoy aquí. Los rebeldes estaban a las órdenes de los generales Torruca, Ochoa y Quintana. El referido bombardeo les destruyó su improvisado campamento.

Los Aviones Americanos Llegaran a Shanghai en Estos Días

SHANGHAI, Mayo 25.—Shanghai está haciendo serios preparativos para compensar la pérdida sufrida con motivo del accidente que tuvo el avión del Capitán francés D'Oisy, y ellos consisten en organizar la recepción que se va a hacer a los aviadores circunnavegantes americanos, que deben de llegar a ésta el 30 o el 31 del actual.

El Capitán W. J. Bisler, agente del Negociado de Navegación aquí, está encargado de los preparativos, y ha terminado de poner boyas en el río Wgampoa, como a cinco millas de Shanghai.

El general Federico Ward, miembro de la Legión Americana, tiene a su cargo las fiestas en ésta, y los funcionarios chinos están prestando su colaboración para dar la bienvenida a los aviadores americanos, que fueron los primeros en cruzar el océano Pacífico y llegar por el aire a la costa de Asia.

Todavía se encuentra en ésta el Capitán D'Oisy, haciendo ensayos con el avión que le prestaron las autoridades chinas. Piensa partir mañana para Pequín, con escalas en Nanking y en Tsinanfu, y espera llegar a la capital china antes que el inglés, y también anticiparsele en Tokio, a pesar del accidente tenido aquí hace una semana.

Bert Webster, el flaco carpintero de cabeza cana que ha aparecido como principal testigo de cargo en el jurado de la señora Margaret Willis, acusada del asesinato del doctor Benjamin B. Baldwin, se negó a admitir ayer ante el juez superior Crail, que amara a la señora Willis, por más que unos cuantos minutos antes hubiera declarado que había vivido con él dicha señora durante cuatro años, como su querida.

Webster compareció después de la señora Helen Baldwin, la joven y agradable viuda que pudo sobrevivir a varias horas de interrogatorio del defensor S. S. Hahn. Terminó Webster una larga y no interrumpida narración de la participación que tuvo en la tragedia: el viaje en auto a media noche con la señora Willis y el baúl que contenía el cadáver del doctor Baldwin, y las tentativas para deshacerse de la fúnebre carga. Había hablado con toda calma y sin manifestar gran emoción. Y al llegar al último capítulo—la entrega de la señora Willis a la policía—se le preguntó: "¿Por qué hizo usted todo esto, señor Webster?" Webster dió entonces, y por primera vez, muestras de nerviosidad. "¿Amaba usted a la señora Willis?" Webster se retorció en su silla, y preguntó: "¿Tengo que contestar a eso?" "Si usted no desea contestar, no insistiré en mi pregunta", le dijo el Fiscal Dennison. "Bueno, lo que ocurrió fue que encontré a una persona en grave apuro, y tuve deseo de ayudarle a salir de él." Y de esa manera respondió Webster a la pregunta de si amaba o no a la señora Willis.

Atletismo

Anoche hizo públicos el comité olímpico local los nombres de veinticinco atletas de pista de Sudcalifornia que serán enviados a competir en las pruebas finales de los juegos olímpicos que habrán de celebrarse en el estadio de Harvard los días 13 y 14 de Junio próximo. Es probable que otros dieciséis a quienes ha recomendado el comité, tomen también parte en los últimos ensayos, siempre que sus respectivos colegios alleguen el dinero necesario para enviarlos al Este, o que la organización local recaude de la función del sábado fondos suficientes para atender a ese gasto.

Boxeo

Esta noche podrá verse en el coliseo de Vernon una de las pruebas de boxeo más reñidas que se han visto en estas últimas semanas, pues Billy Wells, que se dice poseedor del campeonato inglés peso welter, va a hacerle frente a Bert Colima en el número principal de un programa que promete ser muy interesante. Va a ser el tercer encuentro de esta misma pareja. Wells ganó los dos primeros, aunque no sin mucha resistencia del adversario.

Yosemite Park Travel Breaks Previous Mark

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YOSEMITE, May 26.—Automobile travel to Yosemite National Park to date in 1924 has exceeded previous years, according to figures made public today by Superintendent W. B. Lewis. So far this year, 2078 cars have visited Yosemite carrying 6113 passengers. This is a gain of 469 cars and 1469 people over 1923.

Travel via the Big Oak Flat road showed a big increase. On Saturday 101 cars with 336 passengers came in by this route, as against five cars and seventeen passengers on the same date last year.

Why this Record-Breaking OLDSMOBILE-SIX can be sold for only $795

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

EVERYONE who examines this new Oldsmobile Six invariably asks: "How can an automobile which has made such a record and boasts such splendid units, be the lowest priced Six in the world?"—or: "How can an automobile of such undeniably high quality be sold for only $795?"

The answer is as simple as two plus two! Oldsmobile, working alone, simply could not offer such tremendous value for such a low price—nor could any other company of similar size, experience or purchasing power.

But, Oldsmobile enjoys the unique advantage of adding to its own purchasing power and manufacturing facilities—all of the vast resources and facilities of the great General Motors Corporation.

Let us explain! Take an insignificant little part of an automobile like a lock washer. If Oldsmobile were to buy its own lock washers, it would require about 1,000,000 or so a year—and it would have to pay the 1,000,000 price. But General Motors—buying for all its units—buys over 500,000,000 lock washers a year—and enjoys the 500,000,000 price.

There's the answer! Carry this reasoning right down through the entire car, and you will understand why and how Oldsmobile can offer you—at the same time—the lowest-priced and one of the most reliable six-cylinder cars in the world!

Oldsmobile challenges your buying judgment! We have an honest car—it has established an exceptional performance record—it can be bought at an unmatched low price. You simply cannot afford to overlook this Oldsmobile Six at $795!

Here are just a few of the tests Oldsmobile Six has undergone—

Flexibility—An Oldsmobile Six was driven by "Cannon-Ball" Baker from New York to Los Angeles in high gear—with low, second and reverse gears removed.

Reliability—On that trying transcontinental run, it covered the entire distance of 3674 miles without recourse to the emergency kit.

Economy—In spite of mountains, mud and sand—the Oldsmobile Six averaged 27.8 miles per gallon of gasoline on the entire run.

Speed—Immediately upon its arrival in Los Angeles, this Oldsmobile traveled 68 miles an hour on the Los Angeles speedway under official observation.

Power—The Allegheny and Rocky Mountains, and the deep Missouri mud—all negotiated in high gear—conclusively demonstrated the tremendous power of this remarkable car.

TUNA SALAD

Use the tops from six large green peppers and remove the seeds and veins; place in water until wanted. Mix with a shredded white cabbage, one cupful of diced celery, one cupful of canned peas, the tablespoonfuls of the green peppers, two tablespoonfuls of chopped pimientos, two tablespoonfuls of chopped capers; two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley and one cupful of lemon mayonnaise. Drain the green pepper cups, dry thoroughly, fill with the mixture and serve on cold lettuce-covered plates and garnish each salad with slice of hard-boiled egg.

CHEESE SANDWICHES

Cut twenty-four slices of day-old sandwich bread medium thin and spread twelve of them with a mixture of two-thirds of a cupful of creamed butter, two cupfuls of pimiento cheese, half a teaspoonful of salt and half a cupful of finely chopped ripe olives. Cover the cheese mixture with a piece of crisp lettuce, place on the remaining slices of bread, press and cut in finger shaped pieces.

INDIVIDUAL SHORTCAKES

Sift three cupfuls of sifted flour with five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and half a teaspoonful of salt; rub into them half a cupful of butter and when like coarse meal add one beaten egg and enough sweet milk to make a rather stiff smooth dough; roll out on a floured board, cut in six even rounds, place on a baking sheet, brush with melted butter and bake in a fast oven fifteen minutes. Split, spread with soft butter, cover with crushed strawberries and sugar, place on the tops, spread with whipped cream and garnish with whole berries dipped in powdered sugar.

ACOVADO COCKTAIL

Split three even-sized avocados, remove the seeds and carefully remove the pulp in even-sized small pieces. Mix two-thirds of a cupful of mayonnaise with one tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, half a cupful of chili sauce, half a cupful of finely chopped preserved ginger and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice; add the avacado pulp, mix lightly, fill the halves of avocado with it and serve ice cold on lettuce-covered plates.

COFFEE MOUSSE

Place five tablespoonfuls of sugar and half a cupful of water in a small sauce pan, stir over the fire until clear and boiling, cool. Beat the yolks of six eggs and beat into them slowly the syrup, place in a double boiler and stir and cook until thick; remove from the fire and beat until cold. Add half a cupful of strong, cold, black coffee and two cupfuls of whipped cream, mix well, place in a mold, cover tight and pack in two parts of fine ice and one part rock salt for three hours. Unmold, cut in slices, serve on ice-cold plates and decorate with sweetened whipped cream.

MORE AID FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Merchants, Manufacturers Support Proposal

Seen as Necessity for Fast Growing Population

Inadequate Facilities Now Existing Are Cited

The $34,640,000 school bonds, which are to be voted on June 3, yesterday were indorsed as a civic necessity by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. The indorsement was contained in a letter to the Board of Education from F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the association.

Mr. Zeehandelaar yesterday made the following statement:

"Indorsement of the school bonds, to my mind, is the most important matter now before the voters of Los Angeles. Good schools and adequate educational facilities are the first incentive to people to come to Los Angeles, and are a necessary part of our civic life. To the people of the school districts education of their children is the most important which they have to consider."

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is one of the many organizations which have pointed out to the voters within the last few weeks the necessity for carrying the school bonds. In addition to the fact that more than 20,000 children are now going to school only half a day, due to the lack of buildings, there are untold hundreds who are not enrolled. Prominent persons in public life, who have investigated the situation, have been impressed by the fact that children are now being housed in 600 inadequate locations, such as poorly lighted basements, halls, tents and ill-ventilated shacks.

ELECTRIC CLUB IN SCHOOL BOND PLEDGE

Eight hundred members of the Electric Club at the luncheon at the Biltmore yesterday gave unanimous support to the school bonds. Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of the city schools, was the principal speaker. The guests of the club, besides Mrs. Dorsey, were Mrs. Norman McBeth, John Beman and Robert Burns.

Stressing the need of the proposed bond issue, Mrs. Dorsey called particular attention to the lack of adequate facilities which now exist. She said thousands of children are unable to get the benefit of any schooling whatsoever and that other children are being given only part-time schooling because of crowded conditions.

"There was never a greater necessity for additional funds to provide school buildings," said Mrs. Dorsey. "We are facing a situation that indeed is grave. Thousands of our city's children are without any schooling whatsoever. Others, and this means other thousands, have only a half-day each school day. Then, the present schools are overcrowded and teachers must get along as best they can with the present conditions.

"We need money. The need is imperative. Los Angeles has grown so rapidly that we have been unable to keep pace with the growth in our population. Now we have thousands of children who must be cared for at once and unless we care for them they will grow up witrout the proper schooling and we will be to blame.

"There is only one way out of this difficulty. Vote the present proposed bonds and give to the youngsters what they are certainly entitled to—proper school facilities. This is the least that we can do when we realize how great is the need. Every father and every mother and every citizen is vitally interested in this great question."

Mrs. Dorsey was given an ovation by the club members. They went on record individually as favoring the bonds and many pledged themselves to work to help pile up a majority in their precincts on election day, June 3.

CHURCH FILES SUIT FOR RUINED TREES

DAMAGE OF $15,000 SOUGHT IN SANTA MONICA PARISH ACTION

The Parish of St. Augustine by the Sea, a religious corporation of Santa Monica, yesterday had on file in Superior Court a suit for $15,000 against D. S. McEwan of the beach city, who was asserted to have destroyed ten shade and ornamental trees surrounding the church of the plaintiff.

The church asked $12,000 for the loss of the trees and $3000 for the loss of memorials some of the trees were said to have represented. McEwan was declared to have cut and ruined the trees the 22nd inst. and it was stated that the church's peaceful and attractive setting had been greatly damaged.

FLYNN HEALTH LECTURE

W. Earl ("Daddy") Flynn, humorist and health lecturer, began his third health campaign in the city last night with a lecture at the Grand Avenue Theater. "Daddy" Flynn's former campaign here was supported by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher and a committee of 100 business men, physicians and ministers. A lecture for women only will be given this afternoon, and this evening he will deliver another lecture for men only.

BETWEEN

ALWAYS GOOD BUTTER
SOMETIMES GOOD BUTTER

Just 1¢ to 4¢ a week

If it cost a great deal more to get dependable-quality butter—then there might be some excuse for buying inferior or second-grade brands.

But when you can buy Golden State—for 17 years the quality standard—at just 1c or 2c a pound more than the cheaper grades (perhaps 1c to 4c a week for your family)—certainly there doesn't seem to be much argument about the brand to buy.

Can You Really Afford Not To Pay The Difference?

Modern, sanitary creameries in selected locations—pure, rich cream from healthy, high-producing cows—efficient methods—strict purity tests—these are only a few of the things that make Golden State the perfect butter.

Order it from your grocer. You'll find it pays to insist.

Golden State THE HIGH SCORE★ BUTTER

★ The "score" is the expert's gauge of butter quality. It is a fact that Golden State averages from 1 to 5 points higher than other Southern California brands.

BAKED SHORT RIBS

A. H., Los Angeles, has a husband who is very fond of short ribs of beef with browned pototoes as served by a local restaurant and asks that we tell her how to prepare them.

Place two pounds of short ribs of beef cut in even sized pieces in a pot, cover with water, add one onion stuck with three whole cloves, one bay leaf, two carrots, two stalks of celery, three branches of parsley and a seasoning of salt. Bring to a boil and simmer for two hours. Lift out the short ribs onto a baking pan, dot with bits of butter, add to the pan two tablespoonfuls of the liquor, and two cloves stuck in a small onion. Bake in a moderate oven until nicely browned, basting often. Parboil eight small peeled potatoes in boiling salt water for eight minutes, lift, place in the pan with meat, sprinkle with salt and bake until the potatoes and meat are tender, stir the potatoes so that they will brown evenly. Serve with the pan gravy thickened with flour.

BAKED SMELT

H. M., Redondo, wants direction for baking smelt and spiced pickled smelt.

For the baked smelt, leave the heads on, open the belly, clean, wash and dry. Dip, one at a time, into a bowl of salted milk, roll in sifted bread crumbs, lay in a row in an oiled baking pan, sprinkle with olive oil and bake in a hot oven ten minutes. Arrange on a hot platter, garnish with lemon slices and branches of parsley and serve with tartare sauce.

PICKLED SMELT

Place in a saucepan two quarts of mild cider vinegar, add one cupful of pickling spices, two teaspoonfuls of salt and two tablespoonfuls of sugar; bring to a slow boil and simmer twenty-five minutes; strain and set in a cold place until cold. Select four pounds of even-sized small smelts, remove the heads and tails and place, one layer deep without crowding, on an oiled steamer, sprinkle with salt and place over boiling water; steam until they turn white, about four minutes; they must be firm enough to handle, not soft. Lift out, place in stone jar, cover with a layer of finely sliced onions, thin sliced lemons and broken bay leaves, using two onions, two lemons and three bay leaves in all. Steam another layer of smelts and repeat the process until all of the smelts are steamed. Pour over the cooled vinegar, dust well with paprika and let stand two days before using. Will keep in a cold place for two weeks.

NUT AND FRUIT SANDWICH

G. L. A., Los Angeles, was served with a round sandwich filled with nuts and fruit at a card party given in her honor on a recent visit to San Francisco and asks that we give her the recipe.

Run through the fine knife of the meat chopper half a pound of pitted prunes, half a pound of seedless raisins, half a pound of stoned dates, half a pound of cleaned dried figs, one-quarter of a pound of peeled blanched almonds, one-quarter of a pound of peeled Brazil nuts and one pound of broken walnut meats; mix well; add to the strained juice of two oranges and knead with the hands until smooth; pack in pound baking powder cans and set in the ice box for twelve hours. Remove from the cans, cut in thin slices and place between round slices of lightly buttered bread, press together and garnish the tops with halves of Maraschino cherries.

SOUP ROYAL

E. H., Pasadena, asks that we give a recipe for soup royal mentioned in one of our recent menus.

Place in a stock pot one pound of lamb stew, cover with two quarts of water, bring slowly to a boil and simmer for two hours, skimming the fat off as it raises to the top. Strain the stock through a cloth into a clean pot. Beat one egg and beat into it one cup finely chopped fresh or canned corn and two-thirds of a cupful of finely chopped clams. Bring the stock to a boil, add a seasoning of salt and pepper and drop by teaspoonful the clam and corn mixture into it. Cook until the ball mixture comes to the top.

SPRING SALAD

V. A. M., Los Angeles, wants a recipe for a vegetable salad to serve for a luncheon for six persons.

Mix in a cold bowl rubbed with a clove of crushed garlic, one cupful of sliced red radishes, one cupful of cooked, cooled and sliced carrots, four tablespoonfuls of finely chopped young green onions, four tablespoonfuls of chopped green peppers, four tablespoonfuls of chopped pimentos, one cupful of sliced cucumbers, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, two teaspoonfuls of salt, and one-half a cupful of French dressing. Mound on lettuce covered plates and place a teaspoonful of mayonnaise on top of each salad.

ORANGE TEA CAKES

B. L. M., Hollywood, requests the recipe for orange tea cakes given in these columns some months ago, she lost her copy.

Beat one cupful of butter to a cream, continue beating and add slowly two cupfuls of sifted sugar and beat two minutes. Beat in three well-beaten eggs and when the mixture is light and smooth add two and a half cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with two-thirds of a teaspoonful of soda; add the grated rind of one orange and two tablespoonfuls of strained orange juice. Knead to a smooth dough, adding more flour to obtain a smooth dough. Roll out, fold in three, place on a dry plate, cover and set in the ice box four hours. Roll out thin, cut with a small round cutter, place on an oiled polished baking sheet and make nine minutes in a moderate oven. Cool and keep in a covered can or crock.

MEAT LOAF

R. A. H., Los Angeles, would like the directions for making a meat loaf.

Mix two pounds of finely chopped round steak with one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of black pepper, half a teaspoonful of thyme, the white part of one young onion finely chopped, two slightly beaten eggs, three tablespoonfuls of soaked and pressed bread crumbs. Press into a buttered bread tin, set in a hot oven and when the top has browned reduce the heat and bake forty minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and pour over a rich brown gravy or Spanish sauce.

POPOVERS

W. J. Y., Courtland, Ariz., has a maid who cannot make good popovers and asks that we supply a recipe.

Place two eggs in a bowl, add one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and beat until light with a Dover egg beater. Continue beating while adding slowly one cupful of milk. Beat one minute, add, all at one time, one cupful of twice sifted flour and beat two minutes; beat in two teaspoonfuls of melted butter and beat one minute. Heat iron gem pans very hot, polish with olive oil, fill two-thirds full with the batter and place in a hot oven ten minutes, reduce the heat to a medium oven and finish baking, about twenty minutes more. Do not open the oven door for twenty minutes. When finished baking, if gas is used, turn off the heat and let stand in the oven five minutes.

ASKS COMMITTEE TO STATE CANDIDATES

All members of the Democratic County Central Committee have been notified by Ben Hecht, chairman, executive committee, to attend a meeting of the committee, to specify the date of the August primaries and the list of candidates to be voted up. All matters pertaining to the campaign, such as committees, etc., are to be handled at headquarters, at the Alexandria hotel, Fourth and Spring streets.

TO ATTEND IN BODY

Members of the Al Malaikah Shrine Club are planning to attend, in a body, the annual session of Al Malaikah Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, Friday night. A special section of seats has been reserved in the Ambassador auditorium arena, where the ceremonies will be conducted.

All Laundry Starch Troubles Overcome with Linit, the New Scientific Starch Discovery

SPECIAL for TO-MORROW and continuing until Saturday, June 7

As a special offer, your grocer will give you two full packages of LINIT for the price of one—10c.

THERE are several important things about Linit that will interest you. Because of its unusual quality of remaining THIN and FREE-RUNNING, like water, Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, which reinforces the strength of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from old-fashioned starches. It was originally made for the makers of fine fabrics who had to secure the finest possible finish.

But now, for the first time, it is offered to you, the housewife. With Linit you can get the same wonderful finish you have always admired in goods that come direct from the store.

Linit gives a soft, pliable finish to your garments. And you will find your Linit-starched clothes and fabrics remain clean and fresh much longer. Also, Linit makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like linen.

Important To You

LINIT makes a THIN, "milky" mixture, free-running like water. You dip your garments into this mixture which is quickly absorbed by the fabric. Linit is not "spread on", which was customary with the old-fashioned starches.

The Linit mixture does not present the stiff, jelly-like appearance of ordinary starch. This is why you will find it much easier to iron with Linit—and why a small amount of Linit goes much farther than other starches.

TO-MORROW: Take advantage of special offer—your grocer will give you 2 full-size packages of* LINIT *for the price of one—10c.

UTILIZATION IRRIGATION Are among the subjects covered in detail in the FARM AND TRACTOR MAGAZINE issued with the LOS ANGELES SUNDAY TIMES.

THE STORY

Elise Duchanier becomes over night the famous woman in Paris and determines to live brilliantly during the year to live that remains to her, according to the warning of the elderly Dr. Lapierre. The beautiful and innocent girl of gentle birth has lived in poverty and is the sole support of an invalid sister. Elise had become maid to Lolette, famous dancer, who through jealousy attempted her downfall but instead set her up as a rival in popular favor. Elise, now the famous La Phalene, finds safety in the number of her suitors, who include her manager, Maurice Brunel; Count Mordac, Donatelli and Ahmed, an Arab prince. She thinks most of Tom Kendrick, a young American whom she met in her days of poverty. Ahmed and Donatelli quarrel over her. She appeals to Ahmed.

Chapter XXXVIII
THE GODS OF CHANCE

Ahmed remained very calm. Felice could insult him no further and as he had already made up his mind to kill Felice he had reached the limit of his vengeance.

"You are so quick to perceive cowardice in others, my friend, that I begin to suspect you of knowing much of its symptoms from actual experience," he said gently. "Before putting the proposition before you, I would emphasize this: All my life I have been educated in the use of arms. I mention it so that you will realize that I am not attempting to evade the use of the accepted weapons of duelling."

Felice looked astonished.

"You mean you will not fight with either sword or pistol?" he exclaimed.

"Exactly."

Felice laughed. "Impossible! You will want to use fists next, like the English."

"Not at all. But consider. If a man is killed by sword thrust or pistol shot there is an immediate outcry. For what I propose we need no seconds. We need nobody except ourselves." He leaned forward. "If a man cares to poison himself in a quiet place then his relatives are sad, there is some mystery about it all, but no furious scandal."

"What do you mean?" Felice was plainly bewildered.

"My suggestion, bluntly is this, that one morning, at say, 8 o'clock, you and I meet at a selected glade in the Bois. There is a bottle of champaigne and—a little bottle of poison. I believe veronal is quite pleasant and easy to obtain. We play. The loser drinks a cup of champagne, the drink of the gods, and in the cup is sufficient veronal to kill him."

Felice leaned back. It was fantastic to the point of absurdity, the maddest duel he had ever heard of.

"Play what?" he demanded.

"I had had cards in my mind, but the gamble might be unfair, that, at whatever game we chose, one of us might be the superior of the other. Therefore, I suggest dice. Three dice, with the one spots counting as aces, the highest throw of all. The dice might be bought, set in a sealed package and opened only in the glade. The gods of chance could decide the rest."

Felice wanted to deride the whole suggestion, but found himself asking questions as to details.

"How would we get there?"

Felice got to his feet.

"Are you determined not to make use of the usual weapons?"

"Absolutely. Mine is the choice, and I have told you how I have chosen."

Felice went to the window and stared out at the sunlit street. It was all fantastic. And yet—Ahmed had choice of weapons. He turned about.

"If I accept this proposition, I insist on the presence of a third party."

"Whom would you suggest?"

Felice reflected. "There is a man known to both of us, sufficiently friendly. He is shrewd. I refer to Monsieur le Comte Mordac."

"I agree," said Ahmed quietly. "And so we met on those terms?"

"Yes."

"Well—we will see Mordac. Afterwards it is merely a question of time."

It was left at that. They saw Mordac later, and he accompanied them to the Bois, where they selected an enclosed glade which would certainly be free from intrusion.

The day was fixed, and the time—8 o'clock.

Mordac reported to Lolette.

"At last," she said quietly. "You know, mon cher, the cards cannot run against one always. Would you lie for me in a little thing?"

"In what?" asked Mordac.

"The time of this meeting is 8 o'clock. You say she wishes to be there to prevent it, which means she will arrive at 8, or perhaps just after. Suppose you told her the meeting was for a quarter to 9?"

Mordac stared at her. "That means," he said slowly, "that the blood of one of these men will be on my head."

"Not at all. Do you think they will refrain because she asks them to?"

"I will do it," he said.

She leaned forward and kissed him. "There are times when I think you love me as you used to," she said softly. "And now, about La Phalene. It may be depended upon that neither Ahmed nor Felice will mention anything to her. I want you to say nothing until the night before the meeting. That evening, mon cher, you must spend with her, so as to keep her away from everybody."

Chapter XXXIX
TOMORROW MORNING

Both Ahmed and Felice avoided Elise during the few days which elapsed between making their final arrangements and the meeting, and through Elise made frantic efforts to meet one or other of them, with the idea of renewing her plea that they should forget everything and be friends, she failed to do so. Mordac was constantly with her. He presumed upon her appointment of him as her spy to inflict his company upon her on all possible occasions, despite the fact that this apparent intimacy was viewed by Brunel with lowering looks and ill-concealed anger.

Mordac kept from Elise the fact that he knew when and where the meeting was to take place, and contrived to invite her to supper with him on the night prior to the fatal morning. They went to Paillard's.

During the meal they talked with some appearance of lightness. Elise obviously strained and worried. Mordac watchful, slightly amused, and very ardently desiring this woman, who now, beyond all doubt, with the maturity of experience eradicating what gaucheries she might have possessed in girlhood, was the most beautiful in all Paris.

With the coffee, Mordac said: "You are not happy, petite. Always are your eyes looking far away and pained."

"I am not." Elise stirred her coffee slowly. "I am driven to death. Monsieur, have you ever felt in affairs that a time has come when everything is going against you? I am feeling so now. But, tell me, is there yet no news of this affair between Ahmed and Felice?"

Mordac told her.

He explained that he had only heard it that afternoon, and had had no proper opportunity for telling her in the theater. His own part in the affair he entirely suppressed.

She listened quietly, her face very still and reposed, her eyes wide.

"But—it is cold-blooded murder!" she gasped.

"Selective suicide," corrected Mordac. "I believe they do it to spare you."

She moved as though to get from the table. "I must stop it! I must stop it! Mordac was afraid she was going to make a scene.

He leaned forward and patted her hand. "Tomorrow morning, cherie. Tomorrow morning, at 8:45."

Tomorrow: Waiting.

ACCUSED MAN'S DEATH ENDS ROBBERY TRIAL

A charge of first-degree robbery against Robert K. Garland was dismissed yesterday by Judge Keetch when it was learned Garland had been summoned to a higher court. Garland was accused of taking $11[illegible] from Lula Gray, cashier of a downtown cafeteria. When the case was called yesterday in Judge Keetch's court, Defense Attorney H. C. Huntington announced that Garland had died in General Hospital.

POMONA TO GET NEW TEACHERS

Many Changes Announced in College Faculty

Elliott Lincoln Added to English Staff

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CLAREMONT, May 26.—There will be a number of changes in, and additions to the faculty of Pomona College for the coming year.

Elliott C. Lincoln will come to Pomona as associate professor of English literature. He holds the degree of M.A. in English from the State College of Washington and has practically completed his work at Harvard for a Ph.D. Mr. Lincoln taught English for three years at the Washington State College.

Jose Pipoan comes to the Department of romance languages as acting professor of Hispanic civilization and lecturer on the history of art. He is a native of Barcelona, Spain, and a graduate of the University of Barcelona and of the University of Rome, holding degrees from these two institutions which correspond to the M. A. granted by our universities.

BOTANY ASSISTANT

Paul Atwood Harvey comes to Pomona College as assistant professor of botany. Mr. Harvey is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College with a degree of B.S. and is a graduate student of the University of Minnesota with the degree of M.S. He has also taken special work in Harvard University in general physiology and physiological chemistry. In both the University of Minnesota and Harvard University he has held teaching fellowships.

Francis G. Gilchrist comes from special work at the University of California to Pomona College as an instructor in zoology. He is an honor graduate of the University of California and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi and Phi Sigma honor societies. He is now completing the residential requirements for his degree of Ph. D.

LEIGHTON RETURNS

Wesley Leighton, a graduate of Pomona College, class of '23, will return to his Alma Mater as an instructor in chemistry. Mr. Leighton was offered the teaching fellowship at Harvard University now held by his brother, Philip Leighton, but decided to continue his work for the coming year with Pomona College.

Miss Frances Dillon becomes a member of the physical education department for women. Miss Dillon is a graduate of the Pasadena High School and of the College of Wooster, O., from which she holds the degree of B. A. She is now completing two years of special work in the department of hygiene at Wellesley College, from which she receives a certificate this year.

PROF. OLIVE TO STAY

In the department of music, Prof. Everett S. Olive, who became a member of the faculty at the time of Prof. Andrews's illness will continue during the coming year as associate professor of piano. Prof. Olive is a graduate of Simpson College, Iowa, from which he received the degree of B. M.

Miss Mildred Lund becomes an instructor in voice and public school music. Miss Lund is a graduate of Northwestern University, from which she received the degrees of G. M. and B. M. She has taught for two years as assistant supervisor of music in Evansville, Ind., and for three years as supervisor of music in Highland Park, Ill.

Miss Pauline Alderman comes to Pomona College as instructor in piano and harmony. She is a graduate of Reed College, Portland, Or., where she majored in English and music. She has also had one year of graduate work at the Institute of Musical Art and four university summer sessions at the Universities of California and Washington. She has taught in the high school at McMinnville, Or., the Lincoln High School at Portland, and for the past three years has been the head of the theory department and teacher of piano at the Ellison-White Conservatory, Portland, Or.

Coleman Wins Conger Peace Oratory Prize

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, May 26.—Theodore C. Coleman, president of the sophomore class of the California Institute of Technology and a member of the Pi Kappa Dalta fraternity, today won the annual Conger Peace Oratorical Contest, staged in the Caltech auditorium. His subject was "The Statesman vs. The Politician." A prize of $50 also was awarded the winner.

Robert W. Fulwider, another member of the same forensic fraternity was only one point behind the winner in the judges' ratings. Other speakers were Alvin D. Bull, H. C. Hodel and John Maurer.

The Conger Peace Oratorical Contest was started in 1912 and is an annual event at the California Institute of Technology. Rev. E. L. Conger established the fund, the interest from which is awarded each year to the winner of the contest.

AID FOR BURBANK DRIVE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BURBANK, May 26.—Burbank's campaign for memberships in the Greater Los Angeles Industrial Finance Corporation will be given further impetus at a mass meeting at the Woman's Clube Wednesday evening, President J. C. Crawford of the local committee promises a number of good speakers on this occasion, when the plans and purposes of the association will be explained in detail.

GIRL BANDIT IS UNMOVED BY PENALTY

Eleanor Walling Faces Indeterminate Term in Prison With Courage

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, May 26. — Eleanor Walling, 20-year-old bank bandit, was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term at San Quentin penitentiary late this afternoon by Superior Judge H. A. Peairs. The steel nerve which enabled her to maintain a cool front before the officers for more than a month before she confessed, was evident as she received the court's pronouncement today.

The same aplomb which gave her the courage to help plan the robbery of the State Bank at Taft when $5700 was removed by two masked bandits heavily armed, and then later to secrete in a cache a portion of that money, gave her the courage today to face her stay at grim San Quentin.

Eleanor Walling, in making her formal plea of guilty, implicated herself as being a principal in the bank robbery, according to the District Attorney's office. The Penal Code specifies that any robbery committed by armed persons is first-degree robbery, and that upon conviction such a robber will serve not less than five years. Probation is denied those pleading guilty or convicted of first-degree robbery, likewise a suspended sentence.

Judge Peairs stated today that the length of Eleanor Walling's sentence will depend upon the State Board of Prison Directors. Whether Miss Walling will be sent to San Quentin immediately, is probably dependent upon the time set for the trial of Bill Crockett, implicated as being a principal in the robbery by the confessions of Eleanor Walling and "Scotty" Taylor.

Quarantine Is Up in Infected Tulare Section

PORTERVILLE, May 26.—Quarantine restrictions were lifted in Tulare county today in the following territories: East of Southern Pacific track, Porterville; south of highway, Terra Bella to Pixley; west of Southern Pacific track, Tulare, and north of highway, Tulare to Lindsay.

These sections of the county are now completely open, according to Dr. C. L. Butterfield, Federal agent in charge here.

The original restricted area at Poplar district where infections broke out remains entirely closed to watch developments. All the rest of the county is closed area, which means that no live stock may be shipped from those sections and hay, and other produce only with Federal permit.

QUARANTINE IN KERN MAY BE LIFTED SOON

SITUATION IN COUNTY IS IMPROVING; NO NEW CASES REPORTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, May 26.—H. A. Jastro addressed the Board of Supervisors during the afternoon session and recommended that the local board keep mountain roads closed and maintain quarantine regulations in Kern county during the period. The quarantine is maintained about the Magunden district, where the second and last outbreak of the foot-and-mouth disease was discovered in Kern county.

Mr. Jastro contended that this county could not suffer from continuing precautionary measures effective in preventing the spread of the disease here and limiting it to two small outbreaks.

Dr. U. G. Houck, representing the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, announced today that quarantine in Kern county, "except in infected premises" would be lifted within a few days. As there is no infection in Kern county at this time it is believed that the Board of Supervisors also will relinquish the county quarantine in keeping with the Federal action.

BRIDGE DEDICATION

Affair to Celebrate Completion of Pacoima Wash Span

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, May 26.—Automobiles today are passing over the new concrete bridge across Pacoima Wash on the Mulholland-street link of the Pasadena-San Fernadno State highway, and the stage is all set for the formal dedication of the structure tomorrow evening. This celebration will be under Chamber of Commerce auspices, with J. S. McGroarty acting as toastmaster at the basket luncheon to be served at the Mission following the exercises at the bridge. State, county and city officials are expected to be present i large number to join with road builders, engineers and Chamber of Commerce delegates from valley and foothill towns.

LA VERNE COLLEGE GRADUATES THIRTEEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LA VERNE, May 26.—Thirteen men and women were graduated from La Verne College today and thirty-two members of the senior class of La Verne Academy were given their diplomas at the same time. The exercises were in the college gymnasium where about 500 friends and relatives of the graduates had gathered to witness the event. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. F. T. Woellner of the University of California. Southern Branch, and until recently a research scholar and critic of history and literature at Columbia University.

DOLLAR BILL MAY CAUSE WORLD ROW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, May 26.—International complications involving formal protests and fixing of responsibilities may result from the deposit by a thrifty Barbareno of a $1 bill.

The greenback, which already has caused a conference of bank officials, is dated at Annapolis, Md., 1770, and on the bottom is the terse pronouncement "'Tis death to counterfeit."

The question puzzling the bank is how to realize on the bill. Some government is responsible for it, and as it states on its face that it will be redeemed in London in gold, or silver, it looks as though England stood to make it good.

It was issued by the Maryland Assembly, however, and Great Britain may attempt to pass the buck to Maryland. The money will be collected, according to the president of the First National Bank, if it goes all the way to the American and British embassies.

Husband's Body Washed Ashore in Sea Mystery

SANTA ANA, May 26.—A mysterious disappearance from the beach at Huntington Beach Sunday, the 18th inst., found a solution late today when the waves washed ashore the body of John Tuft, young former service man of Los Angeles. Not relinquishing their daily vigil along the shore, officers of the beach city made the discovery.

Tuft was with L. A. Larson of Los Angeles, when they dashed into the waves. Tuft returned to the sand to rest and he was not seen to go back into the water. Lifeguards or the holiday crowd heard no outcries.

That night Mrs. Tuft, who resides at 1027 Coronado Terrace, and her small children hurried to the scene, and all next day waited in vain and then returned to Los Angeles.

Mr. Tuft came from Gunnison, Utah.

GRADUATION CLASSES SET SCHOOL RECORD

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 26. The largest classes in the history of the Huntington Park schools will be graduated from the Union High School and the intermediate school in June. The members of the class number 170, there being ninety-nine girls and seventy-one boys. They will give their commencement exercises in the high school auditorium on the evening of June 18. The intermediate school will have a class of 190 students, who will be graduated from the eighth grade, entering high school at the next school year. Graduation exercises will take place on the evening of June 12.

DR. GEORGE McKINLEY PASSED AT ALHAMBRA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, May 26. — Dr. George McKinley, 48 years of age, one of the best-known dentists in this section, is dead at his home on South Garfield avenue in Monterey Park. He leaves a widow and son, Harold. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon from the parlors of Fautter & Son, under the auspices of the Monterey Park I.O.O.F. The body will be sent to Seeley's Bay, Ont., for interment.

San Diego Field to See Training of Flyer Corps

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, May 26.—Plans for extensive student and reserve flight operations here this summer were announced today by Lieut. Virgil Hines, adjutant of Rockwell Field, on North Island.

On June 10 the Ninety-first Squadron and the Fifteenth Photo Section, from San Francisco, will come to Rockwell Field for a three months' encampment. During this time men of the organization will act as instructors for aviation students from the universities of California and Washington. The northern students will be at Rockwell Field between June 20 and July 31.

During August, Rockwell Field will be the scene of flight operations by reserve officers from various army organizations in this vicinity. Plans for instruction call for shop work as well as actual flying.

Capt. George H. Peabody, instructor in aviation at the University of California, is now at Rockwell Field assisting in summer plans. He will assume command of the summer encampment.

Training planes for the use of National Guardsmen in Colorado are to be shipped this week from Rockwell Field. Two carloads of planes were shipped last week to Missouri National Guard units.

RANCHERS IN PLAGUE AREA PLAN MEETING

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ROSCOE, May 26.—A large attendance of ranchers whose interests are within the infected zone are expected to be present at the Roscoe schoolhouse tomorrow night on the occasion of a special meeting of the local farm bureau. Quarantine rules and regulations in connection with the waning cattle plague will be discussed and fully explained by G. E. Gordon, assistant farm adviser. Because many hardships are being worked upon the farmers who have hay to harvest or market, and desire to move farm produce or animals, it is the general feeling that a thorough understanding of the situation would prove of benefit to ranchers as well as of assistance to the government in stamping out the malady. Speakers also will be present to explain the June school bond issue.

DEMAND OF CHILDREN IS GREATER THAN LAW

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, May 26.—Two prisoners, one a woman, gained temporary freedom because the demands of hungry mouths were greater than those of the law. Mrs. Theda Medina of Los Alamitos, mother of eight children, won probation in Judge F. C. Drumm's Superior Court after she had pleaded guilty to selling intoxicants. A six-month's jail sentence was suspended.

Small children needed his assistance, W. H. Edminston of Huntington Beach told Superior Judge R. Y. Williams after a guilty plead to writing fictitious checks. The court suspended sentence for five years when Edmiston's story was corroborated by Marshall Jack Tinsley at the Beach City.

VETERAN FISHERMAN TO BE BURIED TODAY

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDONDO BEACH, May 26.—Funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow morning for Henry Lareau, veteran fisherman, who dropped dead on the municipal pier late Friday afternoon. Mr. Lareau had been a resident of Redondo Beach for many years, coming here from Glendora where the family still maintains a winter home. The Cate mortuary is in charge of funeral arrangements. Solemn high mass will be observed at St. James Catholic Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mother Uses Stern Means on Own Child

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA ANA, May 26.—A Santa Ana mother today turned her young son over to the law with instructions "not to spare the rod." police revealed when they declared the boy, 12 years of age, was accused by the mother of driving her automobile without permission. The officers said the boy had been given over to the custody of juvenile authorities.

Late yesterday the mother saw her car speed down the street with the offspring at its wheel. Calling a passing motorist, the mother started pursuit and the chase continued through two residential districts and the business section before a strong hand soon grasped the boy's coat collar. Taking the culprit to police headquarters, the mother left instructions to "lock him up."

PROFESSOR STEARNS SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, May 26.—Charles Cummings Stearns, for many years a professor in Pomona College and widely known throughout the country in educational circles, died Sunday at his summer home at La Jolla, it was learned here today. Mr. Stearns had been ill with heart disease for about two months. Death came suddenly. Prof. Stearns was 74 years of age but was active until the time of his death, retiring from active professorship at Pomona College only last year. He was a graduate of Yale and also held an M. A. degree from that institution.

The body will be cremated at San Diego and memorial services will be held in Bridges Hall on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in his honor. Besides his widow, Mrs. Sophia Stearns, he leaves two sons and two daughters. The sons are Myron Stearns of New York, author, scenario writer and a contributing editor of Judge, and Seymour Stearns, recently of Chicago but now of Los Angeles. The daughters are Mrs. Elisabeth Hastings of Hollywood and Mrs. Alice de Camp of Truckee, Nev.

ROTARY CLUB PLANS CHARTER RECEPTION

BANQUET ON PROGRAM OF NEW ORGANIZATION AT ALHAMBRA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, May 26.—The Alhambra Rotary Club will receive its charter at a banquet in the Auditorium Tuesday night. Elaborate plans are being made for the affair. The charter presentation ceremonies and the balance of the program will be in charge of the Los Angeles Rotary Club which sponsored the local organization. The social features of the evening will include dancing.

Los Angeles Rotarians are expected to be present in large numbers and Rotarians from Pasadena and other cities have also made reservations, according to William J. Clark, local attorney and president of the Alhambra club.

MAN AND WOMAN EXILED AT VENICE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VENICE, May 26.—Continuing the drive against undesirables in the Canal City, Police Magistrate Willard this morning exiled Maxine Caples and Fred Norcross for six months on vagrancy charges. Norcross is the son of Mrs. Louise Norcross, and said to have caused the police no end of trouble during the last few months. His woman companion is asserted to belong to the class who gradually are being weeded out.

LONG BEACH TAKES OVER GAS SUPPLY

Pays Final $2,170,000 for Southern Counties Plant and Turns on Valves

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 26.—Long Beach is exactly $2,250,000 poorer in its cash account today by the formal transfer of the Southern Counties Gas Company's Long Beach properties which was effected this morning with the payment of the final $2,170,000 to the gas company.

The latter goes out of the local field, but retains certain service lines to Seal Beach, Wilmington and San Pedro that pass through Long Beach. Gas was turned into the city mains at 9 o'clock this morning and a crew under City Gas Engineer Burkhart closed the Southern Counties Company's valves that have supplied Long Beach with gas for a number of years.

Between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas will be taken by the city from the Jergins and Ramsey leases in Signal Hill each day, as well as some 9,000,000 cubic feet of gas which it must purchase each day from the gas company under the terms of the sale agreement. The organization maintained here by the Southern Counties Company will be kept practically intact by the city, it was said today.

Arrest Pair in Fight on Wife Theft Charges

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 26.—While scores of excited Pasadenans stood with mouths open viewing the spectacle, Morgan Wooley, 1109 Marion street, and F. O. Prince, 319 Kensington Place, clawed and scratched each other for twenty minutes at a late hour last night each endeavoring to gain possession of a pistol. Police broke up the brawl before death threats could be carried out.

In Police Court this morning, Wooley testified that he saw his wife walking down the street with Prince. He immediately became angered, he said, and assailed the man without warning. According to the court testimony, Wooley threatened Prince with death for his asserted act of "wife stealing," as he called it.

Wooley was sentenced to spend ten days in the City Jail for assault and battery and Prince was fined $25 for carrying a concealed weapon.

TRIO ARE ARRESTED AS THEFT SUSPECTS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 26. Three men giving their names as John Franston, 2743 Garnet street; Tony Aquire, 1152 South Fickett street, and Joseph Samora, 708 Banning street, all of Los Angeles, have been placed under a bond of $1000 each and lodged in the County Jail on suspicion of robbery, pending their hearing.

It is said that Franston was seen in front of a house occupied by P. J. Dunovan at 1217 East Broadway by two youths, who reported suspicious actions to neighbors.

He was taken to the local jail and, during a "sweating out" by police, implicated the other two men. Officers placed Aquire under arrest. They also obtained three grips containing watches and jewelry.

DRUGGISTS, DRAMATISTS TO CONVENE

State and National Associations Will Meet Tomorrow at Pasadena

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, May 26.—Hundreds of delegates arrived in Pasadena today and final plans for the opening of two important conventions tomorrow were made. The Drama League of America, considered the most important convention to meet in this city so far during the jubilee year, will open officially Wednesday as will also the State Druggists' Association.

Prior to the opening of the national convention, delegates of the Drama League will participate in the Little Theater conference scheduled for tomorrow at Hotel Maryland. Francis A. Nellson, national president of the league, will be unable to attend the convention, it was announced today, and in his stead, Lorado Taft, famous sculptor, will preside.

A special train of delegates from Eastern States was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco this evening and will leave for the Crown City tomorrow morning. This will be the fourteenth annual convention of the national society.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the eighteenth annual convention of the California Pharmaceutical Association tomorrow morning in the Hotel Maryland. Today the display of drugs and druggists' equipment was put in shape in the Rotary clubroom at the hotel. This will be one of the features of the convention. H. A. Dutton of Los Angeles, president of the State association, will deliver the annual address at tomorrow morning's opening session. Five hundred delegates will attend the meetings, it was announced.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BAKERSFIELD, May 26.—Five suits against the Santa Fe Railroad Company, in which damages aggregating $255,000 are asked by the plaintiffs, have been set for hearing in two departments of the local Superior Court. Damage complaints were filed against the railroad company following the wreck at Shattuck spur on December 2, 1922, when four men met their deaths after train No. 12 crashed off the main line into a spur.

The suits were filed subsequent to the trial of Jesus Medina, who was charged with tampering with the switch in such a manner as to cause the train wreck. Following the disagreement of the jury which heard the testimony during Medina's trial, the charge against him was dismissed. Within the time specified in the statute of limitations complaints were filed against the railroad company, attributing the wreck to faulty equipment and negligence. These hearings will be started on October 21 and 30, next, in Department Three before Judge Edwin W. Owen and on November 12 before Judge J. W. Mahon in Department One.

NEW BUDGET IS ELECTION BAIT

British Business Men View Document Doubtfully

Labor Government Proposal Carries No Guarantee

[SPECIAL FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, May 15.—Now that the excitement created by the new budget of Britain's Labor government has subsided, the general opinion of business men is that it is a very clever budget, wholly designed for purposes of propaganda. They consider it an electioneering budget. It gives something to every one.

It is largely a woman's budget, as it reduces the taxes on sugar, tea, coffee, cocoa and moving pictures. It throws a sop to landlords by abolishing the duty on inhabited houses, and it throws another sop to capitalists by abolishing the corporations tax.

It cannot truthfully be called a class budget. It has reduced taxation, apparently, to the extent of $200,000,000 a year, and there seems to be no doubt that it will add another million votes to the Labor party at the next general election. Such is the opinion of most British business men.

NO PROSPECT OF RELIEF

This is not at all a question of politics. In this matter of tax extortion all parties seem to be the same, and there is at present no prospect of any relief. The fiscal oppression of the rich has become a national policy. This is the fault that business men are finding with all budgets.

One-tenth of the British people are being drained of $3,000,000,000 a year. In the last ten years they have paid $30,000,000,000 to the state. The stupendous sum has been paid out of profits and out of capital. It has depleted the reserves of capital and seriously endangered the whole structure of British finance.

There are not so many rich people in Britain as there were before the war. Fortunes were made during the war, but more have been lost than made. The unsalable surplus of castles and big houses is an evidence of that.

Only 80,000 men are paying supertax. This means that only 80,000 families of 10,000,000 have a net taxable income of more than $7,000 a year. A man who has $250,000 a year in England is paying $175,000 of it in rates and taxes.

"Last year I paid away 80 per cent of my income in rates and taxes," says a London manufacturer.

MANY TAXES IN ARREAS

Taxes have been heaped up until they are uncollectable. The arrears of income tax and supertax at present amount to more than $1,000,000,000. The Labor government has served notices recently on several hundred firms demanding an immediate settlement.

The truth is, as all British business men know, that the Labor government has no intention of reducing taxation, as its central policy is the abolition of all rent, interest and profits.

The budget is no more than a very clever electioneering document to lull suspicion and prepare the way for a second Labor government which shall have enough of a majority to carry out its policies. At least this is the opinion of the average British business man.

BIDS ARE OPENED ON KLAMATH RIVER SPAN

OFFER OF PORTLAND MAN IS LOWEST; COMMISSION TO ACT JUNE 11

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—Bids for the construction of an 1140-foot bridge across the Klamath River in Southern Del Norte county, to be known as the Dr. G. H. Douglas Memorial Bridge in memory of the late Assemblyman Douglas, were opened today by the State Highway Commission. The low bidder, H. E. Doering of Portland, offered to do the work for $354,685. The engineer's estimate for the job was $422,469. There were six other bidders.

Freeman & Whiting of Fresno were the low bidders for widening and thickening three and one-half miles of highway between Redwood City and the southern boundary of San Mateo county. Their bid was $115,491 as against the engineer's estimate of $126,805.

The bids probably will be considered at the next meeting of the Highway Commission, June 11, in Sacramento.

WORK TO START SOON ON FEDERAL HOSPITAL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, May 26.—Intimation that construction will start soon on the Federal Hospital here was word received from Washington today. According to the advices, plans as accepted, will include an institution to be devoted entirely to the treatment of women, who served in the Army and Navy during the World War. This feature of the institution is in addition to the general hospital for ex-service men and, it is said, its establishment has been developed since the government bought the Ford-Craig ranch as a site. The hospital for women will be one of three maintained by the United States for the care of former service women.

WOMAN GIVES BAIL ON LIQUOR CHARGE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VENICE, May 26. — Mrs. C. A. King of Phoenix, Ariz., parked her machine in a restricted area late last night. While police were endeavoring to find the registration certificate in the machine they unearthed a pint bottle of liquor. The woman, according to police reports, denied all knowledge of the liquor when taken to police headquarters. She is at liberty under $50 bail and is scheduled to appear before Police Judge Willard Thursday afternoon.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Offerings of new-crop peaches, raisins and figs have served to stimulate the market on spot holdings of dried fruits, general improvement being noted in all lines in current trading. California prunes, which have been backward, showed evidence of real activity particularly in 30s, 40s and 60s and there was a broader demand for Oregon lines at firmer prices, particularly in 40s. The attitude of the trade has somewhat changed with report on spot offerings. The fact that new-crop raisins are offering at a discount under association quotations has had little effect on the general situation. The market continues active with supplies being absorbed as offered. The working stocks of apricots in this market are reduced to a minimum in all lines except choice. Pears are not quoted. Currants are without change.

Further recessions in Maine sardine prices which are by no means general have served to weaken the market. Quotations of $4 on keyless quarter oils are being made by several packers. The prevailing market is $4.35. Packers are not offering freely. Supplies of new-pack available are not more than sufficient to a normal demand. Other canned fish show no marked changes as to price although there is a freer movement under way in salmon and others of the more popular items. California sardines have had a fair call.

CANNED PRODUCTS

The general situation in canned vegetables shows no change of importance. Quotations are maintained on a firm basis and shortages are becoming apparent. Substitution in such lines as peas and corn, string and stringless beans continue where actual clearances make it necessary.

Stocks of canned fruits are more closely cleaned up in California than at any time for several years and desirable assortments are next to impossible. The advancing tendency of primary markets has given the local market greater strength. Apricots are firm with advances likely as stocks are reduced. Cling peaches are virtually exhausted in second and water grades.

SUGAR

An increase in crop estimates from Cuba and later further advanced by leading New York authorities operated to cause sharp declines in raw sugar. A cargo of San Domingoes for the first half of June sold to the United Kingdom at 1s 4d, cost and freight, which represents a decline of 4d from the last sale and is equivalent to 2.30 cents f.o.b. Porto Ricos were offered in the local market at 5.15 delivered for 96-test. Refiners declined to buy in view of the general weakening tendency, but operators bought 5000 bags for early June shipment at 5.15 cents. Cubas were offered at 3 3-16 cents for June and 3 3-8 cents c.a.f. for the second half.

Demand for refined sugar was noticeably absent and the lack of buying movement had a depressing effect. The general decline was from fifteen to twenty points. The Arbuckles offered refined at 6.85 cents. The Federal quoted 100-pound bags fine granulated at 6.80 cents and other grades on the basis of 6.85 cents. Atkins, McCahan, Warner and the National also dropped their price to 6.80 cents. The future sugar market showed a decline of from six to seventeen points in the trading months. March sold down to 3.12 cents; July between 3.57 and 3.37 cents, closing at 3.40. September between 3.66 and 3.52 and December 3.41 and 3.31, closing at the lower figure.

COFFEE

While the volume of coffee business was not heavy, there was considerable latent strength shown and the market advanced from twenty-nine to thirty-four points on the trading months. Exchange showed a dollar rate of 9 cents a hundred compared with 9 cents 120 on Saturday and Rio exchange on London was quoted at 6 1-16d compared with 5 29-32d on Saturday.

During the day March fluctuated between 11.35 and 11.14; July between 12.70 and 12.50; September 11.97 and 11.67 and December 11.60 and 11.35. Closing sales were made of March at 11.35, May 12.70; September, 12.94; December, 11.52 and March, 11.35.

On general lines the local tea market remains quiet, operating only on a hand-to-mouth basis, or as requirements demand. Last week, however, showed some improvement over the recent movement. The main feature of the moment is a steady and growing demand for the higher qualities, the cheaper grades being more or less neglected.

GASOLINE

The gasoline market took a decided spurt over the last week-end, according to sales managers in this territory who report a marked increase in buying due to excellent weather over Sunday. Increased demand is bound to pull the bulk market out of the doldrums in which it has been wallowing for some time. The present price of around 14½ cents is the lowest in several weeks. Much gasoline is still being offered in this delivery and the market is by no means in steady shape. Some of the Mid-Continent refiners are enjoying better demand for their gasoline.

OIL NEWS

BY ROBERT J. PRITCHARD

With officials of petroleum marketing organizations emphatic in the contention that gasoline consumption is keeping pace with production, and that gasoline stocks on hand are not out of proportion to the season, "bootleggers" in many of the independent stations of the city are selling gasoline at prices considerably under the prevailing posted quotation. Most of these price-cutters are selling their wares at 15 cents per gallon, tax paid, but in one or two cases motor fuel can be bought at 14 cents, tax paid.

Consumers are watching these signs expectantly and hopefully, remembering that the price-war of last fall was ushered in by just such tactics on the part of the little dealers who first felt the pinch of oversupply. In petroleum circles this tendency to cut prices is heavily discounted, and many economic reasons are expounded to prove that the price of gasoline cannot come down.

It is stated that the number of foreign cars in California to date this year as registered at Sacramento is close to 70,000, or more than were registered during all of last year. Added to this, the petroleum statisticians point out the phenomenal exports of gasoline which have featured the shipping reports during the last few weeks, with every prospect that as the season advances, the export business will become better.

Again it is observed that the local consumption of gasoline is steadily climbing, and that Los Angeles' proportion of gasoline consumption is increasing steadily. In this connection it is stated that Los Angeles consumed 22.9 per cent of the gasoline consumed in California in 1919, while so far during 1924 it is consuming gasoline at the rate of 35.7 per cent of the total consumption of the State.

Many marketers confidently assert that the petroleum industry is farther from a price-war today than it was three weeks ago when the hoof-and-mouth scare was at its height. In spite of this assertion, the price-cutters are operating, and many of them are selling 15-cent gasoline from one pump, and 19-cent gasoline from another.

Five New Wells

The Torrance field witnessed the completion of five new wells over the week-end, three of them being larger producers than the average.

The Superior Oil Company completed its Torrance No. 31 in the eastern part of the field at a depth of 3848, feet, getting an initial flow of 1200 barrels. The Superior also brought in its Torrance No. 26, offsetting the Consolidated Mutual Oakley No. 1, the eastern outpost of the field. The No. 26 was drilled to 3825 feet, but was wet, and after plugging back to 3800, was placed on the beam, with a production of 160 barrels per day.

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company brought in its Torrance No. 56, getting 1085 barrels per day from a depth of 3680 feet. No. 56 is in the southwestern district, offsetting the Fullerton Oil Company's Cotton-Fee No. 1.

E. J. Miley completed his Torrance No. 5, getting 850 barrels per day from a depth of 3557 feet. This well is on the east side.

The Standard Oil Company got a small pumper in the Ellingwood No. 1, offsetting the DeLamo No. 12, of the Chanslor-Canfield interests. The Ellingwood was brought in from 3625 feet, doing 115 barrels per day.

Drill East Well

The farthest east well of the Domingues field is being started by the Superior Oil Company on the Carpenter lease, according to field reports. The Superior has built a rig on this lease and will start drilling immediately, it is said. The Carpenter is east of the Shell company's Childs No. 1 well.

According to officials of the Shell company, cable tools are rigged in the Childs derrick to continue the attempt to extract tools lost in the hole at 3690 feet.

Finish Fishing Job

The California Drilling Company has completed a long and complicated fishing job on the Regina Judd No. 2 in the Signal Hill field near the Milk Sanatorium, officials report. More than 4000 feet of four-inch drill pipe was dropped in the well and required two weeks to extract it. The hole is now down 4200 feet, and casing will be set some time this week, it is said.

Swab Hellman Well

The Union Oil Company has failed to put the Hellman No. 4 on production, although the well has been swabbed for a week, according to official reports. The hole is down 3787 feet, and is much shallower than the other wells in this field. For this reason it is expected that the well may have to be deepened before it is brought in.

Wildcat New Area

The Pacific Coast Petroleum Corporation, headed by W. E. Funkhouser of Long Beach, and largely financed by Long Beach capital, spudded in its wildcat well near Oceanside last Sunday afternoon, the affair being made a matter of community festivity. A bottle of crude oil was used to christen the project and a large crowd attended the event. The company has about 2000 acres in this district under lease, the well being located on the Dunn Dome.

May Get Well

The Holly Development Company is reported to feel certain that it will be able to place on commercial production its wildcat well near Lois, in the Porterville district, in which oil sand was reached a few days ago.

According to William Kemmerer, superintendent for the company, there are about 450 feet of oil standing in the hole. He is reported to have stated that the oil sand runs from a depth of 906 feet to 1035 feet and is 129 feet thick.

Robert Fife, driller for the Holly Development Company, believes that a thirty-five-barrel well has been struck at the 1068-foot level. He expects a 150-barrel well at 1140 feet.

His analysis shows a base of 18 per cent paraffine, 2 per cent asphaltum and 10 per cent coal oil. Fife declared this is of the same kind as found in one section in Pennsylvania. A 150-barrel well would mean $600 per day at present prices. This is asserted to be the only well yielding oil of that grade in California.

Changes in Personnel

The following organization alteration in the St. Helens Petroleum Company, Ltd., St. Helens Riverside Properties, and Kern River Oilfields of California, Ltd., have just been announced by W. W. Orcutt, chairman of the management committee:

Roscoe W. Stephens, vice-chairman of the management committee; Charles Drader, general manager; A. P. McEachern, Los Angeles, secretary; W. H. Cowle, assistant superintendent of the Bakersfield properties.

WEEKLY COPPER MINING REVIEW

European Liquidation Keeps Price Under 13 Cents

Effort to Limit Production Not Very Successful

Mines Operating but Present Profits Are Small

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS, Editor "Arizona Mining Journal"

The fact that the liquidation of copper stocks held in Europe has depressed the price during the past couple of weeks to a point under 13 cents leads one to wonder just how much of the recent shipments of copper to European points has been for actual consumption and how much for speculation. This copper if held in stock is not counted in the surplus shown on the 1st inst., as 321,000,000 pounds, yet it is really a surplus and has all of the effects of a surplus on the market price.

During the past several months considerable copper has been going abroad and this has made the sales of this country sufficiently large so that each month has shown a greater consumption than production and a consequent decrease in the surplus but if the amount being held in Europe in stock is at all large it really means no actual decrease in surplus.

While the effort to curtail copper production in several of the larger mines in this country, notably in the Anaconda group, has been partially successful it has not been entirely so. The idea of curtailing production was in order to further eliminate the surplus and to get the copper price up to a point where the copper producers could make an adequate interest on their investment which could not be done as long as production exceeded consumption.

The curtailment has been partially offset by increases in production in some of the mines who could only see that a greater production would give them lower costs per pound. Moreover, there has been another effect on the mines that have curtailed and that is that the curtailment and cutting have served to so increase the efficiency that practically as much copper has been produced with less labor or in less time than previously.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

No great improvement can be anticipated in the copper situation just as long as some of the larger copper interests are fighting for the market and underbidding for the sale of copper and we can expect even lower prices just as long as the competing interests are able to supply the demand.

There is but one thing that can come to the rescue and break up the fight and that is a demand exceeding the ability to supply. It is generally felt that Europe offers the greatest hope of this happening but even this might be less effective if any great quantity of copper is in the hands of European brokers as seems to be indicated by the larger shipments abroad during the past month.

Another way of bringing about this condition is by curtailing production. The offense cannot be expected to do this and the defense is not finding this a good weapon, for tightening up has the effect of increasing efficiency and not lessening production as much as anticipated.

PRODUCTION MAINTAINED

It is probable that the general slump in business the past month, the usual forerunner of national elections, has had something to do with the drop in price of copper during the past two weeks, all of which indicates that a material increase in the price of copper cannot be expected before fall. There are no indications, however, of any properties shutting down.

The general situation is this, the mines are running well, producing an unprecedented amount of copper for peace time, spending as much money and employing as much labor as ever, selling more copper than ever before but at a price which does not offer an adequate return on the money invested. The public in general or the merchants, who sell to the mines, are not suffering from the situation but the stockholder is badly affected and much ore is merely being converted into money with no profit which might be held until a later date and profitably handled. The miner is also affected because his compensation depends, to a considerable extent, upon the price of copper.

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND (O.) May 26.—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Good pig iron buying at prevailing prices continues feature of New York market, with sales aggregating fifteen tons and pending inquiry fully as much more. Buyers of Buffalo iron are able to cover at minimum of $19.50 in Heller market. Youngstown district steel sheet and bar mill activities expand slightly, but blast furnace output is further restricted. Southern makers of sell pigs agree to readjustment of freight rates to all consuming points. Copper is firmer at New York at 13¾ cents. Lead is firmer at 6¾ cents and zinc strongest at $6.60@6.70 St. Louis. Tin rises to 41 cents on London's recovery."

DAILY TRADE TALK

"I Told You So's" Have the Floor; Favorable Factors and Others; Markets Retain Composure

The "I told you so's" are in their element in Los Angeles at this present, but curiously enough they controvert the generally accepted theory that it is impossible for a given object to occupy more than one place at the same time.

One school of "I told you so's" is chortling that the long expected business depression is here. These march their army of glooms in solid phalanx up the hill and then march them down again. The other school points to the fact that the "depression" has come and is already on its way, leaving little more than a trace of its effect upon the community. "I told you so," they say. "I told you it wouldn't last and that it wouldn't amount to much."

The truth lies somewhere between these outposts. Conditions are not as good as they were, and they are better than forecasters a couple of months ago said they would be at this time.

The real estate situation, which is perhaps the keystone of the arch, is already adjusting itself. The County Assessor's files are said to contain records of $4,000 new lots subdivided in Los Angeles county during the past year, but to offset these figures 125,600 new buildings have been constructed, leaving about 40,000 fewer vacant lots than there were a year ago.

JUST A BREATHING SPELL

Daum's Financial Comment says that Los Angeles is taking a very natural breathing spell after a period of high pressure activity in every field of endeavor except the financing of industries and industrial development wherefore it is argued "the problem that confronts Los Angeles is to supply people with steady incomes from employment so that they can rent or purchase the 125,600 structures erected during the year.

The gloom "I told you so's" base their findings upon comparisons with 1923, which was a boom year, while at no time have there been grounds for expectation of boom business in 1924, but on the other hand there have been and there continues to be adequate reasons for an expectation of a fair volume of business and reasonable profits for those who know how to make them when competition is keen. Looking at the situation from the point of view on the Atlantic seaboard the New York National Bank of Commerce says:

"It is true that buyers of all classes of goods are hesitant, advance orders are small and most industries are well below capacity. There has been some increase in unemployment. Even in industries in which there has been no marked curtailment of operations, great sales resistance is met, selling costs are high in consequence, and profits are hard to make.

FAVORABLE FACTORS

"Despite these unquestioned evidences of a slowing down, there has been no change since the beginning of the year in the fundamental factors underlying business. At that time those generally recognized as favorable were:

"Expectation of fairly stable prices.

"Reasonable stocks of goods.

"Continuance of foreign trade in fair volume, probably at not far from the levels of 1923.

"Full employment, due in considerable part to an active building and construction program, continued improvement and expansion of railroad facilities, and a high rate of automobile output, with consequent stimulation of subsidiary and allied industries.

"The factors generally recognized as adverse were:

"Unsatisfactory agricultural situation.

"Overbuilt industries.

"Little likelihood of any material expansion of foreign markets, either for farm products and raw materials or for manufactures.

"Heavy public expenditures and high taxes.

"Unsettling effects of political agitation.

"Money is amply available and rates are lower than at the beginning of the year. Although much emphasis is placed on recent price declines, the index number prepared by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics for April was 148, compared with 151 in December, 1923, a decline of 3 per cent. Comparing April, 1924 with April, 1923, the decline was 7 per cent. Other index numbers show similar results."

PURCHASING RECORD

The Credit Clearinghouse report for the week shows that on the Pacific Coast, California and Oregon have purchased less than in the preceding week, while Washington has purchased more. For the whole country there is a slight decrease in purchasing equal to 1.2 per cent. Colorado shows an increase of 5.3 per cent. The middle agricultural section has an increase of .6 per cent; the south agricultural, a decrease of .4 per cent; the Pacific Coast a decrease of 1.2 per cent, the north agricultural a decrease of 2.6 per cent, while the eastern section records a decrease of 3 per cent.

Marketwise the bonus episode provides reasonably convincing proof that the public mind is not seriously apprehensive over the perplexing business situation or even the perplexing political situation. The basis for such composure concerning the business outook probably is that the present curtailment of production represents correction of a maladjusted position; that it is not a result of suddenly reduced consumption; that, on the contrary, distribution and consumption of goods, although less than a year ago, are of more than usual magnitude; that stocks of goods in merchants' hands are light, and that the situation is therefore exceptionally free from the customary dangers of a trade reaction. The basis for the attitude of calmness toward the political outlook probably is the striking lack, either in the primary voting or in the preliminary political decisions of a drift away from conservative conditions and principles.

The fact that the markets are not seriously disturbed about the industrial or political future does not necessarily mean that they are confident of an early turn for the better. Nobody professes ability to see ahead with any great clearness. Usually restoration of the balance between supply and balance in general trade is foreshadowed in the steel industry; but last week's trade estimates were that the mills had reduced their output 5 per cent from the week before and 10 per cent from the first week of May. The Federal Reserve Board's latest "index of production" in all basic industries was 16 per cent above the 1919 averages and exceeded that of all other corresponding dates since war time, except for 1923, but it was down 3 1-4 per cent from the earlier months of 1914 and would undoubtedly be lower today.

The average of American commodity prices stood last week at the year's lowest and more than 6 per cent below the high point of February. The decline, so far as it affected manufactured products, has reflected the high rate of production earlier in the year and in the consumers' policy of placing orders only for immediate requirements; but the point is, that no change in the equilibrium of the markets is yet indicated.

MOODY'S REVIEW

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions in its current issue says in part:

"The passage of the bonus bill over the President's veto although pretty generally anticipated may prove rather disturbing to business. Financially, however, the result seems to be dullness rather than liquidation.

"Politics itself has taken rather a new turn. The President's lack of influence over Congress must hurt him somewhat in the popular esteem. Yet because of the drift toward conservatism in the opposition party, the dangers to business appear to be either unchanged or else diminishing.

"Presidential elections have little or no traceable influence upon the bond market. About the only special feature of election years proves to be a summer reaction in bond prices; and a like summer reaction occurs in such a majority of other years that perhaps this feature is merely coincidence.

"The New York money market, including all types of bank loans, is now down around a 4.10 basis, and this compares with 5.24 per cent in September, 1923. How bond prices will respond when the Autumn trade comes on and money begins to grow firmer is a practical question.

"In the past, however, bond prices have often continued moving upward from five to fifteen months after the money market began to harden. The question is, how interest rates compare with bond yields."

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS

Top points? Codfish? Underwear? Hardware? Windmills? Shoes? Electrical supplies? Anything?

The world's reliance on American producers for the repletion of their store of everyday necessaries is reflected in the great range of commodities which thirty-six countries want to buy in the United States this week. Requests for our goods have reached the Department of Commerce from the four geographical divisions of the earth.

If you manufacture iron points for spinning tops the department will furnish you with the name and pertinent commercial intelligence on the person who has inquired for their purchase in Canada. If your line is Dolphin hides, an opportunity for the sale awaits in Germany. If your specialty is insecticides and fungicides, the department will advise you of the person in Poland who has inquired for the purchase of those articles.

BUOYANT TONE IN COTTON FUTURES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Spot cotton closed at $2.76, 15 points net higher.

Cotton futures were firm to strong today, new crop positions at one time being up some $3.50 a bale, but reacting in the late trading so that October's net gain was under $2.50 and July's much less. All options advanced to new high levels for the movement under the new crop months' leadership, despite heavy profit taking by recent speculative buyers. At the close old crop months showed betterment on a par with the others. The advance in July was halted around the 30-cent level where heavy selling orders came into the market.

Fins' prices were 10 points net higher for this position, 45 points up on October, 44 on December and 47 on January.

CAL PETE HOLDS SOUND POSITION

Statement Shows Storage of Low-Priced Crude

Surplus Account Gains Three Millions in Year

Municipal Bonds Offered; Business News

First-quarter operations of the California Petroleum Corporation are illustrative of far-sighted policy pursued during the era of overproduction by the larger companies in this State. On first examination the earnings shown in the statement for the first three months of 1924, released yesterday by Jacques Weinberger, chairman of the executive committee, do not offer a favorable comparison with the same period of 1923, but when paper profits on oil in storage are included, the company displays an enviable financial position.

The statement shows that 4,303,553 barrels of oil are carried in storage at a cost of $2,901,417.53, or approximately 67 cents per barrel. If sold on the present market at about $1.10 per barrel, a profit of $1,831,423.78 would accrue, or an amount sufficient to better the first-quarter earnings in the last year when the full year's dividends on the common stock were earned in the first three months.

Without the inclusion of the potential profit on oil in storage, the quarterly report shows a balance after the payment of dividends and an appropriation for redemption of preferred stock and bonds of $505,267.36, which is a decrease of 68 per cent from the same period of 1923.

After the payment of dividends on the preferred shares, but before common stock distributions, the corporation earned the equivalent of $1.14 on the outstanding common stock of $25 par value. This compared with $2.73 for last year, and is at the rate of nearly $5 for the year. The annual dividend requirements on the common stock are $1.75 per share.

Gross earnings totaled $4,912,-980.22, a loss of 7 per cent from the first-quarter of last year. Operating expenses increased as compared with 1923, the total jumping to $3,532,749.52, a gain of 9 per cent. Interest and amortization of discount on bonds increased from $11,866.50 to $149,218.77.

MUNICIPAL BONDS

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank and the Anglo California Trust Company have purchased $3,000,000 city of Los Angeles Waterworks 4 3-4 per cent bonds maturing serially from 1927 to 1964, inclusive, and are offering them at prices to yield from 4.40 to 4.55 per cent, according to maturity.

Blair & Co. Inc., is offering $2,000,000 City of St. Louis Public Buildings and Improvement 4 1-2 per cent gold bonds, due 1929-44 on a basis to yield from 4.15 to 4.29 per cent. The bonds are the direct obligation of the city of St. Louis and bear the regular tax-exempt features.

Grain Traders Expect Larger Export Orders

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 26. — Readjustment between American and foreign wheat markets is being rapidly completed, and American prices were regarded as more in line for export business at the close today than at any time in months. Requests for overnight offers of hard winters were received during the day by local houses and it would be no surprise if some business resulted. Wheat here was ¾@⅞c higher at the last, with Winnipeg up ¾ cent as compared with Friday. May in this latter market brings 1½ cents over Chicago, while July was ¼ cent under.

Corn was easier early, but turned very strong later on the covering of a large line of September, presumably for a local cash interest which has been talking very bearish of late. Not gains were ⅛@1¼c, with September leading. Oats were ⅛@⅜c higher and rye ⅛@⅝c higher.

Winnipeg wheat showed pronounced strength, being easier at the start on sales in Alberta and corresponding cables from Liverpool, the latter being off ¾d, but exporters quickly absorbed the surplus in the pit and an advance of 2 cents from the inside figures followed, with the finish on a moderate reaction. July at 1.00 was the highest since March 12, closing at 1.00⅝@1.00¾, with May 1.06⅝, and September 1.04⅝.

Export demand for Manitobas at the seaboard was slow, with sales of 200,000 to 250,000 bushels reported.

Bulge in September corn was regarded as due largely to covering by a local interest, although many thought it was due to eastern operators. May finished at 73¾, July at 77⅜ and September at 77¼@77⅝. Cold weather continues over the West and is bringing further claims of replanting of the new crop being necessary. Modern demand for cash corn was again slow, and the basis on spot was easier. A local industry is bringing down 150,000 bushels of No. 2 from Duluth. Arrivals were 213 cars. In the visible supply there was a decrease of 1,914,000 bushels, making the total 13,253,000 bushels, against 9,264,000 bushels last year.

Oats showed more activity and averaged higher with other grains, but failed to maintain the best prices. Cutting of the new crop was reported as having started around San Antonio, Tex., the new grain is expected to be available within a few days in that section, and visible supply decreased 1,802,000 bushels for the week, which is 7,300,000 bushels, or half of what it was a year ago.

Rye was dull, but firmer with wheat. Foreign demand is still low and the visible supply is extremely large for this season, which offsets the prospect of a better German demand in the near future.

WOOL MARKET ACTIVE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, May 26.—The market has remained active, with prices on domestic wool somewhat nominal. Foreign wools, however, are quite strong. Some of the leading houses say that a slightly lower volume of these wools has moved during the last week. The stocks available here are extremely lighter in many lines, some of the houses being practically sold up.

AUTO BUILDER REAL OPTIMIST

Clouds Only Stimulate His Confidence in Future

Saturation Point Seems to be Far in Future

Foreign Demand Expected to Take Up the Slack

BY GLENN GRISWOLD

CHICAGO, May 26.—The most incorrigible optimist in the world is the automobile builder. He may be said to have an optimism complex. Today he will admit all the obvious ills of his business and he remains an optimist. He resembles nothing more closely than a native son of Los Angeles.

Automobile sales have slumped, collections have congested somewhat, production schedules have been curtailed, stocks are accumulating, used cars are a growing problem and prices must be raised to compensate for benefits of mass production now lost through curtailment. Yet the motor builder, tried as he is, smiled and is honestly optimistic.

And he may fool us again. We have heard of the saturation point for ten years and the only thing we know about it is that it is not here yet, nor in sight.

The world motor transport congress which just closed its session in Detroit afforded splendid opportunity to measure the minds and test the spirit of motor builders. It was largely attended by western men and by foreigners. These two got together and out of the contact came the greatest assurances of American builders.

ONE TO FIVE

None were to be found who did not believe that this country can and will support at least one automobile for every group of five persons or considerably in excess of 20,000,000 automobiles. Greatest hope beckons from abroad, however. It is pointed out that the time when overseas makers can compete successfully, the world around, with American makers is apparently as far in the future as ever.

Of the 18,000,000 automobiles in use in the world today more than 15,000,000, or about 83 per cent, are in use in this country. The American maker refuses to believe that motor transport cannot be developed abroad in comparative proportions as he refuses to believe that American superiority in this business is not overwhelming.

It is to foreign markets, then, that American builders look for the business to permit them soon to use all the capacity they have provided and to expand it. The removal of the import duty on automobiles by England is expected to prove a great benefit to Americans. The only division in which they cannot as yet compete is with the little French runabout built on motorcycle lines, having small engine displacement and consequently bearing a small tax. This business they propose to invade.

What is more important is the announcement of a German delegation to the congress that the country will turn toward the British free trade policy and one of the first steps in this direction will be the removal of the embargo against automobiles and the admission of them duty free.

Delegates from South Africa pointed out that Americans have great possibilities for developing a motor market in that country. At this time 90 per cent of the automobiles owned in South Africa are American, as are 65 per cent of the motorcycles. The great problem there is gasoline. The supply is largely American but the stuff retails for about 60 cents a gallon. If Americans can devise some way of furnishing the country with cheaper gasoline the motor sales possibilities of the country are almost unlimited.

TWENTY MILLION CARS

Even the government confesses a most hopeful view of the automobile business. Representatives of the Bureau of Highways report that government plans for roads built in co-operation with the States contemplate a registration of 20,000,000 cars in the near future.

A factor which goes far toward answering the used-car problem and promises much in itself is the rate at which cars are being junked. Last year there were scrapped 1,010,526 cars, which is 300,000 more than in any previous year and more than double the number discarded in any year prior to 1922. In fact, there have been discarded in the last eleven years but 7,859,901 cars, of which more than 25 per cent were disposed of in 1923.

No automobile maker is doing as well as he had expected to be doing at this time and none is satisfied with the present volume of business. A few are in real distress, but in most cases this distress could have been foretold a year ago. The trade as a whole, however, has as much faith in the business as ever and is prepared to do battle with any who believe that it is on the decline.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Steady Prices

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Bond prices displayed a strong undertone in today's uneven trading, although the unexpected rise in call money to 4½ per cent late in the day caused recessions in Liberty and investment railroad issues which cancelled earlier gains.

Curious cross currents marked the course of trading in the railroad list. New high levels for the year were established by some of the less active issues, including Rock Island 4½s, Denver and Rio Grande 4½s and Wabash second 5s, the latter at one time selling 3½ points higher. Wabash first 5s, however, lost more than a point. A court order directing payment of the bond interest contributed to the strength of Denver & Rio Grande bonds.

An unexpected decline in April earnings of the St. Paul Railroad, revealing an operating deficit for the month, contributed to the weakness of the road's issues, which moved counter to the general trend in yielding 1 to 2 points. Norfolk & Western 6s, and "Katy" obligations were strong, but bonds of the other roads, including Southern Railway, eased off at the close.

The lively demand for new railroad issues of last week brought indications that a larger volume of this type of securities would be sold this week. The first to appear in the market is the "Big Four" Railroad, which will sell tomorrow through a syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan, $20,000,000 refunding and improvement 5s at 94½ to yield 5.22 per cent. The bonds mature in 1963.

Wall street heard today that Brazil might take steps shortly to retire its $39,000,000 7½ per cent coffee security loan sold in 1922. An unusual feature of bond trading today was the sale of a block of Mexican government 5 per cent assented bonds for the first time this year at 33 1-4, representing a net loss of 13 5-8 points.

CRUDE RUBBER MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 26.—Dealers and importers in the local rubber market reported little activity at the opening, most of the quotations being nominal. The market held fairly firm at the close of the day, although the buying demand which developed after the last week's drastic slump in prices, appeared to have been temporarily satisfied. Spot ribbed smoked sheet which was down to 19¾ cents last week was quoted today at 19¾ cents per pound; brown crepe in thin, clean sheets was quoted at 18¾ cents per pound. Amber No. 1 at 19 cents and fine spriver Para at 19¾ cents.

DOES IT PAY?

FOR the sake of obtaining a slightly higher yield, perhaps a fraction of one per cent, many people buy securities which cause them constant anxiety.

And when anything happens to call for liquidation of their estates, the usual serious losses are experienced.

Before accepting the hazards which are inevitable when buying for yield rather than for safety, the investor should frankly face the question: DOES IT PAY?

He should then consider this: That it is possible to obtain an absolutely safe, non-fluctuating investment which will yield 6%, free from all California taxes, and free from interest losses and uncertainties of any kind; a guaranteed investment which will enable him to have a perfectly free mind at all times—all of which DOES pay.

Exactly such an investment is to be had in our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates. May we send you a descriptive booklet?

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Inquiry for stocks was light yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and the general list moved in an aimless manner. Los Angeles Investment, for the first time in several weeks, was inactive although the price level held steady in the few transactions that were executed.

United States Royalties resisted selling pressure and closed off only ½ cent from Saturday at 12½. Union Oil of California sold unchanged at 123 3-4, while Standard Oil of California declined 5-8 to 57½. Shell Union lost 1-4 at 17 1-4 and Julian Petroleum preferred dropped the same amount to 24 5-8.

Richmond Consolidated and Tom Reed were the only active stocks in the mining list. The former opened at 20 and at the finish was selling at 19 cents. Tom Reed traded around 35 cents.

Investors took a large block of Associated Oil 6s of 1935 at 99. Los Angeles Railway 5s of 1940 sold up 1-4 to 78 1-4 with Pacific Electric 5s of 1942 travelling the same distance to 86. Southern California Telephone 5s of 1947 also advanced 1-4 to 93 3-4.

JUSTICE COURTROOM ASSURED IN POMONA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, May 26.—A justice courtroom for San Jose township in which Justice U. E. White may conduct court is assured by the announcement that two rooms in the Union Block have been leased by the county for this purpose. Seats from the old Los Angeles county courthouse, now being replaced by a new structure, are to be used in equipping the courtroom here and a judge's bench will either be brought out from the old courthouse or will be built here, Justice White said today.

ANOTHER FINE IN OFFING

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, May 26.—Having last week paid two fines of $200 each for having sold liquor, Tony Macchia is under arrest again today charged with having liquor in his possession. His wife also is held to answer to a charge of having sold wine. Rocco Carrafa was fined $300 for being unlawfully in possession of wine.

FOREVER SEALED TO REST UNDISTURBED

Crypt Entombment in Reinforced Concrete, Faced With Marble, Provided by California Mausoleum Co.

Those whose thoughtfulness and consideration for their beloved dead have led them to lay their departed away in the beautiful Mausoleums in Inglewood and Hollywood Cemeteries have the intense satisfaction of knowing that as much as can be done has been done to perpetuate the inviolability of the deceased.

Individually entombed in solid reinforced concrete, faced with marble, in a structure designed to endure and grow more beautiful with age, bodies laid away under such conditions are inviolate. Perpetual endowment for maintenance of dignified and tasteful surroundings completes the imposed trust, so far as human hands and hearts can provide.

Whoever has seen a deserted graveyard or one that has been surrounded by a city's noisy growth, can appreciate the advantages, to the living, as well as the dead, of the methods provided by the California Mausoleum Company in its two chaste "Chaste Temples of the Dead"—and will respect them. They are not for the rich only—crypts may be had for little more than ordinary burial would cost. Telephone MAin 1534 for the beautiful booklet issued by the Company, wherein by word and picture the details of the Mausoleum idea are explained. The offices of the Company are at 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th St.—[Advertisement.

WOMEN'S CLUB HEAD ARRIVES

Mrs. Winter Comes Early to Federation Meeting

Will be Guest Tomorrow at Dinner in Pasadena

Notable Record Made While Organization Chief

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. Thomas Gerald Winter, who is chief of 2,500,000 women has come to the Southland to preside at the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which begins its sessions a week from today in this city, arrived in Pasadena Sunday and will rest quietly in the Crown City for several days.

Monday she will be guest of honor at a dinner at the Hotel Maryland, when a few of her close friends will gather to talk over the coming gathering.

Mrs. Winter is closing four years of service as president and, under the constitution of the federation, is not eligible for re-election. To her high office Mrs. Winter has added honor and increased power and service in marked degree. When she became president the federation had 3000 clubs, with a total membership of 300,000. Today it has 8000 clubs and a membership of nearly 2,000,000, with clubs in forty-one different countries of the world. These are more closely integrated than they have ever been, due in great part to the leadership of Mrs. Winter.

Under Mrs. Winter's consistent and wise guidance American club women have made their influence felt against child labor and illiteracy, in behalf of improved industrial conditions for women who work, as well as for wider American citizenship, law obedience and enlightened, vigilant citizenship and more particularly international peace. This latter has been always Mrs. Winter's prime motive in all her work. She was chosen by President Harding as a member of the committee for the disarmament conference.

This forceful woman has put her many appeals to go into political and public life. She states that she will devote herself to literary work. She has just accepted a position on a monthly magazine of prominence.

Former Bank Clerk Theft Suspect Thanks 'Times'

Letters of thanks to The Times, Sheriff Traeger, Keyes and Sheriff Traeger for the investigation, which cleared him of complicity in the robbery of the First National Bank of Arcadia, were dispatched yesterday by Salvador Mendivil, who was pardoned by Gov. Richardson.

"The article impressed on my mind," Mendivil wrote to The Times, "are the magnificent attributes of justice and fairness, which predominate in this glorious country and in the dispensing of which, in my behalf, your paper took such an active and leading part."

MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

An unidentified Mexican was killed and injured last night when he was run down by a Southern Pacific locomotive at North Main and Alameda streets crossing. The body was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found he had suffered the loss of a leg and an arm and other injuries. According to Herbert Guthman of 347 Robinson street, a witness to the accident, the man walked in front of the incoming train apparently without seeing it.

CITY'S LIQUOR LAW UPHELD

Supreme Court Rules Physicians Must be Guided by Gandier Ordinance in Prescribing

The right of the city of Los Angeles to exercise its police power in limiting the amount of liquor that a physician may prescribe for a patient was upheld, in effect, by a decision of the United States Supreme Court yesterday.

The effects of the decision establish the right of municipalities to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor on physicians' prescriptions. The opinion, by Justice McReynolds, stated that "neither the Eighteenth Amendment nor the Volstead Act grants the right to prescribe intoxicating liquor within a state."

Frank W. Hixson, Los Angeles druggist, during the city ordinance, which banned the ordinance was invalid under the Eighteenth Amendment as construed by the Volstead law, druggists were refused to deliver one pint of intoxicating liquor on a physician's prescription.

"No state law or municipal ordinance which would restrict this right would, Hixson asserted, deprive him of his constitutional rights under the Fourteenth Amendment which guarantees all citizens equal protection of the law and protected them from being deprived of any of their rights without due process of law."

Referring to the suggestion that under the Volstead Act, "property right or privilege is protected by the Fourteenth Amendment," and that such rights "may not be abridged by state or municipality," Justice McReynolds stated that "Hixson has failed to raise any substantial question."

"There is nothing in that (Volstead) which lends color," the court continued, "to the suggestion that druggists with the proper permit may not dispense liquors."

The Prosecutor Friedlander, who fought the case through the high tribunals of the State and nation during the past seven years, stated yesterday that the decision was a gratifying victory for his department, as the Gandier ordinance, the law in question, will continue to be enforced. The Gandier ordinance limits the amount obtainable on a physician's prescription to eight ounces. The Volstead Act permits sixteen ounces to be prescribed.

The case originated three years ago when a number of physicians were arrested for asserted violation of the Gandier ordinance. They were convicted, and the case was taken to the Superior Court. There the conviction was upheld, and the question went successively to the State Court of Appeals, the State Supreme Court and lastly, the United States Supreme Court.

The Retail Druggists Association, according to Mr. Friedlander, took a hand in fighting the case, and was represented in Washington by an attorney. Attorney Ray Nimmo of Los Angeles was at the bar for the defendants.

The contention, as set forth by Mr. Friedlander, was that as alcohol contains certain dangerous elements, it should be subject to regulation under police statutes.

The physicians and druggists contended that, as the life of the patient is in the hands of the physician, he alone is qualified to say how much alcohol that person should be entitled to have.

It was conceded by the prosecutor that alcohol has some therapeutic value, but he contended that supervision should be exercised over its use.

The decision will have a far-reaching effect, according to Mr. Friedlander, as a large number of States have had the same condition to contend with. Among others, there have been decisions in Montana and New York which declared that portion of the Volstead Act limiting prescriptions to be unconstitutional. The decision of the Supreme Court will act to overrule these cases.

ARBUCKLE TO APPEAR ON STAGE

Former Comedian Will be on Pantages Circuit; to be Here Soon

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, former film and stage comedian, yesterday attached his signature to a contract calling for a year's tour of the Pantages circuit and expects to make his bow to local theater patrons some time next month.

This announcement was made yesterday by Alexander Pantages, who launched the famous comedian on his stage career twenty-one years ago when Arbuckle appeared in a Seattle theater with a blackface monologue act.

Mr. Pantages stated that Arbuckle will open his tour in San Francisco June 6 and appear in Los Angeles probably two weeks later.

"At that time Mr. Arbuckle had a fine tenor voice," Mr. Pantages stated last night, when he recalled the comedian's first appearance, "and his act made a hit wherever he went. For sentimental reasons I would like to see him use his old monologue in this tour, although it hasn't been decided whether he will use it or not, as it calls for a black make-up."

Arbuckle retired from pictures in September, 1921, following the death of Virginia Rappe, a moving-picture actress, after a drinking party at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, at which he was present. A murder charge was filed against him and later the grand jury returned an indictment charging manslaughter. He was tried three times on this charge, the first two trials resulting in disagreements, the last trial in his acquittal.

Although he was reinstated to the screen by Will Hays in 1922 protests from women's clubs and other organizations were so insistent that he decided to withdraw. After directing four or five comedies he entered into an engagement as entertainer of a Chicago cafe in May, 1923.

SEE WHITEWASH IN TIMME QUIZ

State Narcotic Inspectors Issue Statement

Question Faith of Medical Men's Investigation

Cite Fact Chairman is Former Associate of Accused

A battle between the State Board of Pharmacy and the County Medical Association loomed last night when inspectors of the State board issuer a statement labeling as a "whitewash" the naming of a committee appointed by the medical association to investigate Dr. Arthur Timme, physician, who was recently arrested for asserted violation of the narcotic laws.

The statement from State Narcotic Inspectors Earl and Roberts was forthcoming when they learned that Dr. Ross Moore, also well known in medical circles, had been appointed as chairman of the investigating committee.

"Dr. Ross Moore has offices adjoining Dr. Timme in the Brockman Building, and was associated with him in conducting a sanatorium-hotel in South Pasadena that was raided by the authorities of that city," declared the inspectors in their statement. "We do not believe that Dr. Moore should be appointed as the head of the investigating committee; it looks like a whitewash to us."

TRIAL SET FOR TODAY

Dr. Timme is scheduled to come in Police Judge Frederickson's court today at 10 a.m. on a charge of having furnished narcotics to known addicts. He was arrested in his office on April 1, last.

"In 1923," declared Inspectors Earl and Roberts, "Dr. Timme was associated with Dr. Moore in the operation of an institution in South Pasadena that was known as the Hillside Hotel. A permit to operate the place as a sanatorium was refused. However, it was kept open, using a hotel register and running under that plan. The South Pasadena authorities learned that nurses were employed in the place, although they did not wear uniforms. Later the police learned that a case of contagious disease had been brought to the 'hotel' from Long Beach and a raid followed. Dr. Moore was arrested and fined $100 for violation of a South Pasadena ordinance."

BELITTLES SUSPICIONS

Dr. Kiger, president of the County Medical Association, confirmed the inspectors' statement last night that he had appointed Dr Moore chairman of the investigating committee, but declared that he believed the inspectors' suspicions unfounded.

"I am sure that no thought was given to the aspect presented by them," he declared. "In any event, the committee has only the power to report back to the association as a whole for further action. In case of an unfavorable report, steps might be taken to have the accused ejected from the association."

"There's just barely enough truth in the charges of the State inspectors to make it look bad," declared Dr. Moore warmly last night, when he had been informed of the statement issued by Earl and Roberts.

"As a matter of fact, I knew nothing about the appointment until I received a letter to that effect. It was because I knew Dr. Timme, though I was not connected with him in any way, that I was appointed to carry on the investigation, I understand.

ADMITS ASSOCIATION

"Dr. Timme, during 1921 and 1922 was my assistant. After that he established an office for himself in Pasadena. As he was trying hard to get along, I left him rent free, use a room adjoining my office in the Brockman Building.

"As to the charges about the Pasadena hotel, the place was in reality operated by a woman that I knew. Neighbors were hostile

DEATH-BED WILL ATTACKED

Man Saying He Is Old Friend of Dr. Ruggles Seeks Control of $750,000; Coercion Hinted

A death-bed will executed by Dr. Georgia S. Ruggles, 404 South Irving Boulevard, who leaves an estate valued in excess of $750,000, will become the subject of court controversy today through the action taken by Henry Barkschat, president of the Marbelite Corporation, who says he is an old friend of Dr. Ruggles.

Dr. Ruggles died last Friday, embolism being given as the cause, and the body is now at Pierce Brothers' undertaking parlors. Dr. Ruggles was 74 years of age.

The death-bed will was executed April 28 last, and was offered for probate yesterday afternoon by Attorneys Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher, acting for Richard Nevins and Harry B. Lamport, bond salesmen, who are named as executors.

DRUG INFLUENCE?

Mr. Barkschat, who estimates his own fortune at about $500,000, filed a petition yesterday to be appointed special administrator of the Dr. Ruggles estate. He retained Attorneys Francis D. Adams and Earl Curtis Peck, and Judge Willis will hear the petition at 2 p.m. today.

The last will made by Dr. Ruggles, Mr. Barkschat says, was on August 1, 1923, under which the Guarantee Trust Company of New York was appointed executor and trustee of a large portion of the estate. The petition states that she attempted to make a subsequent will while on her death bed (referring to the one filed for probate yesterday) while under the influence of stimulants, drugs, opiates and other things, and continues that the attempt was made at the instigation of Richard Nevins and Harry B. Lamport, two men with whom Dr. Ruggles is said to have been but slightly acquainted.

At the time the attempt to make a second will was made, Dr. Ruggles was not competent, Mr. Barkschat asserts. He says he had been her business adviser for many years and that he is acting with the approval and consent of the beneficiaries and wants the appointment as special administrator to prevent those he says, are not entitled in the matter from taking possession of the estate.

SAYS BOOKS TAKEN

On information and belief, the petition states, Nevins and Lamport attempted to assume control of the estate immediately after

LAST RITES GIVEN FOR MRS. PEAK

Police Continue Hunt for "Dr." D'Angoise Who Treated Her

Funeral services for Mrs. F. J. Peak, who died Friday following goat gland treatments by the self-styled "Dr." Louis A. D'Angoise, were conducted yesterday from Edwards Brothers chapel, 936 West Sixteenth street. At the same time police and State officials continued their search for the "physician," who has evaded capture for more than a week.

D'Angoise, whose card indicated he was a specialist in endocrinology and psychopathology, is wanted for asserted violation of the State Medical Act for practicing medicine without a license. State officers are also looking for him for having failed to comply with his parole from San Quentin. Bad checks in excess of $450 are also said to be waiting settlement by the "doctor."

According to information obtained yesterday D'Angoise was sentenced to San Quentin, December 3, 1921, to serve a four-year term for forgery. He was released on parole June 8, 1923.

D'Angoise is said to have observed the methods employed by prison surgeons in giving goat gland treatments for about three weeks and to have acquired his interest in that field of medical science during that time.

F. J. Peak, according to Special Agent Albert Carter of the State Board of Medical Examiners, asserts D'Angoise attended Mrs. Peak prior to her death and administered several treatments to her for a consideration of $400.

JAZZ RILES, OPERA SOOTHES

Ape Smokes, Elephant Likes Tunes; Saxophone Makes Baboon Dance at Psychology Tests

Savage beasts were soothed, Mary the ape smoked a cigarette, Anna May, the elephant, caressed the trombone player and dignified psychologists looked on experimentally at the Selig Zoo where a test was made to determine just what kind of music animals like or don't like.

The Montmarte Orchestra rendered Tin Pan Alley's latest jazz number, bits of operatic airs and sentimental ballads calculated to soothe or excite the savage breast.

Some interesting facts were gleaned.

JAZZ EXCITES 'EM

For instance, the tigers capered mightily and snarled their best when jazz music was played. The strains of the "Merry Widow Waltz" quieted them.

The sacred baboon executed a highly eccentric dance to the tune of a once too-popular song concerning the scarcity of a certain fruit common in Central and South America. When a ballad was played his lordship the sacred baboon became quiet, calm, interested.

The elephant test was most successful. The big pachyderm ignored the band ensemble, shied at the bass viol, trumpeted at the roll of the drum but took kindly to the trombone.

Approaching the trombone player, Buster Johnson, the beast gently tried to take the instrument. Johnson wasn't willing to give up without a struggle but the amiable elephant didn't get a bit mad but stood quietly waving his trunk to and fro.

SAXOPHONE RILES HIM

The bears were more or less susceptible to music, but a huge brown bear, the pride of the zoo, became enraged when Musician Profmoore played a saxophone solo.

The mountain lions weren't much interested.

The experiment was made under the direction of Alan Forrest, psychologists from the University of California, Southern Branch; Occidental College, the University of Southern California, Pomona College and the University of Psychological Research were present.

The psychologists declared that quiet music tends to soothe animals, while jazz music excites them. The knowledge gained, they say, means the saving of time, money and sometimes lives in the motion-picture industry, where many animals are used.

GIRL FIGHTS PROWLER; SUSPECT IS ARRESTED

A charge that William Johnson, oiler on the steamship Yale, attempted to crawl through the window of the stateroom of Miss Cecil Busche, a stenographer on the boat, last Sunday morning, led to his arrest yesterday. Miss Busche screamed and battled with the intruder, who fled. Johnson was overpowered by a deck officer and turned over to the police on suspicion of burglary. Miss Busche reported a petticoat missing.

HOLLYWOOD TO GET NEW BUILDINGS

Structure on Highland to Cost $500,000; Cahuenga is Site for Another

Property at 1825 North Highland avenue will be improved with a six-story store and apartment building costing in excess of $500,000, it was announced yesterday by Walker & Eisen, local architects. The proposed structure, to be erected by Fred L. Wilke, will have a frontage of 167 feet and a depth of 135 feet.

A ninety-nine-year lease involving an aggregate rental of $1,200,000 was negotiated yesterday by the Business District Development Company, according to A. W. Knowles, a member of the building company. It is intended to erect a thirteen-story apartment and store structure on the property within the next two years to cost $500,000. The site, at Cahuenga and Wilcox avenues, is owned by J. E. Flanders.

Architect John M. Cooper is completing plans for a ten-story building to be located on South Los Angeles street between Tenth and Eleventh streets for the Klein-Norton Company at a cost of $300,000. The structure will be sixty feet wide, 150 feet deep, and of reinforced concrete construction.

RANCHERS DUE TO TELL STAND

Bishop Group to Meet With Chamber on Water

Optimism is Expressed for Aqueduct Decision

Tension in Valley Now Less; Arrests Delayed

Departure from Bishop yesterday of a committee of ranchers to attend a conference with a committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce relieved the tension that had been growing steadily following the dynamiting of the Aqueduct. The committee was appointed at the invitation of the local chamber to discuss the asserted grievances of the ranchers and desert farmers and to take up the controversy regarding water rights in the Owens River Valley in all of its details.

MOVE APPLAUDED

The action of the local chamber in taking steps to learn the point of view of the ranchers and farmers in the water rights dispute is regarded as highly significant by leaders in the Bishop district. The conference is regarded by citizens of Bishop as indicative of the desire on the part of Los Angeles to examine in detail the ramifications of the situation and avoid further bitter legal and perhaps physical warfare.

"It is our earnest hope that this overture from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is indicative of a desire to give a fair hearing to the claims of the Owens River Valley ranchers," declared Vernon Wilder, president of the Bishop Chamber of Commerce. "We regard it as a hopeful sign. I believe ranchers of this district will do everything in their power to bring about a permanent solution of the problem."

Heretofore, the ranchers contend, they have been able to place facts only before city employees.

The Inyo county committee will stress the potential value of Owens River Valley to Los Angeles as a productive district at the conference with the Chamber here today, it was stated.

COMPLETE CASE

Through a policy adopted at a meeting of ranchers yesterday at Bishop lengthy litigation with Los Angeles is hoped to be averted. This policy provides for presentation at once of the complete case of the ranchers. The ranchers declare they cannot hope to combat the city in a series of actions because of the cost. They point out that one minor suit involving the same principle between the ranchers and the Southern Sierras Power Company was won by the ranchers at a cost of $30,000.

All documents and data relating to controversy, including figures on water, supply, rainfall, crops and conditions, are to be submitted. It is understood that a San Francisco firm of attorneys is to represent the ranchers at the hearing.

While the interest at the seat of the outbreak yesterday centered on the possible outcome of the conference with chamber representatives here today and the hearing tomorrow at Independence, county seat of Inyo, county peace officers and Los Angeles officers and investigators continued their policy of "watchful waiting."

SUIT TO COME UP

The hearing tomorrow of a suit of the city of Los Angeles to adjudicate all water rights of that section will be taken up with consideration of a motion for change of venue. Both sides agree that

WEBSTER IN LOVE EVASION

Star Witness for State at Willis Murder Trial Refuses to Admit Affection Motive

Bert Webster, the lanky gray-haired carpenter, who is appearing as the star prosecution witness in the trial of Mrs. Margaret Willis, charged with the murder of Dr. Benjamin B. Baldwin, refused to admit in Superior Judge Crail's court yesterday that he loved Mrs. Willis, though he had testified a few minutes before that she had lived with him for four years as his common law wife.

Webster followed Mrs. Helen Baldwin, the young and attractive widow, who had survived Defense Attorney S. S. Hahn's questioning for several hours, to the witness stand. He had completed a long and uninterrupted narrative of his part in the tragedy—the midnight ride with Mrs. Willis and the trunk containing Dr. Baldwin's body and the attempted disposal of the grewsome cargo. He had told it calmly and with no evident display of emotion. And when he had reached the last chapter—Mrs. Willis's surrender to the police—he was asked:

"Why did you do all this, Mr. Webster?"

Webster showed his first sign of nervousness.

"Did you love Mrs. Willis?"

Webster squirmed in the witness chair.

"Do I have to answer that?" he begged.

"If you don't care to answer, I won't press the question," Dep. Dist.-Atty Dennison told him.

"Well—I guess I just seen a fel'a in trouble and I just wanted to help that fella out."

And that was the manner in which Webster answered whether or not he loved Mrs. Willis.

Webster was called to the witness stand late in the afternoon. He told of returning to the West Eleventh street apartment, where he and Mrs. Willis lived as "brother and sister." He saw a trunk and a box of books in the center of the floor. Mrs. Willis explained she had packed them for removal to her new real estate office. She also told him that evening she had purchased Dr. Baldwin's automobile.

"The three of us—Mrs. Willis, the boy and I—heaved the trunk into the turtle-back of the car. It was 7 o'clock. Then I drove the car. She directed me toward Santa Monica and, after a long silence, said:

"'Get hold of yourself. I've got something to tell you. Dr. Baldwin didn't go to Tia Juana, as I said before. He's dead. He's in that trunk. I shot him.'

"She told me Dr. Baldwin had come to her apartment in a drunken condition and that he attacked her. He 'rastled' with her for an hour. She told him to leave her alone.

"'He just kept it up, so I shot him,' she told me."

While riding in the car with the body, Mrs. Willis told Webster she wanted to dispose of the body.

"Why don't you give yourself up?" Webster asked her, according to his story. She replied she did not want him nor sonny to know it.

"Why didn't you 'holler' for help?" he had asked her.

"You know I always fight my own battles," she replied.

"We got to the Newhall grade, near San Fernando," Webster continued.

FILM PLAYER SUES KEARNS

Mrs. Tenney Asks $200,000 for Asserted Attack

Civil Action Follows Close of Inquiry by Police

Keyes's Office Not to Issue Criminal Complaint

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight pugilistic champion, was made defendant in a suit for $200,000 damages filed yesterday by Mary C. Tenney, who accused Kearns of attacking her on the evening of the 3rd inst.

The complaint accused Kearns of "maliciously, wrongfully and wilfully" assaulting the plaintiff. Mrs. Tenney declared she resisted Kearns's asserted advances until he overpowered her by the "use of force and administration to her of narcotic drugs and anaesthetic."

She declared she suffered great mental anguish and humiliation as a result of the asserted attack and asked $100,000 actual damages and a like amount in exemplary damages. The complaint was drawn by Attorneys Benjamin Lewis and Maurice Salsman.

NO CRIMINAL CHARGE

Filing of the civil suit came as an aftermath to an investigation by District Attorney's operatives of the story of the asserted attack as told by Mrs. Tenney.

Mrs. Tenney, who is said to have been employed in motion pictures under the name of Frances Marion Emmerson, stated the asserted attack occurred in a house on Highland avenue sometime between 5:30 and 9 p.m. on the 3rd inst.

Harry Raymond, chief of detectives for the District Attorney's office, said no criminal complaint would be issued against Kearns. Raymond said the results of his investigation had convinced him that Kearns was not guilty of the charge.

EARLIER SUIT RELATED

Raymond said he had received a telegram from Chief of Inspectors Henry of Baltimore that Mrs. Tenney had caused the arrest there of Jessee Rosenstein, owner of the National Piano Company, for an asserted attack in an automobile in January, 1923. According to Raymond, the telegram stated Rosenstein paid a fine of $25 for simple assault, but avoided a civil action with a settlement of $700.

Mrs. Tenney denied, it was stated, that the charges in either the Baltimore case or the Kearns case were a "frame-up."

ASK FIRE-BOX PERMIT

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council for authority to install thirty-seven fire and police signal boxes in the Boyle Heights District at once, and to employ the necessary men to do the work. Bonds covering the expenditure were voted two years ago, but there has been a long delay in approving the specifications. The Boyle Heights unit, if the approval is given, will be linked up with the rest of the new system when it is built.

YOUNG MANAGER OF DRUG STORE PLEADS GUILTY AND PAYS $400

Study of too many branches of the drug business cost Bernard Horwitz, 19 years of age, a fine of $400 yesterday.

Horwitz, a pharmacy student, according to his story, at University of Southern California took his final examinations yesterday and then appeared before Police Judge Sheldon and pleaded guilty to bootlegging.

Horwitz also said that he was manager of the Elite Pharmacy at 3030 West Pico street, and admitted that officers had found six gallons of gin and eight quarts of whisky in his possession. He made the gin, he said, and bought the whisky by the case.

Horwitz paid his fine, to which there was an alternative of ninety days' imprisonment.

WIFE'S MARRIAGE BY THREAT IS ANNULED

Testifying she married him because she feared for her life, Ruth Milovich was granted an annulment yesterday of her marriage to Milian Milovich. Mrs. Milovich told Judge Shaw she was first married to John Silva and that they were divorced. She said she learned after her marriage to Milovich that the decree by which she and Silva were divorced had not become final. She then left Milovich, she testified, adding that four days after the final decree of her divorce from Silva was entered, Milovich demanded that she again marry him. When she declined, she said, Milovich threatened her.

HEROINE OF BELGIUM TO VISIT HOME

One of Belgium's most heroic daughters, Mary Van Garsse, wearer of the highest decoration the Belgian government can bestow on a woman, is soon to leave her home at Inglewood for a temporary visit to her native land. She intends to revisit the scenes where she played such an important part during the great war, and where she won the gratitude of King Albert and the people of Belgium.

The full story of Miss Van Garsse's activities as a Belgian spy under the direction of her brother, Rene Van Garsse, after the country had been occupied by the German army was told for the first time by her friends a few days ago.

When the German army swept over Belgium it found the Van Garsse family in Meerbeke, their home for generations. The family fled to Holland, abandoning the ancestral home and virtually all of their possessions. They returned after the capture of Antwerp. Miss Van Garsse soon became her brother's most trusted and successful agent. He was the head of the Belgian secret service organization. Her audacity and ingenuity made her invaluable and her work brought her the personal recognition of King Albert.

Miss Van Garsse and her brother were finally placed under arrest by the Germans. They were tried and sentenced to be shot, but through the intervention of a German officer of high rank, their sentence was commuted. At the end of the war they were liberated and the Belgian government then bestowed the war cross on Miss Van Garsse, and her brother was awarded the Order of the Crown with two golden stripes, the highest decoration given by the nation. Miss Van Garsse also was given the right to vote for representatives in the national legislative bodies, a privilege enjoyed but by very few Belgian women. She came to Inglewood about four years ago with her uncle, Father Leo G. Van Garsse of Inglewood.

PLANS FOR WIDENING OF SLAUSON FAVORED

The aims and accomplishments of the East Side Organization, Inc., were unanimously indorsed yesterday by the board of directors of the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce and complete approval of the Slauson-avenue project, which provides for the extending and widening of Slauson avenue eastward, was expressed. F. E. Alman, executive secretary of the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce, and C. A. Larson, president of the Huntington Park National Bank, were elected directors of the East Side Organization, Inc. The principal speakers at the meeting yesterday were Leslie R. Saunders, secretary of the East Side body, and E. E. Cox of the board of directors.

SOCIAL WORKERS CONVENE

Child Delinquency, Illness, Mental Tests, Some of Topics Before Almost 1000 Delegates

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 26.—With almost a thousand delegates present the Sixteenth Annual California Conference of Social Work got down to business this morning with a number of sectional meetings. This evening a general session in the Municipal Auditorium was attended by all the delegates and a large number of citizens. Delinquency of children, tuberculosis, the adolescent girl, mental test work, the normal family, industrial relations and recreation were subjects discussed.

The general meeting was presided over by Dr. E. P. Ryland of Los Angeles, president of the conference and "Democracy" was the subject. Miss Amy Cryan, formerly a commissioner of the British government and now with the department of political science at Mills College, delivered an address on "How the Increase of Democracy has Affected the Social Conscience of the World." Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University and a noted essayist, talked on "Education in a Democracy." A feature was a concert by the Whittier State School Band.

"PROBLEM CHILD"

The delinquency section under the chairmanship of Herbert Sallee, San Diego probation officer, met at the Hotel Virginia in the morning, the general topic being the work of the schools and children's agencies with the problem child. Henry C. Johnson, superintendent of San Diego schools; O. L. Miner of Berkeley, and C. E. Wright, superintendent of the California Junior Republic at Chino, were speakers.

At the same hour the health section gathered at the Elks' lodge rooms under the leadership of Dr. G. Hardy Clark of Long Beach, and discussed tuberculosis. Speakers were Dr. F. M. Pottenger of Monrovia; Dr. W. H. Bucher of Los Angeles; Charlotte Toll of the Veterans' Bureau; Dr. Louis B. Conshaft of San Jose, and Dr. E. Richmond Ware of Los Angeles.

The family and child welfare section held two meetings, one at noon at the Hotel Virginia and another at 2 o'clock at the City Hall. The adolescent girl and the normal family were the respective topics and the speakers were: Orfa Jean Shonts, president of the Los Angeles Business Women's Club; Dr. A. J. Rosanoff, neuro-psychiatrist of Los Angeles; Superior Court Judge Harry Archibald and Dr. Ellen S. Stadmuller, director of child hygiene, State Board of Health.

INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

The industrial relations section, headed by Dr. Solomon Blum, of Berkeley, as chairman, met in the afternoon. The speakers were Charles H. Martin and A. Pletkin, representing the Los Angeles Forum.

The recreation section met at 3 o'clock at the Hotel Virginia with Mrs. Sigmund Stern as chairman. The speakers were Jay B. Nash, director of physical education, Oakland public schools; Alicia Mosgrove, San Francisco, and Mrs. Emily Harris Noble of the department of economics, University of California.

Tomorrow's program will include consideration of the following subjects: delinquency, health, problems of organization and administration, racial and citizenship problems, education, child welfare, industrial relations, recreation and travelers' aid.

The general session to be held at the Hotel Virginia at 8 o'clock in the evening will be presided over by Miss Pearl Chase, social worker and the "Time of Revolution" will be the theme of Dr. Edwin T. Devin, editor of The Survey, New York. A reception to the delegates will follow the general session.

COURT TO GET WILL ATTACK

Dr. Ruggles's death, attempted to eject the companions of the dead woman from her home six hours after she died and removed books and documents belonging to the estate.

The will executed August 7, 1923, names Effie Critchfield Bailey principal beneficiary, as does the second will offered for probate yesterday. She lived with Dr. Ruggles for forty-five years and was generally believed to be her sister. She is en route to Los Angeles from Nice, France, and a cablegram has been sent her asking for instructions on the disposition of Dr. Ruggles's remains.

By the provisions of the will of April 28, last, Effie Critchfield Bailey gets all personal effects, clothing and jewelry, except pearls, all French government bonds held for Dr. Ruggles by the American Express Company at Paris and Dr. Ruggles's bank balance with a credit in Italina, Milan and an income of $5000 annually for life.

OTHERS REMEMBERED

Martha Aimino, an Italian maid, gets all the flat silver, $10,000 and $100 a month for life.

Lucy Goddard Stiles, an old friend, for many years dependent upon Dr. Ruggles's friendship, gets $2000 and $2400 per year for life.

Julia Willem of Landes, France, gets 40,000 francs, this being a sum realized by Julia Willem for the sale of Dr. Ruggles's motor car in France; also one bronze statuette in Dr. Ruggles's local home.

Dr. Emil Ries of the Hotel Plaissance of Chicago gets $10,000.

Yvonne Baldwin gets $5000. The balance of the estate is left to the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank, trustee. It will pay all the life incomes, also $25 a month to Dr. Hubert Ruggles of Henry, Ill. The balance of the income from the trust estate is to be used for the education and support of children to be selected by the trustee with the advice of the directors of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, Mass. When every beneficiary of the trust estate shall have died then the trust estate shall go in entirety to the First Church, Boston.

Any possible descendants of Leon M. Sackett, a brother, who died fifty years ago, are disinherited specifically. Witnesses are Ruth Butler and Leonora K. Garver, both of Los Angeles. In the petition asking for confirmation of their appointment as executors, it is stated that Dr. Ruggles was 72 years of age when the will was made.

MEN ARE SILENT

Dr. Ruggles took an interest in Effie Bailey when the latter was a young girl and educated her for grand opera. Miss Bailey took the stage name of Mme. Dore and sang in Paris and Milan.

Nevins and Lamport refused to make any statement regarding the circumstances that led to their appointment by Dr. Ruggles as executors of her estate.

"I became acquainted with Dr. Ruggles through financial dealings," said Nevins. "If you wish any information call up my attorney, Mr. Crutcher."

"I have no statement to make," said Lamport. "All that I wish to make known at the present time is contained in the will filed for probate and you are at liberty to read that over."

Stock Disease Held in Check; No New Cases

Not a single case of foot-and-mouth disease was reported in the county yesterday. In the last two weeks almost all outbreaks have been confined to contact herds in and near the Hynes District, which reassuring fact leads officials in charge of eradication work here to believe that great progress has been made in the fight on the disease.

The situation in northern districts also was reported as being quiet yesterday with only one new case, that of a herd of forty-eight cattle in Merced county.

a change of venue or the appointment of an outside judge will be determined, owing to a brother of Superior Judge Dehy being named as one of the defendants.

Sheriff Collins of Inyo county yesterday explained why no arrests have been made despite the fact that it is well known that fifty persons, all from Bishop, went to the scene of the dynamiting Tuesday night in eleven automobiles. He declared he and Dist.-Atty. Hessions have agreed to a hands-off policy until the Los Angeles investigators have uncovered all the evidence they desire to obtain. Sheriff Collins said it is a matter of common knowledge that the dynamiting of the aqueduct was the work of responsible men who will be there when the investigation ends. He declared the county peace officers do not want to do anything that will tend to promote violence.

to the institution and when a little girl, afflicted with sleeping sickness, was brought there, their protestations caused the ensuing police action. It was not a case of contagious disease. Like at any hotel, several nurses at various times were guests. I, at times, sent patients there as a quiet place to recuperate from illness."

Asked whether he intended to resign from the investigating committee following the assertions of the State inspectors, Mr. Moore stated most emphatically that he "would not."

"I don't see any reason why I should," he declared.

MANY WITNESSES

The trial of Dr. Timme is expected by Inspector Earl and Roberts to consume several days. Both sides are expected to present numerous witnesses. One of the State's witnesses, D. J. Walters, according to Inspector Earl, is now a prisoner in the County Jail.

"He was formerly convicted for a narcotic offense and spent one year in the Lincoln Heights stockade," said Earl. "He was released some months ago and since his release Dr. Timme began prescribing narcotics to him. One day I found him in company with two other men at a party on Stanford avenue. While the three admitted they were addicts, I could make no arrest because Walters was supplied with a prescription by Dr. Timme. A few days later he was arrested for forgery and put in jail."

REAL ESTATE LAW COURSE

Contracts for the purchase and sale of real property will be discussed in a new course in real estate law announced by the University of California extension division. The first meeting, which will be open to the public, will be held in Room 614, Hillstreet Building, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Information in regard to this and other classes may be obtained at 815 South Hill street. Telephone, VAndike 2401.

Members of The Times Masonic Club and of Craftsman Lodge of Masons will visit Vermont Square Lodge of Masons, 4707½ South Vermont avenue, tonight. The third degree will be given by the team of Craftsman Lodge. Refreshments will follow.

REVIVAL SERVICES OPEN

A series of evangelistic services, which will be continued for the next two weeks, every evening excepting Saturday, was started yesterday at the Monrovia Christian Church. Dr. Paul Henry Packard, traveling evangelist for the Disciples of Christ, is being assisted in the services by Dr. James Small, pastor of the Monrovia church.

BIMINI PROJECT STANDS

Protests against the proposed special district bond election for the purchase of the "Bimini Slough" property near Third street and Vermont avenue for park purposes, were denied yesterday by the City Council and the election will be held on June 10, as scheduled. The proposition on the ballot calls for the issuance of $475,000 in bonds by the district for the purchase of the property, which is to be developed and used as a public park.

thing with that there body,' I told her.

"'I don't know what to do with it. Let's dump it over that bank.'

"'All right,' I replied, 'that suits me,' and between the two of us we heaved it off the machine and over the rail."

Webster said he drove the car a few hundred feet from the scene. Mrs. Willis remained near the truck. Fifteen minutes later she joined him in the car.

"Bert, there's an awful mess back there," she told him. "I'm going to give myself up."

Webster drove her to the police station, gave her a book entitled "Power of Will" to read, then he visited a barber shop, obtained a shave and a hair cut, and ate a hearty breakfast before returning to the police station to tell his story.

Webster will be cross-examined by Attorney Hahn this morning.

Mrs. Baldwin, the youthful widow, was the first principal witness to testify. Her conspicuous swagger stick, which she had always twirled upon entering and leaving the courtroom, was absent.

Mrs. Baldwin had first met Mrs. Willis two days before "the doctor"—as she referred to her late husband—had been killed. Mrs. Willis had visited her to see her baby, and during the meeting there was no discussion of the sale of the doctor's automobile.

On the day that Dr. Baldwin was slain, and several hours after the hour of his tragic death, she telephoned to Mrs. Willis to inquire of her missing husband's whereabouts.

"She told me the doctor had been there and had delivered the car, that he was to come back at noon but that he failed to show up," Mrs. Baldwin testified. "She said he had left his grips and she wanted me to come and get them. I told her the doctor would call for them in time.

"'Really, Mrs. Baldwin,' she told me, 'I don't think he will ever come back. He's gone to Tia Juana.'"

Mrs. Baldwin testified to her diligent search, after her husband's disappearance, for the money Dr. Baldwin may have received through the sale of the car. She found only $70.

Upon cross-examination, Mrs. Baldwin and Attorney Hahn engaged in many argumentative tilts.

LANZIT CASE MAY REACH JURY TODAY

Alienists Declare Suspect Sane in Final Testimony of Dynamite Trial

The prosecution in the case of Joseph J. Lanzit, accused on an attempt to murder his wife with dynamite, furnished most of the witnesses for the defense yesterday. Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Wright, Deputy Sheriff Rankin, W. J. Johnston, a private detective who had worked on the case for the District Attorney, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ey were all called by Lanzit's attorney.

The testimony concluded with the calling of Dr. Louis Weber, Dr. Victor Parkin and Judge Hewitt in rebuttal, to prove Lanzit's sanity. The arguments will be made today with two hours for each side, and the case may go to the jury late this afternoon. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Van Cott and Ey are conducting the prosecution and trial is before Judge Reeve.

The purpose of calling the officials and detectives was an attempt to prove that Los Angeles county had actually bought the materials with which the asserted bomb was made, and furnished it to Lanzit all ready to set off. The witnesses testified, however, that so far as they knew, Frederick Tate Woodhead, missing explosive expert, had bought and assembled the infernal machine, the placing of which under the barbecue cafe of Mrs. Josephine Lanzit, near Venice, the night of March 13, last, was followed by Lanzit's arrest.

Dr. Weber, an alienist, and Dr. Parkin, who heads the psychopathology department at the General Hospital, both declared they had examined Lanzit after his arrest and considered him sane. Judge Hewitt testified he had had a long conversation with Lanzit when the latter tried to sell him a membership in a country club, and that Lanzit appeared to be rational.

Real Estate Licenses of Two Revoked

As a result of investigations into the methods employed by a real estate broker and salesman in the sale of local property, State Real Estate Commissioner E. T. Kaiser yesterday permanently revoked the licenses of Carl Coffman and R. C. Bever.

In the commissioner's decision it is stated that Coffman negotiated with David Mitchell for the purchase of a lot in a local subdivision for which Mitchell was to pay $10,100. A first payment of $250 was made by Mitchell. The deal was never closed and Coffman is said to have refused to return the $250.

The salesman's license of Bever was revoked by the commission because of asserted false promises made in a transaction concerning a $3600 piece of property.

Henry Preese was induced to enter into the sale of the lot, according to the commission's findings, on the promise that Bever would sell the property before a second installment was due. If the sale was not completed Preese agreed to pay the installment himself. Neither of the salesman's promises is said to have been fulfilled.

JAZZ MELODY SENT INTO AIR

Rendezvous Orchestra Has Usual KHJ Success

Hour is Enlivened by Tunes With Punch

Uncle Remus Scores Anew by Banjo Renditions

Hour enthusiasts were given their daily allotment of jazz from KHJ yesterday. Carl Allen and his Rendezvous orchestra from Long Beach, Santa Monica, furnished the wherewithal for tripping the light fantastic. This organization of syncopation that never falter and violin, Bob Cushman, saxophone, Gil Roden, saxophone, J. E. Mee, trumpet, George Johnson, trombone, Ted Appleton, pianist, Jimmie Harrington, banjo, Del Angelety, bass and Jack Bell, drums, carry a punch in their brand of syncopation that never fails to prove effective. The emanations of The Times usually embrace the spare minutes of their on hour to glide over the roof the rythm of this dance mu-

E. H. Bennell, commonly known as "Uncle Remus" appearing through the courtesy of the Barnes Tire Company, surprised the studio audience by appearing with a uke instead of his boon companion, the autoharp. But Uncle Remus is a versatile chap and one instrument meets his purpose as well as another. His harmonica, however, accompanied him and he followed with a solo, assisted by the orchestra. He also provoked hearty dozen laughs and sang some old-time Southern melodies.

ASKS DEATH AS PENALTY FOR THREE

Jurist's Plea in Argument in Trial of Men Accused of Slaying Policeman

Asking the jurors to return a verdict calling for the death penalty, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Howell Richardson yesterday made the opening argument for the State in the trial of Ed Montijo, Tom Bailey and Louis Perry, charged with the murder of Patrolman Glenn E. Young in an attempted hold-up of the Merchants' National Bank building at Seventh and Hoover streets.

Richardson scored the expert testimony adduced by counsel for the defense, intimating that the evidence that Montijo was subnormal mentally, did not lessen his responsibility for the slaying of Patrolman Young.

Chief Deputy Public Defender Clarence, of counsel for Montijo, replied to Richardson's plea, declaring that the testimony showed beyond a doubt that Montijo was irresponsible and that this fact should be considered a mitigating circumstance by the jury in reaching a verdict.

Defender Aggeler, in behalf of Montijo's defense, is expected to make the second argument for the defense this morning. He will be followed by Guy C. Hulsey, attorney for Perry and Bailey, while Dep. Dist.-Atty. Helms will close for the prosecution.

Burglar and Burglar Admit Guilt and Are Denied Probation

Two defendants, both of whom had denied applications for probation, were sentenced to State prison yesterday by Judge Crail. Harry S. Trost, who admitted burglary of the home of J. B. Lowe, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Battery Company, to a loss of $30 after working for the company for eighteen months, was sentenced to San Quentin for from one to fourteen years. Norman G. Talbot, who pleaded guilty to burglary of the residence of Thomas P. Burke at 505 Lafayette Place, was sentenced to Folsom prison for from one year to life. It was charged that he obtained a check belonging to Mr. Burke, gardener and a microscope.

FOUR CULT TRIALS ARE POSTPONED

Mrs. De Bit's Physical Condition Delays Case; Three Up Next Week

The case of Ione Ingles De Bit, one of four persons indicted by the county grand jury for asserted violation of the Corporate Securities Act in connection with the asserted sale of units in the School of Sacred Science, was ordered off calendar yesterday by Judge Keetch of the Superior Court. This action was taken after W. J. Ford of counsel for the accused quarter explained that Mrs. De Bit was in a serious physical condition.

Ralph De Bit, founder and president of the school; Rabbi William Rice and H. La V. Twining, the others named in the indictment, were in court prepared to stand trial on the charges against them, but their case was continued to June 4. A murder trial now in progress in Judge Keetch's court was responsible for the delay, it was stated.

The four were indicted after a District Attorney's investigation of the activities of the school. It was specifically charged that the defendants had sold units in the school to Emma E. Adams, an asserted incompetent, without permission of the State Corporation Department.

In a civil suit against the school, instituted in behalf of Mrs. Adams, the school and its officials were ordered to return to Mrs Adams valuable property it was asserted had been procured by the school without consideration.

WIFE SAYS MATE IN JAIL MADE THREAT

SEEKS RESTRAINING ORDER IN ADDITION TO HER DIVORCE DECREE

Oscar Erickson, whose present address is the County Jail, according to his wife, was sued for divorce in a complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Effie Erickson. Mrs. Erickson charged that he chased her with a gun and otherwise manifested a lack of proper affection for her. When she called on him in the jail a few days ago, she said, he mentioned that he might harm her whenever he gets out. She therefore asked an order forbidding him to molest her.

Mrs. Erickson claimed credit for the prosperous condition of a herd of 115 dairy cattle on the Erickson ranch, on which she asserted she had performed manual labor ever since her marriage. This ranch was valued at $25,000 in the list of community property. Two acres of land at Athens Acres was said to have a "potential value" of $100,000 because of the possibility that it is oil land.

Judge to Save Scofflaws by Five-Day Terms

This is "save a scofflaw week."

And if the originator of the idea, Police Judge Hugh J. Crawford, has his way, it will be as successful as Laugh Week, Eat More Raisins Week, Don't Beat Your Wife Week, and all the others.

Observance of the week, Judge Crawford announced yesterday, will mean that all drunks brought before him will get a straight five-day jail sentence.

The week officially was inaugurated yesterday when Judge Crawford sentenced thirty-one asserted drunks to serve five days.

"I am going to save you men," Judge Crawford told the array with the hang-over look, "from jeopardizing your lives for five days. This stuff is poison. Each week-end the drunks are more frequent. I'll give you a chance to think it over in jail and maybe you will decide to stop."

All were sentenced to the "barless" cells at Lincoln Heights Jail.

WIFE'S FAINT DUE TO ABUSE, MOTHER SAYS

"I thought Barbara had been in an automobile accident," the mother of Mrs. Barbara Mitchen testified from Paul Mitchen's suit for divorce from Paul Henry Mitchen. The mother referred to finding her daughter unconscious on a bed in her home. It was declared, however, that Mrs. Mitchen's condition was the outcome of a beating administered by Mitchen, according to testimony given. Judge Summerfield, who heard the testimony, awarded a decree to the wife.

CITY TRAFFIC IS TOPIC

George B. Anderson of the Los Angeles Railway and Capt. Both speakers will discuss traffic conditions in the city.

DISPLAY OF OLD GLORY REQUESTED

Memorial Day Committee Urges Patriotic Touch in Honor of Dead

A special plea has been issued by the General Memorial Day committee that every home and building in the city display Old Glory next Friday in honor of the soldier and the sailor dead. More than 80,000 persons are expected to gather at the Coliseum in the afternoon to participate in and witness the big military parade. More than 7000 will be in line for the parade around the ellipse in the amphitheater.

The parade will include naval and marine detachments, the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry with its band, Letter Carriers' band, Army and Navy Officers' Association, the Edison band, the California Grays, detachments of which will come here from San Francisco and Oakland to augment the Los Angeles company; R.O.T.C. military schools, Western Rangers, Indian War Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans and various posts of the Disabled War Veterans.

Arrangements have been made for ambulance, nurses and field hospital equipment to handle any emergency that may arise. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools, has given the Memorial Day observance wide publicity in the schools.

Doors of the Coliseum will open at noon and at 12:30 community singing will begin and continue until members of the G.A.R. are escorted into their section at 1:15 by the Sons of Veterans. The parade proper is to start at 1:30 and the program is expected to close with "taps" at 3:30 o'clock.

BROTHER OF CHINESE FILM ACTRESS FINED

GAGE WONG IS ARRESTED ON SPEEDING CHARGE AT CULVER CITY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

CULVER CITY, May 26.—Gage Wong, brother of Anna May Wong, motion-picture actress, was given the option of $25 fine or the same number of days in the local bastile, when he appeared before Police Judge Floyd on a charge of speeding, this morning. Ten other motorists were fined on similar charges while warrants were issued for thirty-eight asserted traffic-law violators who failed to appear.

Judge Floyd, after listening to one autoist's protest when he was fined $25 for speeding, offered to refund the money if the motorist could offer a plausible solution whereby speeding might be curbed in the city. The motorist failed to proffer the solution and paid his fine.

EXPLORERS ARE HELD UNDER NARCOTIC ACT

McGIRK AND WILSON MUST FACE FEDERAL COURT; BOND $10,000

United States Commissioner Long yesterday held Leon S. McGirk and Harry C. Wilson, of the Siberian Exploration and Navigation Company, to the Federal grand jury on a charge of selling narcotics in violation of the Harrison Act. Each was released under $10,000 bond.

Federal narcotic agents arrested the two on the 8th inst. when it was reported negotiations were completed for the sale to a government operative of fifteen ounces of cocaine for $1050.

ROOMS AND BATH

Big cities are becoming more distinguished for their big hotels than anything else. Los Angeles has opened the doors of more new hotel rooms within the last year than were known during the first fifty years of the city's existence. Chicago has a booster association that calls for a program of one $1,000,000 hotel project each week. They have scored twenty-two hostelries in the last nineteen weeks. One of them will cost $20,000,000 and several of them call for more than $5,000,000 each. The problem of the cities seems to be to furnish rooms with baths for the thousands who are flocking to them. But it looks as if the hotel men were determined to keep ahead.

EXIT HUNGARY

The Czechs have issued orders forbidding the use of the term Hungarian in official correspondence. The Magyars were the dominant racial group in old Hungary and the territory now left was ever their very own. What was known as Hungary in the Austro-Hungarian Empire was shorn of two-thirds of her territory by the peace of Versailles. As Magyaria now stands there is a population of not more than 8,000,000 inhabitants and an area of less than 24,000,000 acres. The great forests and timber industry of the old empire are largely divided between Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia. The Magyars will have to fight to keep their head above the economic wave which is sweeping over Europe, but they are trying to do it on their own hook and under their own name.

PERILS OF QUARANTINE

The adventures of many tourists during the frenzied moments of the campaign against the hoof-and-mouth disease were unpleasantly thrilling. One motorist says that he was fumigated seven times in two days and had to pay $2 for each experience. When he reached Los Angeles he smelled like an explosion in a drug store. Another traveler said that the chemical solution in which he was required to roll his car was so strong that it dissolved his tires. This seemed to be the fact in many cases. Numbers of tourists had to buy full sets of fresh tires for their cars. In several cases camping and picnic parties had all their provisions and stores buried or burned. In other cases entire outfits of new clothing were required to replace what had been ruined in the fumigating processes. Gov. Richardson himself had to pass through this experience a couple of times. But there was considerable tragedy during the quarantine and it is not all over yet.

PRISON REFORMS

Pennsylvania has a legislative committee on penal affairs and as a result of a comprehensive survey the head of the commission reports the conclusion that most of the County Jails should be abolished. It is well enough to have a jail, but it should be used merely as a place of detention for prisoners awaiting trial. The commission says that there should be four or five district penitentiaries in the State and these should take the place of the jail when the prisoner is sentenced. The rich man escapes confinement by paying a fine. He should have no advantage over a poor one. Employment should at least be provided and the opportunity offered to every prisoner of working out his fine on the installment plan. These contentions of the Pennsylvanians show an advance in humanitarianism. It sounds a bit expensive, but, after all, it would be cheaper to keep four or five district penitentiaries than to have a massive and costly jail in every county. A mere place of detention for those awaiting a hearing would not need to be very large or expensive.

TURN TO THE RIGHT

Mussolini is trying to make his Italians over into a right-handed folk. The government is about to enforce the right-handed turn in all the street traffic of the country. In Milan the rule of the road is to turn to the right; in Bologna to the left. In Florence one goes to the right, but if one would do as the Romans do when in Rome he will turn to the left. On the country roads and between villages the motorist does as he pleases. Often two peasants will get mixed up in driving their donkey carts on rural highways and there will be long and heated arguments—sometimes terminating in blows. The question as to which had the right of way cannot be settled. That is why an inflexible rule is required. In England custom calls for the left-hand turn and this is as inviolate as the right-hand regulation in this country. But in Italy there has been no official regulation until now. Within a few months all of Italy must turn to the right and keep that way. If there is a united Italy it may as well unite upon a simple road rule as anything.

OUR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

The public schools of Los Angeles have long been the pride of its citizens. They have added luster to the reputation of the city. They have contributed to the growth of population. They have aided the commercial and industrial growth of the community and have had much to do with keeping the city on a high plane. The public schools are an integral and important portion of our municipal life.

It naturally follows that the continued rapid growth in population has created a greater demand for school facilities every year. School attendance has doubled in the past four years and it now becomes necessary to make further provision for new buildings and new sites.

The voters are asked to authorize on Tuesday, June 3, a bond issue of $36,640,000 divided as follows: Elementary, $19,360,000; high school, $15,280,000. The ballot stipulates that the money can only be expended for land, buildings and equipment. For elementary schools it will provide 110 new buildings, thirty-two additions to old buildings, additional ground for 124 schools and forty new sites. For high schools it will provide for ten additional junior high-school buildings, seventeen additions to senior high schools and eight new senior high schools, seven new senior high-school sites, seven new junior high-school sites and additional ground for seven senior high schools.

The bond issue is sufficient to care for the estimated needs of Los Angeles for the next three years.

The $17,400,000 voted two years ago has been expended or appropriated in erecting approximately 100 buildings, in securing additional sites and in building additions to existing school plants.

So great has been the growth of population and school attendance that, in spite of this extensive building program, there are approximately 750 half-day sessions and more than 20,000 children out of school half the day. The Board of Education says that several hundred children are out of school entirely. Classes are now held in halls, cloakrooms, basements, tents and other makeshift buildings. The increase in attendance this year over last was 30,000 and a corresponding increase for next year may reasonably be expected.

Los Angeles school facilities must keep pace with the city's educational and commercial needs or take a costly backward step. Failure of the bonds to carry would undoubtedly increase the taxes because of the necessity of raising funds under the stress of emergency. The proposed bond issue is justified from every viewpoint. It is not only necessary in order to maintain the city's high educational standard, but it is good business.

MR. HEARST TAKES COMMAND

Just as soon as he gets around to it Mr. William Randolph Hearst is going to discharge three members of the Cabinet; issue orders to Congress to pass such special legislation as he wants; detail a new committee of the House of Representatives and attend to such other items of government business as happen to fall under his notice. In his spare moments he is to instruct the New York Times and other opposition newspapers what they are to print.

These interesting items in Mr. Hearst's plans for a busy summer were disclosed by F. W. Greer in a telegram to President Pound of the Imperial Valley Irrigation District and published in an Imperial Valley newspaper. Mr. Greer is the Imperial Valley correspondent for Mr. Hearst's Los Angeles newspapers. He adds to his income and his dignity by working as a lobbyist in Washington in behalf of the Swing-Johnson bill. The telegram was as follows:

> Hearst today, after extended personally attended conference, instructed his editors to start, with my co-operation, one of the most intensive publicity campaigns ever inaugurated throughout the United States, to force report on bill and passage by Congress. First strong editorials begin Saturday morning throughout East and will continue until get favorable action. Is attacking Weeks, Work and Wallace, showing their motives. Will follow with demand for their resignations, coupled with naming steering committee members seeking delay. Is as strong for All-American as for Boulder Dam.
> Chairman Smith promises close hearings Saturday. Am supervising matter to appear, to satisfy Smith, New York Times and three other papers giving publicity. Returning to Washington tonight.

In the circumstances it would appear that the President, the Cabinet and both houses have been wafted into the category of parlor ornaments. Mr. Hearst tells Mr. Greer what he wants done, and Mr. Greer passes the word on to a trembling and awed government.

But, alas for the schemes of mice and men, that ambitious propaganda campaign seems to have back-fired. The final hearings were held last Saturday as programed; but Washington dispatches report that, as the result of deliberations, "the Swing-Johnson bill for a dam in the Colorado River near Boulder Canyon will not come out of the House Arid Lands Committee at this session of Congress."

At the time of going to press Weeks, Work and Wallace were still holding their Cabinet portfolios; and Representative Leatherwood of Utah was asking for a full report concerning the employment of Representative Swing at a stipend of $25 a day by the Imperial Valley Irrigation District to look after its interests. For a Congressman to accept pay from a private corporation in return for the service which he renders in drafting bills and in supporting or opposing bills introduced in Congress has been held to be an indictable offense.

JUVENILE THRIFT

Nearly 50,000 Los Angeles youngsters have accounts in the local savings banks. At least the pupils in the public schools of the city are carrying a total of 47,635 accounts, as reported through the School Savings Association. There are enough other juveniles outside of these records to increase the roster of youthful depositors to the 50,000 mark. The deposits in these school savings accounts aggregate over $500,000. They average a little more than $10 to each depositor. This is not very much, but the mere fact that the savings habit has been inculcated and given official standing is a wonderful thing in itself. The kindergarten is a fine place to start the savings-bank habit. The Americans are spending an awful lot of money, but they are not indifferent to the importance also of saving it. The rising generation is growing up with a knowledge of banking and its benefits that was undreamed of in grandfather's day. These school savings accounts are increasing at the rate of nearly $20,000 a month.

RUNAWAY CHILDREN

Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, New York's first policewoman, has just published a book on the vagaries of the youthful mind that should be read by every parent of a half-grown child. Mrs. Hamilton especially analyzes the motives that impel the young to run away from home and in the majority of cases places the blame for the running away or other wrong doing on the shoulders of the parents.

"The reasons for runaways," she declares, "range from the sublime to the ridiculous. The lure of fame and fortune calls a host away from the fireside and adventure usually beckons the boys. There are no Indians or unblazed trails today, but the grown-up forgets that life in the world outside his home appears quite as adventurous to the growing boy as any thrilling tale that he could read."

Fear of parental anger, especially if the child has done anything wrong, leads many children to take this foolish step. Here the parent who enjoys the confidence of his child may step in and save the situation. But, according to the policewoman, the young offender's fear of his parents is sometimes so great that he is goaded to acts of desperation rather than admit a misstep to the stern home judge.

Many of the runaways have the making of fine citizens, since they are spirited and adventuresome, and the police strive desperately to start the young footsteps on the right path again. But without the co-operation of the parents they are helpless. More understanding of the young and their peculiar psychology is necessary to those who have them under their charge.

EXTREMES MEET

The ghosts of many haughty Scottish chiefs must gaze in amazement at the festivities now being held in famous old Holyrood Palace. For here, until May 31, "Jamie" Brown, former Ayrshire coal miner, will reign for ten days of pomp and ceremony, his official title being His Grace, the Lord High Commissioner of the general assembly of the Church of Scotland.

The induction ceremony was held on May 20 in the stately throne room of the palace and was followed by a magnificent banquet. At the commissioner's own request no wines were served. This must have seemed revolutionary to the aforementioned ghosts. Holyrood Palace has resounded with the shouts of many merry wassails in times gone past.

The former pit boy is reported as taking kindly to the pomp and splendor with which old tradition invests his newly acquired position. When queried by certain Fabian Socialists, who are devoted to more or less idealistic theories of government, as to how he could readily reconcile his former denunciations of the salaries and splendor of those who sat in high places with his own newly acquired palatial surroundings and acceptance of the healthy salary that goes with his position, the commissioner was reported as waxing very irritable. Most of the members of the Labor Cabinet have taken to the costumes and residences of their offices like ducks to water, despite the fact that they were once red-hot Socialists. Whether it is wicked to wear a high silk hat and draw a fat pay check from the government seems to be entirely a question of whose name is typed on the check.

A QUEEN OF QUALITY

Everybody seems to be suspicious of the Queen of Rumania. They like her in all the capitals of Europe, but all the statesmen keep their hands on their pocketbooks when she is around. For some reason the Rumanian government is suspected of endless scheming to benefit at the expense of other nations and the royal family is believed to be attuned to this purpose.

THE DAILY RATION

According to the experts, our generation consumes 30 per cent more of food, but 275 per cent more of sugar, than our grandfathers. It was thought that grandpa had a whale of an appetite, but we use more fodder than he did—whether we eat it all or not. The vast increase in sugar is on account of the alcohol which it contains and which seems to be craved by old and young.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

The Bible in Eskimo

Rev. O. E. Stringer returns to Winnipeg after spending eighteen years in the Arctic. He says it was only during the last year of his stay on the top of the world that he saw his first Eskimo convert. After the first, many others followed into the fold. The greatest difficulty in evangelizing the natives is to protect them against the whalers, who visit the settlements occasionally and invite the natives to orgies of drink and debauch. Dr. Stringer has translated sections of the Bible into the Eskimo language. That this is a work requiring not only scholarly ability but also ready wit is clear. Here is a sample. Dr. Stringer was up against the sentence: "Wise as serpents and harmless as doves." The Eskimo does not know the serpent. He cannot imagine it. And as to doves—he does not know them, either. The only bird he knows is the ptarmigan, but that is far from harmless. So in the Eskimo Bible this text runs as follows: "Wise as weasels and harmless as sealpupa."

League Announces Medical Conquest

The League of Nations is to announce shortly the discoveries of Prof. Gaetano Fichera of Pavia. It consists in what is hailed as a certain preventive against cancer. Prof. Fichera has devoted all his life, his fortune and his income to cancer research. The preventive is in a serum form. He discovered a few years ago that the absence in the human body of a certain serum produces cancer. If traces of cancer are found in the blood of his patients he prescribes his serum and as long as the injections are continued the patient is absolutely immune. Men like Prof. Fichera, benefactors of mankind, deserve recognition in their lives and after their death they are more entitled to statues than butchers and slaughterers like the "do-nothing" kings of France.

Martyred Bishop Returns

Archbishop Zepliak, Roman Catholic primate of Russia, has been set free by the Moscow government, after spending eighteen months in a notorious soviet dungeon. Three hundred thousand people welcomed him upon his arrival at Warsaw and the happy event changed into a great anti-Bolshevik demonstration. Bishop Zepliak is on his way to Rome to confer with the Pope. There will be an affectionate welcome at the Vatican for the nearly martyred priest. Latterly there have been rumors that the Vatican might follow England, Norway and Italy in recognizing the soviet government. That favorable attitude may change, however, when the Pope hears the story of the persecution and massacre of the representatives of his church in Russia. Recognition is certainly to be delayed for a time.

RIPPLING RHYMES

OLD FRIENDS

It always disappoints and grieves to meet the friends of yesterday; they are afflicted with the heaves, they're broken down and halt and gray; "Our lives are full of falling leaves, we are all in," they seem to say. A comrade of the bygone time wrote to me thus, "I'll see you soon; I'm headed for your sunny clime where grow the lemon and the prune; to talk old days, in prose and rhyme, will surely be a precious boon." I pictured him as tall and straight, as I had known him long ago, with raven ringlets on his pate and gleaming teeth as white as snow, as I stood waiting by my gate to greet the friend I used to know. And while I scanned the dusty lane for signs of my old chum of yore a delegate who groaned with pain, as though his every hinge were sore, stopped by my gate and made it plain that he was Bildad Bungstart Bore. This was the friend with whom I'd planned to gossip of the locust's years, a relic who could scarcely stand, with wooden teeth and damaged ears; as mournfully I shook his hand I wet his whiskers with my tears. As I surveyed the gloomy wreck, he sadly cried, "Can this be you? You are a total loss, by heck, Old Time has pulled you all askew; you have a dromedary's neck, your feet are badly out of true." THIS IS THE DAY

Cornelius Vanderbilt, financier, was born on Staten Island in the year 1794. He died at New York in 1877. He was the founder of the present great fortune of the Vanderbilt family. He was the son of a Dutch farmer and began business at the age of 16 years, carrying farm produce and passengers in a small ferry boat from Staten Island to New York. His chief accomplishment was the organization of the New York Central and Hudson River Railway. At his death his wealth was estimated at $100,000,000.

JOURNEY JOTS FROM MANY SPOTS

BY ESTELLE HEARTT DREYFUS

Mollenda—Arequipa—Valparaiso

Mollendo, our next stopping place, is the port which serves Arequipa. As we were lifted to land by derrick from the small boat in which we had left our ship, seated in a stout wooden chair, we rose into the air amid the shoutings (in Spanish) of the wharf hands and the sound of the waves dashing on the huge rocks near by, all of which proved an exciting experience.

The moment one enters Mollendo he becomes aware of steep inclines, bent backs and heavy loads, very heavy, indeed—the Indians here are said to be capable of carrying 400 pounds. As you go further inland the burros are the burden bearers, well weighted, I assure you, and in the higher inland altitudes the llama carries, but he is wiser and absolutely rebels at any load over 100 pounds. If urged to carry more he drops down and refuses to get up. All through these parts you stand aghast at the things you see on the backs of men, for, contrary to custom in Panama, where the carrying is done on the head, producing at the same time a fine straight back, all the loads here are on the backs, causing some to be bent almost double. We, with our well-soled shoes, found it difficult to tread the cobbled streets, for these cobblestones are turned on end, but the burden-bearer, with his bare feet, often swung into a little trot as he climbed the steep inclines over these sharp stones.

Iron bedsteads, huge bales of alfalfa, trunks, sewing machines (the Singer sewing and photographs of Charlie Chaplin are everywhere,) heavy iron machinery, all sorts of things, yes, even pianos, as these cannot be hauled over the cobbles without upsetting the whole tonal quality. Speaking of loads brings me to the question of packing. The wise mercantile house that wishes prompt delivery will try to arrange its goods in small parcels and fasten each box not only with nails, but an added binding of wire, as we saw so many boxes broken and spilled in the careless unloading of ship porters.

If you are not affected by very high altitudes never let anyone discourage you, as on board steamers they try to do, from taking the inland trip to Cuzco, that ancient city of the Incas, and if you are affected by 15,000 feet, then be sure you go at least as far as Arequipa, which is only 7500 feet high; you will be well repaid. There is an excellent broad-gauge railroad, which slowly but most securely takes you from Mollendo (thirteen feet) up to Arequipa (7500 feet.) There is only one tunnel and as you look down on four tracks at once you are impressed with the splendid engineering.

For some reason the usual chair car was missing, so we took the regular coach. Here you had literally to wade through grape skins, crawfish shells, orange peels, etc., dropped by the careless traveler (the native traveler is always eating.) But who cares about such little things, when out the windows you catch constant glimpses so marvelous you fairly gasp with joy—the Plateaus of La Joya strewn with thousands of the unique "Medanos," those exact crescents of finest white sand, ranging from ten to twenty feet high and all very steep on the convex side. Seen at a great distance they seem silent white moons all headed toward the far-away mountains; in fact, they are said to move slowly through the years, sixty feet a year—the mud huts of the Indians which so sink into the hills that you can scarcely tell them apart—the herds of sheep and the vaster herds of llamas—the dashing River Chile, bringing with it fertile green valleys—the barren hills and mountains over which rich atmospheric effects fold and unfold, and just before you reach Arequipa a vivid sunset upon the snowcrested crowns of Mt. Misti (18,967 feet.) Pichu-Pichu (17,800 feet) and Chachani (19,970 feet) the deep red glow blending with a full silver moon and Venus vibrating in the distance! Well, words can't say its beauty—you must see it!

Another interesting feature of this railroad trip is the little stations one passes. At each are generous stops, long enough to let all the relatives and friends of the departing traveler, and at times it seemed the whole village, rush in to embrace. We gathered the journey would be a long one and were surprised to see the passenger alight at the next station.

Very typical are the little improvised lunch counters where famous "Puchero," the national dish here as in Spain, of saffron-colored soup, rich with corn, meat and potatoes, is served with coarse bread and a huge glass, about four times the size of ours, of "Chicha," the local drink of fermented corn juice. An orange, grapes or peaches concluded the meal, but not our curiosity, as this is the land of the Inca Indian.

The costume of the Inca claims the eye; color fairly shrieks at you, entire dresses of vivid magenta as well as red, magenta and yellow and brown are worn by the women. At first they look heavy and big and then you realize it is their numerous long ruffled skirts. The older the women the longer the skirt is added for each succeeding year, one over the others, and her back is swung a [illegible] which contains all her earthly longings and this is held in a width of material brought across the chest, usually the same color as the dress. A round hat of straw material, perched on the very top of her head, bare feet, braids and white teeth and a very winning smile complete the fascinating picture.

For the man a "poncho," a piece of hand-woven woolen cloth which looks and is like a lightweight Arizona Indian blanket. There is [illegible] the center a slit large enough to go over the head, thus making a cape over the shoulders, capable of being rain-proof for at least one hour in a severe storm. These have been adopted by the North American and English whose work takes them out in the open as in ranches or mines.

Nestling at the foot of [illegible] in a peaceful little valley, [illegible] did not feel quite so secure the morning we were awakened by one of the stoutest earthquakes I have yet experienced; nor did Misti look quite so calm to us when we learned that whenever there is an earthquake everybody rushes to see whether Misti is smoking or not. Yet Arequipaniaos assured us that had been an eruption there [illegible] or volcano much farther away seems to act as an [illegible] ti, and so Arequipa is quite safe. At Arequipa, with its [illegible] ing mineral waters and progressive business air, where everyone knows the "Chester Brown" of Los Angeles and so welcomes a friend, where you dine at the [illegible] ing "Quinta Bates," the [illegible] which is so perfect a [illegible] of English and American [illegible] and hospitality, surely [illegible] continued prosperity [illegible] yours!

Your choice of Cuzco and [illegible] ruins against an altitude of [illegible] feet and a revolution or [illegible] route, the latter won, so at [illegible] midway, we turned back to Arequipa. As the trains here run only three times a week, if you want to catch a certain boat as "Antofagarril" is called into use. What is [illegible] auto-carril? We found it to be a stout "Hudson" limousine with rounded top of steel and a most conventional covered chair. I [illegible] when I first saw it, but I was [illegible] to thoroughly respect it, as [illegible] this country the horses, [illegible] goats and children seem to [illegible] the railroad track as their own [illegible] special playground and [illegible] once after whistling violently [illegible] slowed down and the little [illegible] catcher shunted them gently [illegible] firmly off the track.

No railroad-train trip shall ever compare with this auto-carril [illegible] We seemed almost to fly [illegible] space up in these high altitudes. How important we felt as we slipped into the station with a long warning whistle, took on [illegible] train orders and slipped out again to the kindly farewells of [illegible] little children. Past the [illegible] mountain peaks and deep [illegible] valleys where the llamas, [illegible] and sheep were often tended by an Indian woman with a baby [illegible] her back (another in embryo) and a spinning spool in her hand. [illegible] ing miles and miles of [illegible] where not a living thing could be seen, not even a blade of grass, so it felt as if we were in a world of our own. Finally Mollendo, with its billboards of condensed milk and North American chewing gum, boys eager to carry our [illegible]

Those making the west coast trip I would advise not to [illegible] too close to schedule. [illegible] or even three days' [illegible] to be taken as a matter of [illegible] not only by the natives, but by experienced English and [illegible] salesmen as well. In fact, [illegible] ships the trip from Mollendo to Valparaiso is one of daylight [illegible] ings and night-time [illegible] of the intervening ports [illegible] que and Antofagasta are the [illegible] est nitrate fields in the world. [illegible] the last named we unloaded [illegible] eral automobiles, great quantities of condensed milk, [illegible] chinery and boatloads of [illegible] toilets. We took on 400 tons of nitrate, which proved [illegible] last, as the sea between Antofagasta and Valparaiso, though [illegible] were in sight of land all the [illegible] is quite rough at this time of the year. Oh, yes, and don't fail to have your heavy coats handy in this part of the trip in July.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

"Laying One's Pipes"

When people want to describe insidious or underground activities toward a certain end they frequently use the expression "laying one's pipes."

The phrase has its origin in the story of a political scandal of the old days of New York City, when the first Croton water system was being constructed.

According to local history, an election was impending and the Whig party was in danger of being ousted from office. Always ingenious, they imported from Philadelphia a large number of "floaters" to swell their vote and to prevent their detection disguised them as laborers and sent them among the large number of workers who were engaged in laying pipes for the new water system.

An opposing newspaper came out with the story that the "Whigs had pipes to win the election." The incident in New York's political history has been forgotten, but the expression remains as a relic from a bygone day.

the eye; color fairly screams at you, entire dresses of vivid magenta as well as red, sapphire blue, yellow and brown are worn by the women. At first they look bundled and big and then you realize it is their numerous long ruffled skirts. The older the women the bigger, as a skirt is added for each succeeding year, one over the others. On her back is swung a large roll which contains all her earthly belongings and this is held by a width of material brought over the chest, usually the same color as the dress. A round hat of woven material, perched on the very top of her head, bare feet, brown skin, white teeth and a very winning smile complete the feminine picture.

For the man a "poncho," a square of hand-woven woolen cloth which looks and is like a lightweight Arizona Indian blanket. There is left in the center a slit large enough to pass the head, thus making a cape over the shoulders, capable of being rain-proof for at least one hour in a severe storm. These have been adopted by the North Americans and English whose work takes them out in the open on the ranches or mines.

Nestling at the foot of Mt. Misti in a peaceful little valley, yet we did not feel quite so secure the morning we were awakened by one of the stoutest earthquakes I have yet experienced; nor did Misti look quite so calm to us when we learned that whenever there is an earthquake everybody rushes to see whether Misti is smoking or not. Yet Arequipanians assured us it had been an eon since Misti had overflowed and now it is probable she never will, as there is a smaller volcano much farther away that seems to act as an airhole for Misti, and so Arequipa is safe, quite safe. At Arequipa, with its healing mineral waters and progressive business air, where everyone knows the "Chester Browns" of Los Angeles and so welcomes you as friend, where you find the charming "Quinta Bates," that peaceful home which is so perfect a combination of English and American comforts and hospitality, surely peace and continued prosperity should be yours!

Your choice of Cuzco and Inca ruins against an altitude of 11,000 feet and a revolution at La Paz en route, the latter won, so at Juliaca, midway, we turned back to Arequipa. As the trains here run only three times a week, if you want to catch a certain boat an "auto-carril" is called into use. What is an auto-carril? We found it to be a stout "Hudson" limousine with rounded top of steel and a small conventional cowcatcher. I laughed when I first saw it, but I was later to thoroughly respect it, as through this country the burros, chickens, goats and children seem to claim the railroad track as their own special playground and more than once after whistling violently we slowed down and the little cowcatcher shunted them gently but firmly off the track.

No railroad-train trip shall ever compare with this auto-carril trip. We seemed almost to fly through space up in these high altitudes. How important we felt as we slipped into the stations with a long warning whistle, took our train orders and slipped out again to the kindly farewells of curious little children. Past the colorful mountain peaks and deep, quiet valleys where the llamas, alpacas and sheep were often tended by an Indian woman with a baby tied on her back (another to come) and a spinning spool in her hand. Crossing miles and miles of plateau where not a living thing could be seen, not even a blade of grass, we felt as if we were in a world of our own. Finally Mollendo, with its billboards of condensed-milk signs, North American chewing gum, Hollywood movies and fifty clamoring boys eager to carry our luggage!

Those making the west coast boat I would advise not to try to be too close to schedule. One, two or even three days' lateness seems to be taken as a matter of course not only by the natives, but by the experienced English and German salesmen as well. In fact, on these ships the trip from Mollendo to Valparaiso is one of daylight lovings and night-time sailings. Both of the intervening ports Arica, Iquique and Antofagasta are the largest nitrate fields in the world. In the last named we unloaded several automobiles, great quantities of condensed milk, mammoth machinery and boatloads of porcelain toilets. We took on 400 tons of nitrate, which proved excellent ballast, as the sea between Antofagasta and Valparaiso, though we were in sight of land all the time, is quite rough at this time of the year. Oh, yes, and don't forget to have your heavy coats handy, for this part of the trip is cold.

with the story that the "Whigs laid pipes to win the election!" The president in New York's political history has been forgotten, but the expression remains as an echo from a bygone day.

ERT BURNS IS RNED BUT BURNS NO LONGER BURN

Briar Place, Chicago, Ill. March 30, 1924.
E. T. Strong, Strong, Cobb & Co., Cleveland, O.:
Dear Sirs: Being fond of baseball, motoring, yachting, driving and outdoor sports, I have been held back by my tender skin, so easily burned and blistered.

I tried quite a sum on skin remedies and salves, trying to find some effective weapon against my enemy, "Old Sol," but I never found it successfully. One day last June I noticed your ad in a magazine, and I sent for a bottle; when I received it I applied it on my face, neck, arms and legs and at the beach, and you can imagine my gratification on finding that at last I had the real thing to say, that I have suffered from sunburn since, and I used a coat of tan that would have made an Indian jealous.

You can count on my order every summer, and on all my friends, acquaintances that know the trouble I used to suffer before getting "Noburn."

Believe me, sincerely,
ROBERT BURNS.

By the Way in the world don't you see your blessing in display prominently? Plaster the billboards, full-page ads in magazines and newspapers; let the universal world know that it has come. Drop that dead line out of a dock and a boatload and catch the people's eye with something catchy, peppy and appealing, or, better still, broadcast it over WTAM.

R. BURNS.

Just a few drops of "Noburn" applied before each exposure and you sunburn proof. You get the tan, but not the burn. An ingredient, harmless liquid, easily applied, easily washed off. Sold and guaranteed by Strong Drug Co. of Cleveland, who have been druggists for ninety years. "Noburn" sold at all good drug stores.—[Advertisement.

WATERY GRAVE "CORPSE" ALIVE

Goad Says Pier Leap Story Related by Himself

Hoped to Escape Publicity After Beach Fight

Proves of Little Value as Dines Case Witness

While his parents in Kentucky were grieving over the loss of their son, and while Deputy Lieutenant Jarvis was bemoaning the demise of an important witness in the Courtland S. Dines shooting case, the "late" son and witness, in the person of W. C. Goad of 319 East Fifty-second street, appeared at Central Police Station yesterday.

Although reported to the police as having met death in a watery grave, Goad proved to be a poor corpse and just as useless as a witness at the coming trial of Horace Greer, charged with shooting Dines last New Year's night in the presence of Mable Normand and Edna Purviance.

HIS OWN IDEA

Goad, who is the scion of a wealthy family in Scottsville, Ky., is responsible himself for the story of his death in the ocean off Long Beach, according to Deputy Lieutenants Zeigler and Craig who investigated the case.

The first report placed in the hands of the Long Beach police declared that Goad jumped off the Pine-avenue pier Sunday night, following a quarrel which disrupted a party participated in by Goad, H. W. Winslow of 325 West Forty-seventh street, and two young women. The supposed Winslow walked into the Long Beach police station and told of Goad's ocean death.

Los Angeles police were asked to investigate the matter and to locate "Winslow" who disappeared after telling his story to the beach police. The latter had notified Goad's parents in Kentucky, who replied with directions to send their son's body to a Pasadena mortuary when found. In the meantime, Detective Jarvis, looking over the police reports, came across Goad's name as that of the man who died in the ocean.

"Gee, that's hard luck," Jarvis muttered. "Here I've been looking all over for him ever since the Dines shooting. He is reported to have been in the apartment when the shots were fired."

TELLS OF FIGHT

Detectives Ziegler and Craig, however, found Goad in an apartment on South Union street yesterday morning. Taken to the police station he denied he was dead and his statement was taken at face value. When asked for an explanation he said, according to the police, that a fight had occurred on the pier, during which he knocked Winslow off the pier near the shore and that when he saw a crowd gathering he wanted to avoid publicity and disappeared. He said also that he went to the Long Beach Police Station and posed as Winslow, saying that it was Goad who was in the water. It was done to save himself embarrassing publicity, he said. Winslow apparently escaped uninjured.

After he had cleared up the circumstances of his own "death," Goad was questioned by Jarvis on the Dines shooting. It developed that while he happened to be in front of the Dines apartment shortly after the shooting, Goad had no first-hand knowledge of the shooting, according to Jarvis.

Reverses Court Judgment Given in Damage Suit

Judgment given to Marie L. Verbeck in Superior Judge Charles Monroe's court for injuries she received when struck by a Patton-Davis Lumber Company truck on October 3, 1923, was reversed yesterday by the Second District Court of Appeal, Division One.

Miss Verbeck was struck by a truck which was driven by a man not in the employ of the company, but who had volunteered to drive the machine without being given authority by the company.

The trial court instructed the jury that the company was liable for the injury and ordered the jury to establish the damages due.

In reversing the decision, Justice Craig held that the company was relieved from responsibility as the truck was being driven by a man outside their employment or authorization. The Appellate Court decision was concurred in by Justices Finlayson and Works.

WEAVER COMPANY IN ANNIVERSARY DINNER

FOURTEENTH BIRTHDAY SEES CELEBRATION; BENTON CHIEF SPEAKER

The fourteenth anniversary of the formation of the Weaver Roof Company was celebrated last night by Sylvester L. Weaver, president of the concern, and almost 200 employees and coworkers at a banquet at the Mary Louise. Addresses were made by a number of department heads, including W. B. Koehler, H. F. Boesche, William Gaston and William Colby.

The guest of honor was Maj. Charles H. Benton of San Diego, who spoke on "Modern Business Service." Mr. Weaver presided as master of ceremonies. An entertainment program also was presented during the evening. The company's plant is located in Los Angeles and its products are shipped all over the Pacific Coast, Hawaii, South America and the Orient.

KUEGLER SENTENCED ON MANN ACT CHARGE

Federal Judge McCormick yesterday sentenced Charles F. Kuegler of East St. Louis to eighteen months at Leavenworth on a charge of bringing Lydia Hutchings, 15-year-old St. Louis girl to Los Angeles in violation of the Mann Act. Kuegler, 45 years of age, was convicted last week. His defense was that he brought the girl to California because he understood the state law would permit him to marry her without obtaining the consent of her parents.

BOX CAR BOOTY RETURNED

Los Angeles Police Declare Union Pacific Inspector Has Confessed Operations of Gang

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 26.—Los Angeles police today undertook the removal of box-car booty valued at approximately $20,000 from Long Beach to Los Angeles as a sequel to the arrest of two Union Pacific car inspectors here early Sunday morning and the recovery of the plunder by Long Beach detectives.

With the arrest of Charles Gilmacher, 36 years of age, 136 Daisy avenue, police say they found cigars, cigarettes, canned goods, vacuum cleaners and a general line of hardware at his home, the goods having been stolen from box cars over a period of several months. On information furnished the police by Gilmacher, Albert E. Kimball, 744 East Sixth street, was arrested and another quantity of goods recovered, police say.

The arrests here were the seventh and eighth in a series started several days ago by Los Angeles police. Gilmacher, as chief car inspector for the Union Pacific at Los Angeles, was said to be the head of the gang of car thieves who have been systematically robbing freight cars. Losses by the railroad have exceeded $75,000, police say. Gilmacher's home in Long Beach was used by the gang as a distributing headquarters and four agencies had been established by the gang in as many Southern California towns, the police say. The plunder was being disposed of to merchants throughout the southern portion of the State, officers say.

Gilmacher, police declared, has confessed to the operations of the gang. He is held without bail on twenty-two counts. The prisoners were taken to Los Angeles.

SUBMARINES TO QUIT PORT

Eighteen Ships to Go to Asiatic Station; Ten Are to Come Here from Duty Off China

Preparations are underway, it was learned yesterday aboard the flagship California, for the transfer from Los Angeles Harbor to a station in the Asiatic of the eighteen new S-type submarines of Divisions 16 and 17, as well as their tenders, the U.S.S. Beaver and U.S.S. Canopus. Division 17, the first to go, is now at the Mare Island navy yard fitting out for the long cruise across the Pacific.

The ships will be replaced here by the ten S-type submarines of Divisions 12 and 18, now completing two years of duty at the China station. The force then will be brought to full strength of units by the addition of submarines now being completed on the east coast.

News of the change in station of the undersea craft is received in local naval circles with considerable interest, in that practically all the more than 1000 officers and men of the two divisions have established homes at this base. The submarines also all came here fresh from their builders' yards and ran their acceptance and shakedown trials off this port.

Division 16, in command of Commander C. S. Kerrick and comprised of the S-30, S-31, S-32, S-33, S-34 and S-35, arrived yesterday from San Diego after completing torpedo practice with the destroyer squadrons. The force was conveyed by the tender Beaver and will complete its practices off the local base with units of the battleship force.

Division 17, in command of Commander D. A. Weaver, includes the S-36, S-37, S-38, S-39, S-40, S-41, S-42, S-43 and S-44. The last three have not yet been commissioned.

The submarines which will come here from the Asiatic, on station at the Cavite (P. I.) base, include Division 12, the S-4, S-6, S-7, S-8 and S-9, commanded by Commander W. F. Callaway, and Division 18, the S-2, S-14, S-15, S-16 and S-17, commanded by Commander R. C. Needham.

Every effort is being made by battle fleet officials to recruit the submarine divisions to full strength and to have these new men suitably trained for the trans-Pacific cruise. From the draft of enlisted men arriving from the east coast today aboard the transport Argonne 85 per cent will go to the submarine divisions.

Among the officers arriving aboard the Argonne will be Commander E. S. Root, formerly executive officer of the Coco Solo (C. Z.) submarine base, who will tomorrow take over his new post as executive officer of the U.S.S. Nevada, relieving Commander Abram Claude.

FORTIETH DIVISION SOLDIERS TO MEET

A meeting of former members of the Fortieth Division, which was stationed at Camp Kearny and later known as the Sixth Depot Division, A.E.F., will be held tomorrow noon in the cafe on the eighth floor of the Broadway Department Store. An effort is being made to bring those formerly connected with this division together in an organization. Col. Charles E. Sisson of Norwalk is acting president and Maj. R. I. Vollmer of 118 East Sixteenth street is acting secretary. Maj. Vollmer formerly was division adjutant.

MAIL CARRIERS ADDED

Announcement was made yesterday by Postmaster P. P. O'Brien that six additional mail carriers had been added to the staff at the Hollywood branch postoffice at Highland and Hawthorne avenues. With the six new men, Hollywood now has sixty-three carriers, one rural and three parcel post deliverymen, making a total of sixty-seven employed in distributing mail.

FLEET CHIEF ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

Admiral Robison to be on Selection Board; Wiley Now in Command

Officers of his staff attended the side as Admiral Samuel S. Robison, commander-in-chief of the United States Battle Fleet, went down the gangplank of the flagship California yesterday en route to Washington as a member of the naval selection board. He will rejoin the fleet at this base about June 17, next.

Admiral Robison is being accompanied east by Admiral E. Coonts, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, who also will sit as a member of the selection board this year. Admiral Coonts will rejoin his flagship, the United States steamship Seattle, at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, where the vessel is undergoing extensive overhauling.

The naval selection board, during its month of convention at Washington, will appoint more than 150 new captains, commanders and lieutenant-commanders to the line of the Navy.

The president of this year's board will be Admiral Edward W. Eberle, now chief of naval operations, and formerly here as head of the Battle Fleet. In addition to Admirals Coonts and Robison, the other members will be: Rear-Admiral Marbury Johnston president of the naval examining board; Rear-Admiral Clarence S. Williams, president of the Naval War College; Rear-Admiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the general board; Rear-Admiral Joseph Strauss, Rear-Admiral William R. Shoemaker, Rear-Admiral Charles F. Hughes and Lieutenant-Commander W. A. Edwards of the Bureau of Navigation.

During the absence of Admiral Robison the Battle Fleet will be under command of Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commanding the battleship divisions.

Business Man's Trial Opens on Murder Charge

J. J. Kelly, a local business man, went on trial yesterday in Judge Avery's court on a charge of second-degree murder growing out of the death of Mrs. Sarah Joy, who is asserted to have been injured fatally when struck by an automobile driven by Kelly.

The accident was said to have occurred at Sixteenth and Ardmore streets last February.

Kelly also is charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, which offense is classified as a felony by California laws. The law provides that one causing a death while committing a felony is guilty of murder and it was on this ground that the murder indictment was returned against Kelly.

The Charm of Color Harmony in the Home

A delicate gray and blue inlaid linoleum in tile effect (pattern 352) was used to cover the floor of this living porch. The adjoining living room was decorated in the Colonial spirit, and a quaint pattern of inlaid linoleum (pattern 323) was used on the floor.

NATURALLY every woman wants her home to appear attractive, crisp, cleanly, and above all, cheerful. But how can she make it so? It would be easy if every housekeeper could afford to employ an interior decorator, but she can't.

Most wives nowadays have to make a little money go a long way. So they purchase moderate priced but worth-while hangings, furniture and floor-coverings that will blend with the color schemes which they have in mind, and thus make their homes present a hospitable and comfortable appearance.

Many have discovered what their European cousins learned long ago: that the simpler and less expensive types of floor coverings are growing in popularity among interior decorators and women of refined tastes, and that genuine linoleum, made the Blabon way, offers the widest selection of colorings and patterns available in floor coverings, and consequently lends itself to colorful and distinctive interiors—for living rooms, dining rooms, sun porches, halls and bedrooms.

Blabon Linoleum is well made, well finished and has as much artistry in coloring or pattern as the more expensive types of floor coverings. There is nothing cheap-looking or shoddy about genuine linoleum. Because it is made of oxidized linseed oil and cork, pressed on a stout burlap back, it is especially tough and durable, yet it is noiseless and resilient to walk upon. Dust cannot work into a Blabon floor. It is sanitary and mothproof.

Being easily cleaned, linoleum makes housework easier. In Blabon Inlaid and Plain Linoleum the colors and patterns go through to the burlap back and never wear off during the long life of the linoleum. An occasional waxing and polishing is all the care required, and it will wear for years, and always look like new.

The right way to lay linoleum is to cement it over a layer of builders' deadening felt paper, which should first be pasted to the floor with linoleum paste. This overcomes bulging and stretching, makes the seams water-tight and practically invisible, and prolongs the life of the floor.

Look for the Blabon label and ask for Blabon Art Linoleum by name. It is sold by good furniture and department stores. If your dealer hasn't it, write us his name and we will see that you are supplied.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAD LEVY

Among the charming young brides-elect whose weddings will be interesting and beautiful events in the early part of June is Miss Eleanor Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of 738 West Forty-fifth street. Miss Johnson has chosen Saturday afternoon, June 7, as the date for her marriage to Harvey L. Dowell, and the ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the West Adams Methodist Church. Mrs. William Tritt will be the matron of honor and the bridesmaids will include Miss Geraldine Minert and Miss Phyllis Knell. Miss Johnson was maid of honor at the wedding the 17th inst. of Miss Ethelyn Ballantyne and Cedric M. Baldwin, which took place in the quaint little Church of Our Saviour, San Gabriel. Numerous charmingly arranged affairs have been given honoring this attractive young bride-elect, and this evening a shower will be given by her Delta Chi Omega Sorority sisters at the home of Miss Violet Johnson on South Figueroa street.

Engagement Announced

Formal announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. John Merle Pendleton of South Grand avenue of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Madelyn Merle Pendleton, to Paul Frank Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Jones of West Twenty-fifth street. The wedding will be one of the events of June 14 and will take place in Memorial Baptist Church. Several attractive affairs have been given in honor of Miss Pendleton and Mr. Jones, among them a shower and dinner with which Miss Irene and Miss Verona Fersch entertained, and recently Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jones were hosts at a dinner party honoring their son and his fiancee.

Afternoon Tea

One of the most interesting affairs of the near future will be the tea with which Miss Elizabeth Schaefer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. G. Schaefer, is entertaining Friday afternoon, June 6, at her parents' home on Lorraine Boulevard, honoring Miss Muriel Noland, who will be graduated from Marlboro School next month. The guests will include many of the Marlboro students and the charming young hostess will be assisted by Miss Mary Hampton, Miss Dorothy Thayer, Miss Consuella Baker, Miss Janice Jackson, Miss Beatrice Bixby, Miss Charlotte Edwards and Miss Mary Elizabeth Levin.

Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gephard Meyler of South Figueroa street have returned from a visit at Hotel del Coronado, where they motored for a week's outing.

Wedding Party

Miss Ruth Crowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crowell of Pasadena, has chosen June 3 as the date for her marriage to John Fairchild Myrick, son of the Nathaniel Myricks of West Twenty-eighth street. The ceremony will take place in the First Baptist Church of the Crown City, Rev. John Marvin Dean officiating. Mrs. Benjamin Bennett will assist her sister as matron of honor and the bridesmaids will include Miss Elsy Jane Myrick, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Cassandra Weemery, Miss Marceline Kaiser and Miss Elizabeth Crowell. Nathaniel Charles Myrick will be his brother's best man and the ushers will be John Crutcher, Joseph B. Lippincott, Jr., Robert McHenry, Philip Chapman, Fred W. Cole and Paul Crowell. Little Barbara Theresa Mott, daughter of the John G. Motts, will be the little flower girl, being the cousin of the bridegroom. Many attractive affairs have been given honoring Miss Crowell, and several others are being planned for the near future.

Musical Tea

Mrs. George Eugene Morrill has issued invitations for a musicale and tea which she is planning for Tuesday afternoon, June 3, at the Gaylord on Wilshire Boulevard. Two hundred and twenty-five guests have been bidden and an attractive program will be contributed by Flora Myers Engel, soprano, and Raymond Harmon, baritone. Mrs. Morrill will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Nora Puterbaugh, Mrs. T. R. Hudson, Mrs. Frank Ball, Mrs. L. M. Fahrney, Mrs. E. L. Paddock, Mrs. James H. Bushart, Mrs. H. C. Kimbrough, Mrs. T. J. Haas, Mrs. J. P. Cunningham, Mrs. C. E. Millar, Mrs. P. W. Paupart, Mrs. O. W. McConnell, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mrs. H. S. Chapman and Mrs. A. L. Twidale.

Afternoon Affair

Mrs. George Baker Anderson has issued cards for a tea at her home on South Wilton Place Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, honoring Miss Rosemary Bryant.

Informal Tea

Mrs. John Newton Russell, Jr., is entertaining informally with a tea at her home on Hobart Boulevard in honor of Mrs. S. L. Krider (Florence Moore) tomorrow afternoon, the hours being from 3 to 5 o'clock. No cards have been issued. The hostess will be assisted by Miss Mary Foy, Mrs. Margaret J. Frick, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Roy Jones, Mrs. Thomas A. Hould, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. Morris Albee, Mrs. George H. Reynolds, Mrs. Charles Stivers, Mrs. Gustav Bjorkman, Mrs. E. B. Wakeman, Mrs. Frank Burnival Peard, Mrs. Seeley W. Mudd, Mrs. A. N. Davidson, Mrs. W. W. Stilson, Mrs. W. A. E. Noble, Mrs. Morris Elsasser, Mrs. William K. Chambers, Mrs. Spencer H. Smith, Mrs. Lemuel J. Selby, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Edwin S. Rowley, Mrs. Eli P. Clark, Miss Grace Hecht and Mrs. Cornelia Kirkland.

In the North

Mrs. Harold O. Ayer of Pasadena, who has been for the past month in San Francisco, has been joined by her attractive daughter, Miss Alice Ayer. They are planning an indefinite stay in the north and have taken a house for the summer at San Mateo.

For Bride-elect

Honoring Miss Helen M. Root, who will become the bride of Clarence Starr Roberts, June 24, a charmingly arranged luncheon and shower were given by her sister, Mrs. J. Hamilton Fiske of Irving Boulevard. Miss Root has been the motif for numerous affairs since the announcement of her engagement, among them being a tea and shower given at the home of Mrs. Albert N. Colton on Windsor Boulevard. Mrs. Edwin B. Prideaux is planning a tea; a bridge and mah jongg party will be given by Mrs. Henry J. Schultheis, and a luncheon having as hostess Mrs. J. Langdon Root are among the many affairs before the wedding day. Miss Root is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins Root of Arapahoe street.

In the North

Mrs. M. Stevenson Hay has been enjoying a delightful visit in the north, where she has been for the past few months with her daughters, Miss Ruby Hay and Miss Elizabeth Hay, in Berkeley. Miss Ruby Hay received the degree of bachelor of arts at the University of California recently. They will pass June at Carmel before returning to Los Angeles.

Visiting Cousins

Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Pride of Courtland, N. Y., are visiting in Southern California, and while in Los Angeles are guests at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Clark, on North Curson avenue.

CHARMING HOSTESS OF SEASON

[Hoover Art Studios]

Miss Marion Boogar

ONE of the attractive young society belles who is doing much entertaining this season is Miss Boogar, who entertained recently with a charmingly arranged bridge tea in honor of Miss Mary Alice Miller whose marriage to Donald H. Ayres will be one of the events of next month.

Mayor Off for East on Three Weeks' Vacation

Mayor Cryer will leave this morning with Mrs. Cryer for three weeks' vacation trip to the East, and while the Mayor is absent President Boyle Workman of the City Council will be Acting Mayor.

No action is expected until Mayor Cryer returns on the resignation of Public Service Commissioner John L. A. Burton, as the commissioner's resignation has not been formally accepted.

The Council yesterday referred the appointment of C. J. Elsasser as a member of the Police Commission to succeed Dr. S. T. Montgomery, resigned, to the Public Safety Committee, and the appointment of Philip R. Johnson to the Board of Public Utilities to succeed John P. Kennedy, resigned, was referred to the Public Utilities Committee. The appointments require confirmation by the Council.

How to Make Pineapple Jam

By Ann Proctor

Most every housewife uses fresh pineapple, but very few indeed know that with it you can now make one of the most delicious jams you ever tasted. As a spread on bread or toast it is just great; on ice cream or custards it is both attractive and delicious; on cream cheese and crackers it is perfect, and it makes one of the finest cake fillers you ever used. It is also easy to make now. Even a child can do it in a few minutes, and the cost is only a few cents per glass. Here is the way to do it:

Pear and slice fresh pineapple. Cut into small pieces, discarding center and put through food chopper or chop very fine. Measure 4 level cups (1 lbs.) chopped fruit into large kettle. Add 7½ level cups (3¼ lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for one minute. Remove from fire and stir in one bottle (scant cup) CERTO. Skim and pour quickly.

The whole secret of this quick and easy way of making pineapple jam is CERTO, because CERTO supplies the natural fruit pectin which is lacking in pineapple. Without this added pectin no one could ever make pineapple jam. CERTO contains no gelatine—it is simply the "jell" property of fruit refined and concentrated and made convenient for home use.

CERTO is sold by all grocers with complete recipe book attached. With CERTO you only boil your fruit one minute, so that none of the juice with its color and flavor is boiled away. Best of all it never fails to make perfect jam and jelly, and is highly endorsed by government authorities, domestic science teachers and cooking editors.

Daily Fashion Hints from VOGUE

Black Satin for the Older Woman

The black satin mode is very becoming to the women of fair coloring and that air of perfect assurance without which one much better stick to street slim in effect, the satin frock sketched has several charms for the woman who isn't as slim herself as she wishes to be. The crossed "line of the upper vest is good, the slight fullness back and at the sides is the an overfull figure, yet the front panel gives the effect straight frock. Cuffs, of course are of organdie, too, and with ribbons.

Daily Fashion Hints From

VOGUE

Black Satin for the Older Woman

The black satin mode is very becoming to the woman of decided coloring and that air of poise and assurance without which one had much better stick to crepe! Though slim in effect, the satin frock sketched has several advantages for the woman who isn't as slender herself as she wishes to look, for the crossed "line of the upside vest is good, the slight fullness in back and at the sides is kind to an overfull figure, yet the plain front panel gives the effect of a straight frock. Cuffs, of course, are of organdie, too, tied with the ribbons.

Although patent leather shoes aren't as new as lizard or alligator, their satin-like surfaces makes them ideal for wear with this particular dress, and steel buckles give them an accent.

EMPLOYING ENGINEERS IS ORDERED

Council Takes Action to Assure Quick Preparation of Street Ordinances

Temporary employment of twenty engineers to complete the preparation of long-accumulated public improvement ordinances for street paving and other work totaling $50,000,000 was authorized yesterday by the City Council, which has agreed to spend $10,000 a month for four months for the services of these engineers.

The City Engineer's office is swamped with petitions for public improvements, and even if the additional help is given the engineering there is not room at the City Hall for the men to work. So, under the Council's action, these petitions can be worked on and the ordinances prepared under the direction of the City Engineer at outside engineering offices employed by the City Engineer.

As soon as the ordinances are prepared and presented to the Council they will be adopted and the contracts for the work awarded by the Board of Public Works. By the Council's action yesterday the starting of an immense program of public improvement work was made possible and many miles of paved streets and sidewalks, curbs and gutters will be laid during the next two years months. The program calls for the paving of twelve important traffic arteries, including the western end of West Adams street.

PROMINENT PROFESSORS FOR SESSION

Thirty-five Educators to Form Visiting Faculty of University This Summer

Thirty-five well-known professors will constitute the visiting faculty at the summer session of the University of Southern California. The summer session this year will be divided into two sections, the first to start June 16 and the second to conclude August 2.

In addition to the visiting faculty, fifty-six members of the regular faculty of the university will take part in the summer session, making the largest combined faculty in the history of the summer session at the university.

Among the faculty will be to appear on the platform are Dr. Frank Wilson Blackmar of the University of Kansas; Dr. Ira Windsor Brown of Ohio State University; Joan Corser of the Cleveland School of Art; Pupils of Albert Eiwell of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. A. Baird Hastings of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, and Dr. Henry Ridgely Lane of the University of Texas.

Chief of Police August Vollmer will conduct lectures in criminology.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

WHEN MEN SHED TEARS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

I don't think even women cry now as easily as they used to. Even the children seem to leave off crying earlier, younger.

We seem to be hardening up quite a bit.

And I am afraid we don't entirely believe that.

"The drying of a single tear has more of honest fame than shedding seas of gore."

Perhaps that is because tears are so often occasioned by self-pity, and so seldom "shine with such luster as the tear that flows down Virtue's manly cheek for others' woes."

Men have always been ashamed of tears—even the lustrous tears that flow for others' woes.

It is rather a terrible thing to see a man weep real tears—outside of the alcoholic variety. For that generally means deep and disastating despair.

I have only seen three men weep in all my life. Weep, that is, for sheer hopeless misery.

And these men's tears were all the outcome of sin, for the misery that sin had begotten, for the despair created by their own sinning. Not really self-pity but rather self-shame. And all three of them were much beloved men, men who had been trusted and revered, even, in their field, distinguished men. And all three of them had failed in tremendous trusts, failed the faith of their fellow-men.

One had failed in a political trust, one in a financial trust, one in a marital trust.

They were not crying because the world had served them scurvily, but because they had served the world scurvily. They cried for honor and conscience sake.

And any other kind of men's tears would be cheap and tawdry, in such cases. It is so terrible a thing to see a man weep—just because their tears are so bitterly significant.

Tradition permits women a little discreet weeping—a recognized weapon and solace of the weak. We have long exercised our right to a "good cry," which can prove so very comforting. We were even prone to exercise our privilege of a "bad" cry—cheap tears of self-pity to attain trifling ends. It wasn't to our credit.

A world in which men cried as easily as women used to would be unthinkable, contemptible indeed. Then indeed, we could tremble for the fate of humanity.

Under a great many circumstances it has almost been considered indecent for women not to cry. Tears were supposed to be evidence of our finer sympathies, our more refined sensitiveness. But all the same, we are beginning to recognise that weeping women cut very little ice in the world and that our practical efficiency is infinitely more appreciated than our tears even when these are shed for other people's woes.

As our scope widens and our responsibilities increase and our intellectual and practical opportunities broaden, other women at least are apt to feel small patience with our tears of self-pity, no matter what the male tolerance toward them.

And even men, I think, take the tears of women less seriously nowadays. There was some excuse for us before the days of emancipation, in the era of our pitiful dependence. But now any sorrow inspiring us to tears has to be a pretty reasonably sizable sorrow—and preferably not entirely selfish. We can still embarrass men with our tears, but it isn't so easy to move them as it was. In fact, most of the old-fashioned form of feminine tears have become just plain tiresome and silly. We are not expected to be silly any more. And certainly not to receive sympathy for it if we are. Those sorts of tears are on a par with men's alcoholic tears—which really are the most contemptible tears. The only thing worse are women's alcoholic tears. Worse because our sober tears can be so pitiful, anyway.

It is well that tears should become more precious, more poignant, more rare and therefore more vital; that they should be reserved for tremendous soul-hurts, for soul-washing remorses, for tragic agonies. I should say that this masculine instinct against cheap and easy tears has played no small part in their world dominance.

But perhaps where they have failed is in loading their capacity for recognizing the great occasions for tears that have been theirs, in so damming up their tears with cynicism that they could no longer even weep for their souls' sake. So many of them in high places have missed the soul-shaking remorse of dishonor and brazened it out.

For so long we have grappled that old tradition to our hearts that "Men must work and women must weep." Perhaps what the world needs for a spell is that women must work and men must weep—but weep only as strong men weep, for the sin that is in them, for the trusts they have betrayed, for the misery they have wrought.

It was Scott who wrote "But woe awaits a country when she sees the tears of bearded men."

Perhaps we need a little of that kind of woe.

VAN NORMAN SALARY JUMP RECOMMENDED

Increase of the salary of Consulting Engineer H. A. Van Norman, who is building the $12,000,000 outfall sewer and connecting lateral sewers, from $14,000 a year to $12,000 a year, was recommended yesterday by the City Council's Finance Committee. The increase was proposed by the Board of Public Works and was recommended in recognition of the $5,000,000 saving which Engineer Van Norman has made in the building of the sewer and the speed with which he is doing the work. Engineer Van Norman was loaned by the water department to the Board of Public Works for the sewer construction job.

THREE BOYS HURT IN CAR

Three boys were injured shortly before noon yesterday when a car in which they were riding near the Vermont-avenue entrance to Griffith Park threw a wheel, ran into a bank and turned over. The boys, who gave their names as George Peterman, 16 years of age; Bert Caster, 16, and Clee Moody, 15, were taken to Receiving Hospital by Hollywood police.

Mr. Burge will show scores of pictures on the screen, all of which were taken by him and his party. Mrs. Burge, who accompanied him throughout his trip, will be with him on the platform. There will be no admission charge. This will be the first public appearance of Mr. Burge since his return.

HEARING THURSDAY ON PROPOSAL ON PARKING

The first of a series of hearings by the Parking Survey Committee of protests against the committee's recommendations for changes in parking on downtown streets, will be given at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at Room 23, City Hall. R. W. Pridham is chairman of the committee. Following the filing of recommendations with the Council, there were laid before the Council a number of protests and these will be discussed, after which the committee will file a supplementary report before new parking legislation is enacted.

SONS TO BE SUMMONED TO HEARING

Cleveland Divorce Case Set for June 6; Wife Says Kicking Charge Wrong

Hearing of the divorce suit of Guy C. Cleveland against Gladys T. Cleveland was continued yesterday until June 6 to allow time for execution of an order issued by Judge Deasy requiring that their two sons be brought into the jurisdiction of the court from Orange, N. J., where they are living with Mrs. Cleveland's parents.

Cleveland is a scion of a prominent New Jersey family. According to the cross complaint of Mrs. Cleveland, he receives an income of between $15,000 and $18,000 a year from the estate of his father, the late George Cleveland of Orange.

Cleveland's charge that his wife on one occasion humiliated him by an exhibition of high kicking, in the course of which she lost a petticoat, was denied by Mrs. Cleveland in her answer. She declared the incident caused him no humiliation at all, inasmuch as whatever actually happened took place during a friendly contest among some of the women guests at a party. The Clevelands formerly lived in Pasadena and Santa Monica. Lengthy depositions taken in New York and in Orange and Newark, N. J., are part of the preliminary record of the case.

Child Awarded to Mother as Her Safeguard

Sensational charges made in the pleadings of the divorce suit of Mildred Tami and John Tami were omitted at the hearing of the case yesterday by Judge Louis H. Ward, who said he believed such action would expedite the trial and spare the minor child of the parties.

Mrs. Tami accused her husband of beating and choking her, while Tami charged his wife, who he said was employed as an instructor in a North Main-street dance hall, with signing a statement in which she declared the child was not her husband's.

"I am not nearly so interested in this case as I am in the future of the child," said the court. "It is evident the couple ought to be divorced, but I believe the child should be spared.

"If this mother is deprived of the custody of her child now she will go straight to the dogs. If she is given the responsibility of caring for the boy, it was probably be to her great advantage."

Tami had intended to oppose the granting of the care of the child to his wife, but after a consultation of attorneys he agreed to let the case go by default.

ASKS COURT TO SET ASIDE DELONG WILL

Suit to set aside the will of Alfred B. DeLong, disposing of a $50,000 estate, was filed yesterday by Thomas Palmer Stephens of Detroit, who asserts he is the sole heir. Relatives of DeLong's deceased wife, the complaint recited, influenced him to draw up a will in their favor, by taking advantage of the infirmity of his 75 years. Principal beneficiaries under the will are Herbert W. Potter, Raymond S. Potter, Barbara K. Wagner, Clarence S. Potter, Warren T. Potter and John P. Webster.

How Can A Mirror Lie?

Eight feet away from a mirror a woman with a coarse skin may look beautiful. But when she stands close up, the mirror does not lie. Real beauty depends on a fine textured skin — a skin whose pores are as fine as in childhood. And it is this simple truth which Vivaudou of Paris has so well utilized in the creation of his new astringent cream which

Keeps Pores Young

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ISOLATION BEFORE DIAGNOSIS, No. II.

In yesterday's paper, I gave you direct quotations from an article in the March number of the American Journal of Public Health, written by W. C. Sieker, health officer of Shorewood, Wis. In the part I gave you yesterday, Dr. Sieker confessed that the Board of Health, of which he was a member, had failed in preventing the spread of the preventable diseases, and that when they began to isolate first, and diagnose afterward, and to placard on suspicion, "the results were gratifying beyond all hope and expectation."

No child was permitted to remain in school when it had a cold, or a cough or a sore throat, or was otherwise indisposed, no matter how mild the symptoms.

"It was pointed out to the citizens that this policy was made necessary by reason of the fact that the medical profession had not yet advanced far enough to enable the most skilled within its ranks to differentiate between whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other so-called children's diseases, from an ordinary cough, sore throat, or a common cold when the first symptoms appeared, and that at the outset the diseases in question are already exceedingly contagious. 'Isolation first and diagnosis afterward' was to be the invariable rule.

"The second point in the new program consisted of placarding houses on suspicion. When clinical symptoms were inconclusive, but circumstance warranted a suspicion, homes were placarded 'whooping cough suspected,' 'influenza suspected,' 'scarlet fever suspected,' as the case might be, and the same quarantine regulations were maintained as though there was no question as to the diagnosis. Though quite a number of homes have been placarded on suspicion, the number of erroneous guesses has been negligible. The virtue of this expedient lies in the fact that erroneous guesses never result in injury to anyone, while a 'correct' suspicion is often the means of preventing much needless suffering.

"There should be isolated from the very moment first symptoms appear. The possibility of contagion should be taken into account from the very outset, and the afflicted member should be kept apart from others within and without the household from the very beginning. The channels of communication should be broken long before placarding upon definite diagnosis is possible."

Now this article, while it is written primarily for the American Public Health Association, is just as valuable for all of us. It is quite probable that every health department may take up similar precautions, since Dr. Sieker has shown that they are so effective, and it is well that you know about them.

We now believe that most of the infectious diseases are given to others by discharges from the nose and throat of the sick person, and that those who come in contact with the sick person are the ones who are liable to contract and spread such diseases.

As soon as a child is ill, in any way, he should be put to bed in a room by himself, and everyone kept out of the room except the attendant, until he is seen by the physician and a diagnosis is made. The mother or the caretaker should have a gown which she can put on as she enters the sick room and take off before she leaves. She should wash her hands thoroughly with strong soap and water before leaving the room. The dishes and all utensils should be used only for the patient.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES BIDS ON CITY BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the City Council and opened at 10:30 a.m. on June 3 for $11,433,000 municipal bonds of various issues, as the result of resolutions adopted yesterday by the Council. The bonds to be sold are of the following issues: $6,000,000 harbor, $1,000,000 police, $400,000 fire boat, $1,000,000 bridge repairs, $1,000,000 viaduct, $600,000 incinerators, $500,000 playground, $1,330,000 central public library. The maximum interest rate was set by the Council at 4 3-4 per cent.

VOLLMER ADVANCED FUND

Police Chief Vollmer is to be advanced $1500 from the city's reserve fund to be repaid when the $1,600,000 police bonds are sold next month, in order to obtain options at once on the land for the eleven new police substations to be built under the bond issue. The Council already has advanced Chief Vollmer $1000 and an additional $500 will be appropriated today.

A FELLOW of FOREIGN FAME

ON days gone by, when European aristocracy gathered round the festive board, gold plates held for them the culinary masterpieces of CHARLES GRETHER, brother of Ernest Grether, Genii of The Elite. Gold medals attest aristocracy's approval of Charles' catering skill.

The war . . . the dimming of aristocracy's glories . . . and Charles joined Brother Ernest in service to American epicures.

And whatever foreign dish you fancy, that you may procure, upon a few hours' notice, through the association of this Fellow of Foreign Fame with The Elite Caterers.

What Is Neuritis?

Neuritis is an inflammation of the nerves that produces sharp, darting pain very similar to that of rheumatism. In fact, the disease is often mistaken for rheumatism and treated as such, with the result that the sufferer gets no lasting benefit.

Neuritis is usually brought on by colds, injuries, bruises, nervous exhaustion, malarial poisoning or infectious diseases. The pain may be confined to one spot or it may move from place to place. Sometimes it is accompanied by soreness in the muscles, numbness in the hands or feet, lame back, stiff joints, eye strain or severe headaches.

The only way to obtain permanent lasting relief is to heal the affected nerves—get rid of the inflammation. Espo Neuritis Tablets are compounded for that very purpose. Harmless, pleasant and effective. A trial package will convince you. Price, $1.00. Sold in Los Angeles by the Owl and Sun Drug Stores and all other leading druggists. is a Prescription for Colds, Grippe, Dengue Fever, Constipation, Bilious Headaches and Malarial Fever.

Deep down under your skin are the tiny nerves that cause your itching

STUBBORN rashes, eczema, skin disorders small and serious! You cannot hope to relieve them with mere surface salves and remedies. It is below the outer surface of your skin that the real irritation lies—deep down where cells are clogged with poisonous germs, where tissues are swollen and inflamed.

Yet there is a way that will bring almost immediate relief. To thousands of sufferers from every kind of skin affection, careful physicians are today recommending Resinol Ointment as a safe and effective remedy. Absolutely pure, healing, mildly antiseptic, Resinol will often soothe away in a day or so the most stubborn rash, or the most trifling blemish.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, try Resinol. Get a jar at your druggist's today, or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 29, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

WOBBLIES TOLD SPIRIT OF LAW

Judge Pleads With Youths Freed on Technicality

Lack of Class Distinction in Country Stressed

Men Told to Form Home Ties and be Good Citizens

"In our country there is no class or distinction, other than that which is the result of merit; in our country the majority rules," said Judge Crail yesterday in speaking in court to nineteen defendants accused of criminal syndicalism.

The court sustained a demurrer in favor of the defendants and released them, but with words of warning regarding their wrong conception of the laws and the operation of them in the United States. The charges were against R. M. Bigelow and eighteen other defendants. The court ordered that bail be exonerated and the defendants released, no cause of action existing because of the technical points raised. Previous to this the defendants were permitted to withdraw a plea of not guilty on the ground they were in court without counsel and not cognizant of their legal rights. Their trial had been set for yesterday.

In part, the court spoke as follows:

"Early in the progress of the case your attitude toward the court was fearful and rebellious; you spoke of being railroaded to the pen, of being kangarooed. When the judge of this department gave you a pleasant smile, one of your number referred to it as sneering at you.

DEFINES CAPITALISM

"Your organization, I am informed, stands for the destruction of the capitalistic system, and the taking over of all means of production by the workers.

"Throughout the ages the human race has struggled for existence; to a large extent it has been a struggle of the individuals of the human race and the survival of the fittest; it has been a struggle against the hardships of winter and against the heat of summer, against the seasons of famine and against seasons of thirst; man has struggled to gather together food, shelter and clothing and as civilization became more complex and man more thrifty, he has endeavored to lay aside something for the future. What you call the capitalistic system is the result of the efforts of the human race to survive and provide for itself.

"You, I believe, attempt to divide mankind into two classes—the capitalists and workers—but success in human affairs comes through honesty, diligence, thrift, foresight and other homely virtues, and the man whom you seek to class as a capitalist has more than likely won his success from working early in the morning to late at night, far and beyond the hours of those who are discontented with our present system.

"Young men, look about you for the beautiful and the pleasant. In spite of the abuses, which you have ever in mind, you will find most of the people with same leisure, you will find most of the people with the necessaries of life and many of its comforts; you will find most of the people happy and contented.

"Our government is a democracy in a republic. It receives its powers only through the consent of its citizens. In our country there is no class or distinction, other than that which is the result of merit; in our country the majority rules. Majority rule is the fundamental axiom of the American government. All our people believe in and accept this rule, unless it be the organization known as the Industrial Workers of the World. In this country there is no need of direct action, criminal syndicalism or sabotage. Our people rely upon the peaceful method of the ballot.

"In conclusion, young men, with a heart full of sympathy for you in your efforts to make the world better, I urge you to get something around you, a home, some funds, a wife and children, you will see more clearly how beautiful the land is in which we live, how clear the sun shines and how sweet the music of life and what opportunities there are for success and happiness."

Ax Manufacturer of East Dies Here After Operation

William Ballard Lockett of New York City, a leader in the ax manufacturing industry, died yesterday at Hotel Darby following an operation for appendicitis eight days ago. With his family he came here three weeks ago for a vacation.

Mr. Lockett was 62 years of age. At the time of his death he was president of the American Ax and Tool Company of Glassport, Pa., a subsidiary of the Kelly Ax Manufacturing Company of Charleston, W. Va. He was located at New York in charge of the export offices of those two corporations and of another subsidiary, the Kelly Handle Company of Memphis, Tenn. He had been in charge of the New York offices for four years. The Kelly corporations are the largest ax manufacturing interests in the world.

Mr. Lockett leaves a widow, Mrs. Blanche Kelly Lockett, and a daughter, Miss Celeste Ballard Lockett. They had accompanied him here.

The body will be taken to Knoxville, Tenn., where members of Mr. Lockett's family now reside, for interment there. The family originally was of Mississippi.

TO DIVIDE EXPENSE OF CROSSING ELIMINATION

The California Railroad Commission is to be asked by the City Council to establish the division of expense between the city and the Pacific Electric Railway Company for the elimination of the grade crossing of the railway at Pico Boulevard and the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm water ditch on the Sawtelle line of the railway. Elimination of the grade crossing by the building of a trestle will cost $244,000.

FUNNY BONE ANXIOUS TO BE TICKLED

Laugh Editor of "Times" is Awaiting Your Offering in Film Contest

Pat couldn't locate the keyhole. His wife, hearing the disturbance, called: "Is that you, Pat?"

"Sure," Pat replied, "who else would ye be expectin' at 2 'colock in the marnin'?"

B. A. BAKER,
504 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

If The Times Local Laugh Committee had laughed just a bit louder, the foregoing would have won a place on the "Local Laugh" film now being produced for the amusement of theater patrons. Anyhow, it received honorable mention.

Each week a new reel is made up of the best contributions of wit and humor sent in by readers. The best laugh wins $5. Other prizes are $3, $2 and twelve of $1 each.

As the film is produced for the enjoyment of theater audiences and as part of the interest in it is seeing who the successful contestants are, the announcement of prize winners will be made on the film itself, each joke bearing the name and address of the successful contributor. However, shortly after the film has been released, each prize winner will be notified individually by letter.

Hundreds of readers are sending in jokes, but more are wanted, in order that the "Local Laughs" film may be truly representative of Southern California's sense of humor.

Keep jokes within thirty words. Original ones have the best chance. Get your pencil and scissors and clip the coupon inside, which tells the names of theaters where "Local Laughs" will be shown. New theaters will be added from day to day as rapidly as booking arrangements permit.

Tells of Finding Aged Mate in Home of Nurse

Testimony of Mrs. Mary W. West that her husband, Amos L. West, 76-year-old wealthy capitalist, was discovered in the home of Mrs. Margaret Wilson at Long Beach when Mrs. West engineered a raid, featured the hearing of the divorce case brought by Mrs. West yesterday in Superior Judge Thompson's court. Mrs. West charged cruelty and accused her husband of association with Mrs. Wilson, formerly employed by West as a nurse for his mother.

Mrs. West, who is 65, was on the stand virtually all day yesterday. The raid, she said, was executed by detectives at her instance on Mrs. Wilson's home at 243 Magnolia street, Long Beach. Mrs. West also testified that West bought an automobile for Mrs. Wilson and hired a chauffeur to teach her to run it. When Mrs. West bought herself a machine, she said, her husband allowed her to learn to run it by herself.

The Wests were separated on September 9, 1921. West, in a cross-complaint, charged that his wife deserted him on that date. The case has dragged through the courts for more than two years.

The hearing will be continued today.

Trio Arested as Delegates of Wobblies

Three asserted Wobbly delegates were arrested at Wilmington yesterday after a fleeing car carrying the fugitives was overtaken by Sergt. Currie and Officers Greenhaw and Perkins.

The men gave their names as J. W. Walsh, Thomas Sullivan and E. H. Black, 587 Fries avenue, Wilmington.

The police report seeing the men distributing I.W.W. literature from the car and gave pursuit. The chase was short.

A large amount of literature was seized and police say they removed delegate books and due stamps in the Wobbly organization from each of the men. They were taken to Central station and charged with violating the Busick injunction.

PARKER TAKES FIGHT TO APPEALS TRIBUNAL

ACTION COMES FOLLOWING REFUSAL OF WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Clarence T. Parker carried his fight against removal at Washington, D. C., to answer a charge of deserting his wife, to the Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday after Federal Judge James had denied him a writ of habeas corpus. Parker produced bail and his appeal will be heard next week, it was said.

Although denying the writ, Judge James censured Parker's wife for what he termed her efforts to influence Federal executives in the case. Judge James said he had received a letter from Mrs. Parker and said he understood she had attempted to have members of Congress and Federal officials intercede in her behalf.

Parker is an oil worker employed in Los Angeles.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Rev. B. P. Lee and Three Arraigned On Oil-Fraud Charge

Rev. Baker P. Lee, Theodore Reid, Joseph J. Berliner and Julian G. Girsten, charged with using mails to defraud, pleaded not guilty yesterday before Federal Judge McCormick. The court announced that on July 17 the case would be set for trial.

The four were indicted as a result of the promotion of the Are-Bee Syndicate, an oil concern that operated in the Santa Fe Springs field during the summer of 1923. Mr. Lee, formerly pastor of a fashionable church here, acted as "spieler" for the syndicate, which sold more than $500,000 in units and drilled three wells before it finally ceased operations without having obtained oil.

MARKET SEEN IN AUSTRALIA

Visitor Believes California Fruits Are Wanted

Urges Closer Relation for Trading Activities

Councilman of Sydney Says Beauty Supreme Here

A profitable market for California fruits may be developed in Australia with a little effort, says R. C. Hagen, one of the members of the City Council of Sydney, now a Los Angeles visitor and a guest at the Biltmore.

Mr. Hagen is on his way to England, where he will visit the Wimbledon Exposition being conducted this summer, at which every part of the British Empire is to be represented.

Referring to the fruits grown in California, Mr. Hagen stated he considered them superior to any other in the world and added that this State is to be particularly commended on its advance in fruit production in view of the fact that a considerable area of the districts devoted to fruits is semi-arid.

GOOD MARKETS SEEN

"There is no doubt that Australia could use a large amount of your fruits," he said, "and among the recommendations I shall make to my government upon returning home will be one advocating the development of a system of more extensive reciprocal trade relations between our country and California. It is probable that you could use a greater quantity of our products and I know we could use more of your fruits."

Speaking of his impressions of Los Angeles, Mr. Hagen, who said this was his first visit here, referred especially to the excellence of the streets and roads in this section.

"I motored about the city and its environs to some extent yesterday and I have never seen such wonderful roads anywhere in the world and I have been over most of it," he said. "I shall recommend to the City Council of Sydney that it send engineers over here to study your street and road system."

In mentioning the congestion of the downtown streets, the Australian suggested that he believed a remedy might be found in one-way traffic.

"This has solved our traffic problems to a great extent in Sydney," he said. "There was a time when our streets were almost as congested as yours, and, with the constant increase in automobiles, we still have some congestion, but the one-way system has greatly relieved the situation."

Sheep-raising, which has been one of Australia's chief industries for many years, has been placed on a new basis through a redistribution of lands by the government, within the last three of four years, Mr. Hagen said.

LUCKY NUMBERS

"Most of the great sheep ranches, each including several hundred thousand acres, have reverted to the government and they are now being divided into tracts of 20,000 acres each, which are leased to young men desirous of entering the business of wool growing" he explained. "Once every two weeks there is a drawing of lots, under government supervision, among the applicants for ranches. The lucky number draws a 20,000-acre ranch, which is then leased to the man that holds it at an annual rental of a little more than 2 cents per acre for twenty-five years.

"The lessee may take his lease to any Australian bank, which will advance him £5000 with which to stock his ranch. The object of the government is to encourage young men without capital to embark in sheep raising, and as a result there has been an appreciable increase in the business, especially in Queensland, which is the principal sheep section."

Mr. Hagen said that while Australia maintains strict immigration laws under which most foreigners are barred, the country welcomes young Americans of the right sort who may wish to take up sheep raising or any other line that will develop the resources of the country. Title to lands, however, is never transferred to individuals, but remains forever in the government, leaseholds being the only form of right to ranch lands obtainable.

Keiser to Leave Tomorrow for East Convention

State Real Estate Commissioner Keiser yesterday completed final preparations to attend the National Real Estate convention in Washington June 3 to 6, next. The commissioner will leave tomorrow on the special convention train and will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Helen Keiser.

Following the national convention Mr. Keiser said he will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of State Real Estate Commissioners, also in Washington. The question of what policy the States of the Union may best employ to co-operate in protecting real estate purchasers who buy property located in other States will be discussed.

Before he returns to Los Angeles the California commissioner will meet with several eastern city real estate organizations. He will return by way of the Northwest where he will make a survey of the real estate business in that section.

SEPARATE CHARGES IN POISON DEATH HINTED

Judge Hardy indicated yesterday that he would grant a motion for severance of charges against Mack Guillen, accused of the murder of his brother-in-law and the attempted murder of his wife. It is charged Guillen poisoned wine that was drunk by William Rivera, his brother-in-law, although intended for his wife, Mary Guillen. The case has been set for June 25 next. Guillen is represented by Deputy Public Defender Fulcher. The prosecution is in charge of Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark.

BILL IS SPOTTY

ORPHEUM HAS SOME FINE ACTS, SOME OTHERS

By Grace Kingsley

The Orpheum bill isn't just covered with medals, this week, though there are two or three acts that clang the bell.

I can't see why so delicately beautiful an act as that offered by Elizabeth Brown and Sedano should be put on as the recessional, and left to the mercy of the corn-crushers, who seem to take a delight in leaving in the middle of the last act. Why not put on one of the leather-lunged acts that grace the early part of the bill?

No more exquisite and charming dance revue has been seen at the Orpheum than that of Miss Brown and Senor Sedano present. There are color, perfect rhythm, beautiful dressing, class and some other quality difficult to define which, perhaps, has to do with the combination of these qualities plus the fascinating personalities and the delicate art of the dancers. Both are handsome in face and form as well as superb steppers. Their tango is very beautiful; but outdoing it, indeed offering an enchanting moving picture, is the last dance, in which the dancers appear behind a gauze drop, seated in a swing, representing a famous painting, from which they emerge, clothed only in gold breast plates and trunks, to do a vividly beautiful classic dance. A string quintet proves a valuable asset to the act.

Harry Carroll's new revue is not up to his usual form. It has too little of himself, for one thing. His girls are pretty, and their costumes exquisite, while there are three oustanding personalities in his show. Linda, the high-kicking dancer, throws her legs so high, with such ease in literally every direction, that it doesn't seem possible she can be blessed with ordinary joints. Joe Donahue would be the real star of the show if given a chance. He has looks, personality, an immense comedy sense, and is a great stepper. Zelma O'Neal wins with her smart comedy and cute looks. But despite all these personalities and features, most of the comedy, and indeed the whole revue, lacks originality and flavor.

Opening up are the Medini Trio, who did some remarkable balancing feats.

Indeed, you mustn't miss the first and last acts on the bill, even if you do suffer some boredom in between.

Nancy Decker is pretty and vivacious, but overworks herself and her voice. She is irritating to me rather than stimulating.

Two acts the World of Make Believe and Al K. Hall, present only something that looks like burlesque, by burlesque people. The audience liked them yesterday, however.

FRED NIBLO WILL GO ABROAD THIS WEEK

There is just no keeping Fred Niblo's nose down to the grindstone another week. Having finished, except as to some foreign shots, "The Red Lily," starring Enid Bennett and Ramon Novarro, Mr. Niblo and his wife, Miss Bennett, are preparing to embark on a voyage to Europe, and are even now busy getting their passports. Also there will accompany them Bess Meredith, their little daughter and her governess-nurse.

The Niblos will leave Los Angeles for New York on Thursday of this week, and thence they will sail almost immediately for Europe. Mr. Niblo has crossed the Atlantic no less than twenty-two times, so it looks as though we needn't worry about his being able to find his way about.

The Niblos will visit London, Paris and Monte Carlo, possibly Berlin and Vienna. But while abroad, Mr. Niblo will be working a part of the time, as he means to take some exterior scenes for "The Red Lily" and also for "The Lady," in which he will direct Norma Talmadge. Miss Meredith will adapt this story in Monte Carlo, its location.

Norma Talmadge herself may possibly go abroad for some of the scenes, though nothing definite on this is yet settled.

Mr. Niblo says that while his name has been used in connection with a certain group of directors who are going into the producing business, he is not as a matter of fact aligned with any such organization.

Star May Be Loaned

They think so much of Alice Calhoun over at Vitagraph that they haven't heretofore allowed her to be farmed out to other companies, though she has received many offers. Now, however, President Smith and some of the other officials have relented, and are going to let her go to play in some of the other picture boys' yards.

The lovely Miss Calhoun is the only star whom Vitagraph has retained under contract. She has had several important successes of late, which have made other producers sit up and take notice.

The star recently received an offer from Selznick to go to London and make a picture. She may accept, she said yesterday.

BUSINESS AGENT BACK

Louis Jerome, business manager of Edwin Carewe productions, has arrived here from New York to be associated with the director on his latest picture. Jerome was with the company on the trip to Algiers, where "A Son of the Sahara" was filmed.

A Bow That Any Beau Would Bow To

Clara Bow,

Best Part of Hillstreet Bill Offered First

The two most interesting acts on the new Hillstreet bill come at the very start of the program. All of the others are of usual variety, some slightly unusual but none startlingly so. But Ed Hill is an entetrainer de luxe and De Jari has a voice that could easily put you to sleep.

Hill opens the bill presenting Hattie, of his own creation. He combines a rather clever monologue with a chalk-talk sketch in which he works and reworks one figure into all kinds of interesting people. In fact, Hill is quite an artist at designing hats and drawing furs, working so rapidly you cannot see how he does it, but only the results.

De Jari offers a program of semi-classical songs that isn't at all hard to like. His voice is soft and mellow, with a charming quality that marks him as exceptional at the outset.

Ray Raymond and Dorothy Mackaye started out with some very ordinary material, but by dressing it up they have in "A Chance Acquaintance" something slightly unusual.

Charles Olcott and Polly Ann have the same sort of act, and have done the same sort of thing to it, but along different lines. Grette Ardine does some difficult and interesting dancing in "The French Model," and Ines Courtney dances in a novelty offering she calls "A Personal Appearance."

On the screen Walter Hiers may be seen in "Fair Week," while the second of the Telephone Girl series, "When Knighthood Was in Tower," helps round out the bill.

WELL-KNOWN PLAYERS HOSTS AT EGYPTIAN

Estelle Taylor and Noah Beery were hosts at the 350th performance of Cecil B. De Mille's screen classic at the Hollywood Egyptian Theater last night, when social elect, cinema folk and Mr. and Mrs. General Public gathered to participate in an occasion replete with gala festivities.

Moreover, Miss Taylor and Mr. Beery personally supervised the presentation of two distinctive souvenirs of the occasion which Sid Grauman arranged as mementoes of the celebration. One of the souvenirs consisted of bronze miniatures of the tablets which Moses brought down from the Mount, bearing the fundamental laws of mankind in the same hieroglyphics as the originals. As another reminder of the 350th performance of the big biblical drama, Sid Grauman had made replicas of the Sphinx which De Mille used so effectively in the biblical part of "The Ten Commandments."

HAPPINESS POSSIBLE ON SOUTH SEA ISLE

That happiness can be found far from the haunts of civilization is the theme of "The Marriage Cheat," a Thomas H. Ince production, which is now showing at Tally's Theater. John Griffith Wray directed, from Frank R. Adams's story, and the cast includes Percy Marmont, Leatrice Joy, Adolphe Menjou, Laska Winter, Henry Barrows and J. P. Lackney.

"The Marriage Cheat" is rich in romance and alive with adventure.

JUVENILES' FIRST PLAY

The Juveniles, a newly formed club of young people, will give their first entertainment tonight at the Gamut Club, when "Capt. Kidd, Jr.," a three-act musical comedy by Hazel Madelin Lindoff, will be presented. Rehearsals have been in progress for six weeks. Jack Wilson and Charlotte Stevens have the leading roles.

"GLORIOUS" GLADDENS

"MANHANDLED" SHOWS HER AS A DASHING COMEDIENNE

By Edwin Schallert

Check up another twirling hit for Gloria. She is all around the course this time, and comes out one of the best little comedians in the motion-picture business. I'll wager that "Manhandled" causes not only the flappers to trip down to Grauman's Million Dollar Theater in search of ideas for new clothes and bobs, but that it also brings out a grand and glorious representation of everybody. Miss Swanson's audience, when it comes to laughter, will never have any limits.

That "Manhandled" is one of the best pictures that Gloria has ever made, I will not say, but it is one of the brightest. For inimitable jazz and characterization and slapstick it is a high spot, anyway, if not an ace. More fun than anything that I have seen in several weeks. Some of the time, in truth, the house is at its most uproarious — especially so when Gloria's ankles are in the air. She must have remembered how to do some of these funny falls from the days when she was in comedies. Only her ankles look a lot better in the air than the shoes of some comedian, or alleged comedian, masculine gender.

It's the old, old story that is told, all about the good little girl who seemed so terribly bad. She just wanted to test a few experiences with the giddy Greenwich Village set, while her bourgeois Romeo was away.

Also she was ambitious to make money, and succeeded by posing as an artist's model, and also as a Russian countess.

Of course, her fiance becomes suspicious, because he had always known her as a drab little department-store girl, who didn't like anything that was manhandled.

That's where the title comes comes from. He couldn't quite see the fine clothes that she was wearing, until he finally was convinced that wearing them was really all part of her new job.

Of course, it's the "flap." I don't, indeed, know why I should bother about reciting the plot, except to give a notion of the very tawdry frame that is used for a very clever star and some ingenious situations.

Allan Dwan put a lot of pep into his direction, and that's the main thing that you can say in favor of it. For the rest it is pretty unbelievable and, at times, cheap, and about as true to life as a midnight frolic show. Who cares, though, so long as it is full of sparkle and laughs and Gloria? She's speeding along the road of popularity, and though she may have done finer and better things occasionally in the past, she has rarely done anything with more of humor.

A lot of men breeze in and out of the sequences, but Tom Moore is the most important. He's just as good if not better as a leading man than he was as a star, and there always was an appeal to Tom's work even in the old days.

Lilyan Tashman takes the eye with her dashing manner, while Frank Morgan, Paul McAllister, Ian Keith and Arthur Housman are the sheiks who try to tell the bedtime stories to the girls—chiefly the one girl who is the heroine and won't listen to them.

Al Christie deserves an incidental vote of thanks for turning out another good comedy. It is all about would-be burglars and safe-crackers, and may make some of the melodrama of yesteryear turn over a little in their graves.

The music program by the orchestra and the Hawaiian trio is very acceptable, too.

Paul Bern Is Both Director and Scenarist

Paul Bern, Paramount director, enjoys an unusual distinction.

While Willis Goldbeck, who prepared the scenario of Bern's first picture, "Open All Night," is consulting with him upon details of production, Bern, in turn, is rendering a similar service to Dimitri Buchowetzki, for whom he acted as scenarist in preparing "Compromised" for the screen.

Bern prepared "Compromised," which is a Pola Negri starring vehicle, from the novel by Hermann Sudermann and play by Edward Sheldon entitled "The Song of Songs."

He plans to go into production with "Open All Night" early in June.

KAUFMAN GOES EAST TO BOOK PICTURES

Albert A. Kaufman, managing director of the Metropolitan, Rialto and Grauman's Million Dollar, left Los Angeles Sunday morning for his first eastern trip since having taken over the management of the houses. The purpose of his trip is to book acts, to confer with Paramount officials, as well as to productions for presentation during the year.

Booked to open shortly here are Irene Franklin, the Vincent Lopez, Jr., Band, and many other sterling artists.

IRENE BORDONI RUN ENDS SUNDAY NIGHT

Irene Bordoni, starring at the Biltmore in "Little Miss Bluebird," will conclude her stay in Los Angeles with a special farewell performance Sunday evening. Miss Bordoni will remain over in Los Angeles for the opening performance Monday night of Ethel Barrymore in "The Laughing Lady," the coming attraction at the Biltmore.

"DADDIES" OPENS AT RIALTO TODAY

"Daddies" arrives today at Grauman's Rialto. Laughter is so contagious a thing that Broadway will echo with the merriment evoked from this comedy special.

Originally a David Belasco stage play, "Daddies," met with instantaneous success in New York. Its screen version is destined to even a more brilliant welcome for it includes such stars as Mae Marsh and Harry Myers in the principal roles with Claude Gillingwater, Willard Louis, Claire Adams, Crauford Kent and a bunch of clever juveniles assisting in the fun.

AUTHOR GOES EAST

Johnston McCulley, author of "The Mark of Zorro" and other well-known works, has gone to New York on business. He will be gone one month.

'ROMANCE' APPROACHES RECORD PERFORMANCE

The much-maligned phrase, "It's a small world, after all," ought to be reinstated in our vernacular as a member of good standing, thinks Doris Keane, who at the Playhouse is jubilantly approaching June 2 and the two thousandth performance of "Romance."

Miss Keane has never enjoyed more popularity than in Los Angeles, and only because it is a small world after all. Better still, because Los Angeles is a small world of its own. She has played "Romance" in New York, London, Chicago and Boston, but in none of these cities has she received as many notes from people who saw her in the play at least once before her present appearance.

IRVING CUMMINGS SIGNED BY LEVEE

M. C. Levee, upon conclusion of his contract with Maurice Tourneur yesterday, signed Irving Cummings to direct a series of M. C. Levee productions for First National distribution.

The initial production under the new arrangement will be an adoption of Olive Wadsley's novel, "Belonging." The scenario for this picturization is now being completed by Albert Shelby Le Vino, who adapted "The White Moth." Actual "shooting" will be started at the United Studios the early part of next month.

PLANTED

FIG GARDENS.

NO PAYMENTS DOWN.

J. C. Forkner, president of the J. C. Forkner Fig Gardens, hereby offers to 100 families a most remarkable proposition. I have planted and sold 10,000 fig gardens; I have spent $6,000,000 during the last 10 years in development; there are now 20 families living on these farms, and I want room for more families.

I have decided to sell 1000 acres of planted fig gardens, just coming into bearing, on the following conditions:

You may move upon 5 or 10 acres, adjoining the city of Fresno, and build a home and farm the land while you pay for it 5 years in which to pay.

THOUSANDS WILL PAY FOR THE LAND.

Roads, ditches, highways, electric lines are built; townsites on land being developed; best valley in right in state; canning factory already built; church, schools and $5,000,000 lumber mills employing 1000 men, on tract; only 15 minutes from center of Fresno.

Life on the land and how I developed these fig gardens myself; any man who reads me cannot fail for I will help him to success.

Full details, see my personal representative, or, if you cannot personally call, write address below, telling frankly what your circumstances are and what you plan to do.

A 15-minute interview with my personal representative will relieve you of $37 doubt as to the security of this proposition.

CREEK WATERS CAUSE OF SUIT

Priority Sought on Use of Tulare County Stream

Record Graduate Classes in Various Schools

Fruit Shipments Now on in Woodlake Zone

VISALIA, May 26.—An action will be started Wednesday before Superior Judge W. B. Wallace in Visalia to establish priority of rights to waters of Poso Creek, also known as Posey Creek, lying in the southern end of Tulare county east of White River. H. G. Vincent and E. A. Goodyear are bringing suit against Mrs. Belle Berry and forty-two other defendants, all owners of land, to require them to set forth the nature of their claims to waters of Poso Creek and to obtain a decree that the plaintiffs are entitled to appropriate the waters of the stream to the extent of twelve cubic feet per second when more is flowing at the point of diversion to the plaintiffs and to the extent of all waters flowing in the creek when it is less than twelve cubic feet. The plaintiffs also ask that the defendants be enjoined from asserting any claim to the disputed water.

The plaintiffs own extensive holdings near the southern boundary of the county, through which they assert the creek flows. H. Guy Hughes and H. J. Carver, two of the defendants, also will appear as cross-complainants. Both own property near that of the plaintiffs, which they contend is riparian to the creek.

Several prominent attorneys will be associated in the case. Guy Knupp of Porterville and Power & MacFadzen of Visalia will represent the plaintiffs and Wiley & Harvey of Bakersfield are counsel for the defendants. The two cross-defendants will be represented by Coffin & Lambert of Bakersfield.

TULARE GRADUATES

A total of 330 pupils will be graduated from thirty-nine elementary schools of Tulare county the coming week. The schools are: Allensworth, Ash Spring, Aurora, Buena Vista, Coho, Columbus, Elda, Enterprise, Exeter, Hanley, Highway, Hope, Ivanhoe, Kaweah, Lake View, Laurel, Liberty, Lindsay, Milies, Monson, Oakland Colony, Pleasant View, Quincy, Rocky-ford, Saucelito, Surprise, Three Rivers, Tipton, Union, Vandalia, Walnut Grove, Richgrove, Willow, Wondsor, Woodlake, Woodville.

FRUIT BEING SHIPPED

WOODLAKE, May 26.—Shipment of fruit has started from this section. The first shipment of peaches was sent by express to the San Francisco markets and shipments to various Eastern points are being made almost daily. The first car of California pit fruits, including peaches, plums and apricots, to leave the State this season went from here. Fruit is ripening rapidly and shipments are expected to reach three carloads a day from the Redbanks orchards as the season advances.

RECORD IN NUMBER

PORTERVILLE, May 26.—All records for graduating classes from Porterville elementary schools will be broken this evening, when 108 boys and girls receive certificates. This is the largest graduation class in Tulare county, an honor borne by Porterville for several seasons.

FRUIT EXCHANGE FORMED

Organization of the Rose Crest Fruit Exchange was perfected at a meeting of growers in the Fruit Growers' Exchange offices. Guy Knupp, T. J. Adams, E. G. Wilson, N. T. Bradford and F. L. Kennedy were elected directors. W. D. Ambrose and G. A. Bassett of Exeter and E. S. Culver of Sacramento, of the California Fruit Exchange, were present. The new organization will be associated with the California Fruit Exchange. Packing houses of the Tulare County Lemon and Grapefruit Association will be used.

Mrs. Bellows Elected Head of City Club

Mrs. E. C. Bellows was elected president of the Woman's City Club yesterday, leading her opponent, Mrs. Mary E. Eylward, by a vote of 328 to 182. Her election and the selection of a board of directors was a victory for the administration forces. The contest was the climax of a series of divisions that started before the regime of Mrs. John T. Coleman, incumbent. Mrs. Bellows is the only member to be elected twice to the office. She served the club as its third president in 1913 and 1914.

Other officers and directors elected were: Mrs. S. L. Wiley, first vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Anderson, second vice-president; Mrs. H. V. Davis, secretary, and Mrs. Effie M. Crawford, treasurer. Directors, Mrs. Myrtle E. Matters, Mrs. Fenner H. Webb, Mrs. Alice Simmons Wheeler and Mrs. Homer U. Prather.

WOMAN BADLY CUT IN KNIFE ATTACK

WIELDER OF WEAPON SAID TO BE ESTRANGED HUSBAND

A narrow escape from death at the hands of a knife wielder, said to be her husband, was experienced last night by Mrs. Lilly Ramsey, 23 years of age, of 2994 Wall street. Her throat was slashed, several tendons being cut and the jugular vein barely being missed. She was treated at the Receiving Hospital and will recover.

The affray took place at 256 West Forty-second street, where she had gone to live since the separation from Jack Ramsey, her husband, the police reported. According to the police, Ramsey went to that address last night to see his wife. A quarrel followed during which Ramsey whipped a knife from his pocket and attacked her, it was said by police.

A search was begun for Ramsey after the police had investigated.

POINCARE HITS AT HERRIOT

Premier Warns Rival of German Duplicity and Makes Threat of Opposition

BY HENRY WALES
[BY CARLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 26.—Premier Poincare uttered a warning and threat to the Herriot Cabinet in a speech at Bar Le Duc this afternoon at the opening of the general council of the Meuse Department, over which Premier Poincare presides.

Premier Poincare gave a solemn warning that Germany is secretly manufacturing and hoarding war material and is organizing vast military formations, exceeding the 100,000 reichswehr which the Versailles Treaty provides.

Premier Poincare made the threat that he and Minister of War Maginot will lead the opposition against the next Cabinet if it failed to take cognizance of the Teuton menace and prepare the necessary measures to protect France.

GERMANY ACCUSED

The Premier reiterated once more his battle cry—we will not evacuate our military forces from the Ruhr except in an equal measure to the reparations Germany makes.

Regarding the Dawes reparations plan, Premier Poincare emphasized the fact that the Dawes report did not demand military withdrawal from the Ruhr.

He accused Germany of bad faith in continuing discussion stipulating conditions, and employing stalling tactics on the adoption of the experts' plan.

"The French living along the frontier are not under the delusion that it suffices to grant confidence in Germany to make her decide to fulfill her engagements," thundered Premier Poincare, while his hearers applauded.

SLAM AT HERRIOT

This remark was a direct slam at the principal statement in all of M. Herriot's utterances, which insist that good will, sincerity, and confidence will mark his foreign policy.

M. Herriot has stated that he is willing to negotiate and discuss with Berlin honestly and fairly, but he insisted that Germany must evince its intention of carrying out its agreements and not hide its real feelings.

Premier Poincare today told M. Herrit in advance that it is of no use to expect frankness, sincerity and honesty from Germany, and indicated that the new Cabinet might be placed in a dangerous position by not realizing that and continuing his—Premier Poincare's—policy of distrust and vigilance.

Coming on the heels of the disclosure that Lew Mason, who committed suicide by inhaling gas in a Hollywood hotel last week, was in fact Lewis M. Moody, son of a prominent San Franciscan of a generation ago, it was revealed last night that the picture Moody clutched on his death bed was that of Josephine Howard, a former actress friend, now dead.

The identity of the woman was disclosed while efforts were being made to determine whether Marcella Daly, film actress, will inherit any estate Moody left as a result of a note he scribbled before taking gas. The note read: "All that I may have, please give to Marcella Daly."

It was declared Josephine Howard merely was a friend of the Moody family. She also was known as Gertrude Wilkins, who was the last of the wives of Arthur Greiner, wealthy racing man of the East. Following Greiner's death she married Capt. Campbell of the Canadian Army. The couple resided in Toronto. In 1918, she was stricken with the influenza and died.

Moody was a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Greiner, it was learned, and when the former Mrs. Greiner's body was taken to Chicago for burial, the funeral was attended by the friends of the Greiners and Moodys. The friendship between the Moodys and the Greiners is set forth as the explanation of Moody's possession of the former Mrs. Greiner's picture.

FUNERAL OF SUICIDE SET FOR TODAY

Service for T. B. Martin of Tulare Who Ended Life in Despondent Fit

TULARE, May 26.—Talbert B. Martin, 39 years of age, former service man, proprietor of Martin's welding shop in this city for five years, who yesterday morning killed himself in a fit of despondency, will be laid to rest in Tulare Cemetery tomorrow morning.

Telling his wife he would return later for breakfast, Martin went to his office, supposedly to work, took his seat at his desk, wrote a note of farewell, giving ill-health as the reason for his act, directed disposition of his property and, placing the muzzle of a 38-caliber revolver in his mouth, ended his life.

Martin was well thought of here and was an active member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elvira Martin; his father, Charles J. Martin, and a brother, Harry Martin, all of this city. Funeral services will be conducted from the Christian Church, Rev. G. A. Stubbs officiating.

SPANISH WAR HEROES MEMORIAL CONDUCTED

Annual memorial and ritualistic services for those who gave their lives in the Spanish-American War were conducted last night at 955 South Olive street. Glass and Roosevelt Post No. 9, together with the ladies auxiliaries of these organizations, joined for the services and more than 500 members were present. Lieut. L. J. Ammor, occupied the chair. Following the services, Judge Guerin delivered a patriotic address.

STEP TAKEN IN START OF FLOOD WORK

Supervisors Give Orders Ordinances be Prepared to Push Project

The County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized the drawing up of ordinances to bring about the start of work on projects in the $33,000,000 flood-control and water-conservation bond issue. Formalities include authority to offer the bonds for sale and to instruct the chief engineer to go ahead with plans and specifications for work so far outlined.

The Pacoima Dam project will be the first to be started. Chief Engineer Reagan declared that the plans and specifications for this work are complete.

The board yesterday received a number of communications from chambers of commerce and citizens asking for start of work on some particular project. The chambers at San Fernando, Glendale and Van Nuys requested early start on the Pacoima and Cahuenga projects and the Cahuenga Chamber asked that the Haines Canyon wash be pushed.

A petition from 200 Los Angeles citizens asked that work be started on the Sycamore Canyon wash work.

All the projects will be studied carefully and work authorized after consulting engineers have approved all the plans and specifications, the board stated.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES BY BANDITS

Woman and Auto Figure in Hold-ups Scattered About City

Two Chinese, two negroes, two white men, a woman and a Chevrolet automobile figured in two hold-ups in which $218.50 changed hands, the victims chalking up the amount on the red side of the ledger.

In the first hold-up, Ah Louie and Georgie Tom were held up at the point of guns in the hands of two negroes at Eighteenth street and Naomi avenue. After taking $200 from the Chinese, the negroes struck their victims over the head with the butts of their guns and fled.

In the second hold-up, J. B. Warner of 1827 South Union avenue was approached by two men who leaped out of an automobile in which there was a woman, in front of 907 Washington Boulevard. The men, after robbing Warner of $18.50 at the point of guns, jumped back into the car and drove off.

A few hours later James Read of 1158 Lillian Way was approached by two men, who jumped from an automobile at Gower and Carlton avenue, one of the men pointing a gun at Read and commanding him to hold up his hands. Read offered resistance and was knocked to the sidewalk. His shouts for help frightened the hold-up men, who fled without getting any money.

Report Bandit Hit by Shots Unconfirmed

Search for the "silk hat" bandit by Deputy Sheriffs Monteleon and Dewar yesterday near the scene of the gunbattle Saturday night in the hills between Inglewood and Culver City failed to confirm the belief that the gunman had been wounded. The bandit escaped in an exchange of a dozen or more shots with deputies who had waited in hiding.

It became known yesterday that the Sheriff's men used aid of a young woman employee of the county as a lure for the bandit. When the bandit appeared the deputies ordered him to "stick 'em up." He did not and fired at the officers. The bandit got away and was believed to have been wounded.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY AT FONTANA

Few more pleasant or profitable occupations are to be found for the average man or woman than the handling of a flock of the famous Fontana strain of White Leghorns which earn so consistently a steady income for their owners.

Women as well as men—scores of them with no previous experience—are making poultry raising a success under the Fontana Plan in which modern labor-saving devices do away with much of the former drudgery.

Poultry Raising

at Fontana is a well established industry — not an experiment. Fontana White Leghorns have produced 16 of the world's 31 heaviest layers. Earnings should net $1.50 to $2 a year per hen—some flocks earn $3 net per bird.

You can establish your profitable poultry plant here in a mature orange grove of 2½ or more acres, and combine the income from your flock with profits on oranges.

Your 500 unit poultry plant, modern 4-room bungalow, built for you, and your 2½-acre orange grove may be purchased for only $1368.75 cash, with balance over 5 years on easy terms.

Fontana is a development of 17 years with the expenditure of millions of dollars—not a promotion. Thousands of acres have been sold and the present offering is limited.

Free Motion Pictures of Fontana project and Fontana Estates will be exhibited at our Los Angeles show rooms, 615 S. Olive St., on Thursday, May 29th

at 7:30 P.M. It will prove intensely interesting and instructive.

NEW NAVAL GUN RECORD IS SEEN

High Averages Piled Up in Long-Range Firing

Maryland Latest Warship, Believed in Lead

Secret Battle Practice is Program for June

Dreadnaughts of the United States Battle Fleet have just completed what is believed to be their best gunnery year in the Navy's history, according to compilation of semi-official figures yesterday aboard the flagship California.

Exceptionally high averages were piled up by all ships in long-range battle practice, fired off this coast last week and which counts 50 per cent in gunnery competition, or as much as all others combined. The marks were made despite poor visibility and unusually deceptive weather conditions prevailing on the drill grounds.

"Standings of all ships for long-range battle practice is going to be very high, although we have not yet compiled mathematical and photographic data," declared Commander Fred M. Perkins, fleet gunnery officer. "The fleet in general has shown a healthy improvement in the gunnery for the year just closed."

BELIEVE MARYLAND LEADS

Standings of individual ships have not yet been announced, although unofficially, it is believed, the U.S.S. Maryland, newest super-dreadnaught of the fleet, holds the lead. She is in command of Capt. Frank M. Clark and is the only ship in the force mounting 16-inch guns.

The Maryland is said to be followed by the U.S.S. Tennessee, commanded by Capt. Luke McNamee and the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, in command of Capt. John Fore Hines.

A comprehensive program of experimental gunnery exercises, secret in nature, will be conducted by the battleship division during the coming month, Commander Perkins announced.

WARSHIPS SAIL FOR DRILL

The battleships Maryland and New Mexico, accompanied by submarine S-34, put to sea yesterday morning for the drill grounds off San Clemente Islands, while sixteen seaplanes flew in battle formation to report activities of "enemy" ships for the first practice of the week.

Using balloons and kites as targets, the superdreadnaughts again will get under way today for the first anti-aircraft target practice of the season.

The supply ship Ortolan arrived at noon today from San Diego, while the battleship Mississippi, which sailed Friday for San Francisco to load ammunition for practice firing, is scheduled to return to her base here today.

Squires Suffers Serious Injury, X-ray Reveals

Photographs by X-ray of injuries suffered Sunday by George D. Squires, State insurance commissioner, when he and Mrs. Squires were struck by an automobile while on their way to church, revealed that he is suffering from a fracture of the left leg and three broken ribs, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Squires was reported to be resting easily at the Clara Barton Hospital, where he and Mrs. Squires, who also was injured, were transferred after being given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital. Mrs. Squires is recovering from shock and minor injuries. They were treated by Drs. H. E. Southworth and George W. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Squires were run down at Seventh and Hope streets by a machine reported to have been driven by J. B. Faulkner, 701 Grand avenue, South Pasadena. Mr. Squires is personal attorney for Gov. Richardson.

SUSPECT HELD AFTER FILM STAR FUR THEFT

Frank Connacher was held to answer yesterday by Justice Ambrose on a charge of grand larceny. It is asserted that he stole furs valued at $700 from Mae Ayer, motion-picture actress of 5657 Sunset Boulevard. Connacher and Mike Levy were arrested in the investigation of fur thefts in Hollywood. Levy turned State's evidence and took the stand at the hearing, admitting the thefts and implicating Connacher. Connacher was held in $5000 bail while Levy was released on his own recognizance. The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray.

PAIR WHO MADE JAIL ESCAPE RECAPTURED

W. C. Williams and Ed Brown, who, with five others escaped from the barless cells of the Lincoln Height Police Station several days ago, were recaptured last night by vice squad officers under Officers McMullen and Rice. This makes four out of the seven who have been taken, two having been arrested a short time after the break.

STREET PROJECT FAVORED

The proposed widening of Florence avenue from Van Ness avenue to the western city boundary was approved by the City Council yesterday, which ordered the presentation of the necessary ordinance of intention.

COSTS BUT 50c TO HEAL SKIN WITH POSLAM

The most wonderful thing about Poslam is how little is needed to heal even stubborn cases of skin eruptions. Often a single 50c box will clear away a patch of eczema that has been an itching torment for years. All druggists sell it.—[Advertisement.

JAPANESE FREIGHTER IS MISSING

Radio Calls Fail to Locate Malta Maru Long Overdue Here

Radio queries by her owners and local agents had last night failed to locate the Japanese steamer Malta Maru which sailed from Antwerp April 19 for Los Angeles Harbor direct and which has not yet been reported as having passed through the Panama Canal. She is already regarded as being a week overdue at this port.

The Malta Maru, a vessel of 3389 net tons and one of the finest cargo carriers under the Japanese flag, is a unit of the cargo fleet of the Kokusai Kisen Kabuhiki Kaisha and has a full cargo, 5000 tons of cement, sand and clay for Los Angeles delivery.

Officials of Balfour Guthrie Co., local agents of the vessel, said yesterday that they were in receipt of no information of the steamer since her departure from Europe. The Malta Maru is 460 feet long and was built in 1919 at Tsurumi, Japan. She carries a crew of forty-two.

Two Wanted in Hold-ups Jailed by Coincidence

Harry Richardson and Vee Hinds were booked for investigation yesterday at the County Jail because, according to Deputy Sheriffs White, Bell and Fitzgerald, the long arm of coincidence reached out and grabbed them. C. A. Davis, an oil worker at Santa Fe Springs, was robbed two weeks ago, the deputies said. Sunday night, as he was passing an alley near the Four Corners in Santa Fe Springs, a car without lights backed hastily out and into his car and then went on. Davis got its number and turned it over to the Sheriff. Yesterday, when the two men were brought in, he identified Hinds as one of the men who robbed him.

The deputies declared the men had been positively identified by oil workers on the Standard Oil Lease at Santa Fe Springs as men who had robbed them. One man declared he had been robbed three times by the same pair.

Dollar Line to Buy All Ships' Supplies Here

Los Angeles Harbor assumed increased importance as a world port yesterday with the announcement by the Dollar Steamship Line that supplies for its huge fleet of around-the-world and intercoastal liners will be purchased here.

Fine support given the various Dolar services by the shippers and traveling public of Southern California has prompted the change in policy, according to George G. Nell, general passenger agent.

"Heretofore, supplies for this huge fleet have been purchased in San Francisco," said Mr. Nell. "Under the new arrangement, however, the Dollar Steamship Line, realizing the tremendous possibilities of Los Angeles, has established the policy of purchasing supplies in Los Angeles and Southern California for its around-the-world fleet of seven liners, as well as for its many large cargo vessels."

Mr. Nell announced that the Dollar liner Robert Dollar, one of the three largest cargo carriers afloat, will arrive here from her around-the-world run June 6.

Ant Poison Is Used by Woman to Kill Herself

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

OCEAN PARK, May 26.—Mrs. Miriam Nicholson, 43 years of age, ended her life today by swallowing ant poison at her home at 738 Pier avenue. She had been in ill health for some time and recently suffered a complete nervous breakdown.

The woman was found by her husband, Arthur N. Nicholson, when he came home for lunch. She was still alive and he immediately summoned a physician. She died, however, a short time later. The body was removed to the O. A. Kirkelie mortuary.

FOREST HOME TO BE OPENED AS RESORT

After extensive improvements during the last winter, Forest Home, the high San Bernardino mountain resort, will be formally opened for the summer on the 29th inst. Besides the outdoor swimming plunge, athletic courts, private trout pond and miles of mountain riding trails, Franck Culver, manager, announces several new stone mountain lodges are building in that part of the estate set aside for private homes.

TO UNVEIL BRITISH WAR HERO TRIBUTE

A monument to British soldiers and nurses who died while in Southern California, will be unveiled on Memorial Day, at the Inglewood Cemetery by the Canadian Woman's Club. The club has a plot in the cemetery in which thirteen men and women are buried. The monument has been erected by the Canadian women as a reminder of those who gave their lives in the World War. The unveiling will take place at 1:30 p.m.

DRUG TRIO SENTENCED

Jose Calderon, convicted last week on a charge of selling narcotics in violation of the Harrison Act, was sentenced by Federal Judge McCormick to serve a year and a day in the Federal Prison at Leavenworth. Leopold Martinez and Fernand Mendoza, convicted with Calderon, were each sentenced to serve nine months in jail, the former going to the Imperial county jail and the latter to the San Bernardino county jail.

CAMPUS ADDITION ASKED IN COURT

California University Heads Seek Condemnation of Adjacent Blocks

Regents of the University of California yesterday began an action in eminent domain in Superior Court designed to acquire two square blocks of land adjacent to the present campus on Vermont avenue of the University of California, Southern Branch.

It was stated public interest and necessity made imperative the condemnation of the land for university purposes. The land in question is bounded by Vermont avenue, Melrose avenue, Berendo avenue and Monroe street.

WILL END CARLSBAD CROSSING

State Commission Gets Viaduct Right of Way at Dangerous Curve

The dangerous turns and a hazardous railroad crossing on the State highway to San Diego at Carlsbad are to be eliminated, according to an announcement made yesterday by State Highway Commissioner N. T. Edwards.

The commission has succeeded after much objection in obtaining a right of way along a portion of the proposed new road, Mr. Edwards said. It is the commission's intention, according to Mr. Edwards, to construct a new road which will leave the present highway just north of Carlsbad and run diagonally west, crossing the railroad on an overhead structure and join the old highway just south of the second hazardous turn.

With the acquisition of the right of way over a portion of the route Mr. Edwards expressed the belief that the remaining titles would be obtained in a brief time.

The commissioner also announced that plans have been completed for a five-mile stretch of road to run from Laguna Beach north to Corona del Mar. The plans have been forwarded to the commission for approval and bids will be let in the near future for the work.

This stretch of road, the commissioner explained, is a part of the Coast Highway system which will eventually run from San Diego north along the ocean front.

Niblo to Take Talmadge Unit to Monte Carlo

Fred Niblo will leave within ten days for Monte Carlo, where exteriors of Norma Talmadge's next picture will be photographed, it was announced yesterday by John W. Considine, general manager of Schenck Productions. The director will be accompanied by his wife, Enid Bennett. Prohibitive cost of construction Monte Carlo sets here is the reason given for the decision to "shoot" the scenes in the exact setting of the story. The title of the film will be "The Lady."

Announcement that the picture will be made in Europe revives the rumor that Miss Talmadge has been selected by the French government to take the leading role in a historic picture.

YOUTH KNOCKED OFF BICYCLE BADLY HURT

BONES BROKEN AND OTHER INJURIES IN MISHAP WITH TRUCK

Lawrence Olson, 16 years of age, of 807 Jones street, was injured, probably fatally, yesterday when he was knocked from his bicycle by a truck said to have been driven by Walter Williams of 1653 East Twenty-second street. The accident occurred at Twenty-fifth street and Santa Fe avenue. The boy was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Dunsmoor said he received several broken bones and internal injuries.

Another boy, who may die from accidental injuries, is Willis Rose, 16, of 447 Lake street. He received a possible skull fracture when he fell from a "teeter-totter" while at play. He was also taken to the Receiving Hospital.

MRS. MARY S. PARKS DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Mary Sibley Parks, 84 years of age, a resident of Los Angeles for more than twenty years, died last night at the California Hospital. She lived at 531 North Hobart Boulevard. She leaves a daughter, Ruth E. Parks, and four nephews, W. M. Boos, Sibley G., James A., and Robert M. Pease of Los Angeles. The body is at Pierce Brothers, pending funeral arrangements.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Memorial Day will be observed with an appropriate program by the Masonic Club of Los Angeles at its meeting tomorrow noon at the Alexandria. James F. THIEVES IN APARTMENT

Pass-key burglars are blamed by Hollywood police detectives for the theft of jewelry valued at $450 from the apartment of Mrs. John Erickson, 5481 Santa Monica Boulevard. A report of the burglary was made to the police yesterday by Mrs. Erickson.

HILF TO REPRESENT CITY

The Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday recommended that the Council appropriate $500 to defray the expenses of Deputy Police Chief Hilf to Montreal, Can., to attend the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police on July 14.

SECOND HAS PARDON FOR BANK THEFT

Mexican, Falsely Sent to Prison for Arcadia Bank Hold-up, Freed

Jose Hernandez, falsely convicted and sentenced to Folsom State prison for from one years to life in connection with the hold-up of the National Bank of Arcadia, was pardoned by Gov. Richardson yesterday, according to news dispatches from Sacramento.

Hernandez was the second of three Mexicans erroneously convicted of the robbery to be liberated by the Governor. The pardon of the third Mexican is reported to have been delayed by a technicality.

The first Mexican to be pardoned, Salvador E. Mendival, instituted a suit of $109,255 last week against the bank, county officials and other persons who testified in the trial which resulted in the conviction of the three Mexicans. A fourth Mexican, who was accused, died before trial.

In granting the pardon of Hernandez, Gov. Richardson stated the evidence was circumstantial and no direct connection between the defendant and the crime ever was shown. The pardon was granted with the understanding that Hernandez be delivered to the United States immigration officials and that he be deported to Mexico. The pardons came as the result of more than a year's investigation of the robbery, as a result of which members of an asserted "crime ring" were believed to have robbed the bank, rather than the Mexicans.

Following the investigation Hubert Kittle, one-time aviator, was indicted but committed suicide before he could be placed on trial. The Mexicans served more than two years in the penitentiary.

PATENT SUIT OF BLIND INVENTOR IS RENEWED

ACTION SEEKS ACCOUNTING AND OWNERSHIP OF "RACING DERBY"

William A. Miller, 40 years of age, blind inventor, yesterday renewed his legal campaign against Frank M. Prior, Frederick A. Church and other citizens of Venice in an attempt to be declared the originator and rightful owner of an invention known as the "racing-derby" merry-go-round.

Miller's new offensive in the litigation involving the patents was launched through his mother and guardian, Mrs. Bessie Miller. Allegations made in the complaint are similar in nature to those made by a suit filed several months ago by Miller, but which went off calendar to make way for the present action.

It was asserted Miller had invented the racing derby in 1912 and that during that same year the late Thomas Prior, father of Frank Prior, and Church called upon him to discuss the invention. He said they entered an oral agreement whereby they were to perfect and manufacture merry-go-rounds based on his model, in compensation for which he was to receive $5000 for each merry-go-round built and sold and one-eighth royalty on the gross proceeds from the operation of the machines.

Miller stated he was practically insane from 1913 to 1918, and that Thomas Prior and Church obtained patents based on his invention in 1913. He further stated he did not learn of their action until 1923 when he became mentally improved. It was asserted on belief that an accounting would show more than $500,000 to be due Miller from the defendants. He asked that the patents be declared to be held in trust for him by the defendants.

DIVORCE MELODY OF NEW KIND SUNG

MATE SAYS WIFE TOOK HIS CLOTHES WHILE HE WAS AT LODGE

A melody of a new sort was sung by Henry W. Schrader in a divorce suit filed yesterday against Anna Mae Schrader.

Schrader said he returned home from lodge late one night. His wife was not there. Looking around he found she had moved all the furniture out, he said. Searching still further, he discovered his clothing was gone.

She left, Schrader said, in spite of the fact that he had to do all of the housework, dish bathing and rug beating.

She also humiliated him, he said, at a party by refusing to speak to a woman guest.

Fraud Charged to Attorney in Legal Dealings

Charges of false representations were preferred against J. Morgan Marmaduke, local attorney, in a suit for satisfaction of a note an deancellation of a chattel mortgage begun yesterday by Leonard G. Sanders, awaiting trial in Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter.

Sanders asserted Marmaduke called on him in the County Jail and guaranteed to get probation for him, providing he would employ Marmaduke as his attorney. Marmaduke also was said to have represented to Sanders that he was a close friend of Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fricke and was an influential person with authorities.

Sanders said he agreed to employ Marmaduke and to pay him a fee of $2500. He said he caused a promissory note and chattel mortgage on property in Monrovia to be issued for this amount in favor of Marmaduke.

The plaintiff added that the only service performed in his behalf by Marmaduke was the qualifying of bondsmen for Sanders after the latter's bail was reduced to $5000.

Mrs. D. C. Mickle, to whom Sanders said he issued a bill of sale to his Monrovia property following the filing of the manslaughter complaint, was a joint plaintiff in the action, which was prepared by William J. Clark, former deputy district attorney. A. H. Ramey, to whom Marmaduke was declared to have assigned the note and mortgage of Sanders, was named a codefendant. Sanders was charged with manslaughter following the death of Mary and Jessie Wiley of Pasadena, who were said to have been struck down by his automobile. He was arrested in St. Louis.

LODGES WILL CONDUCT MRS. THOMPSON RITES

EASTERN STAR AND RELIEF CORPS TO READ SERVICE FOR CLUB WOMAN

The Order of the Eastern Star will join with the Women's Relief Corps in conducting funeral services tomorrow for Mrs. Lizzie E. Thompson, for twenty years a resident of Los Angeles, who died Saturday at her summer home in Balboa Beach. The services will be conducted at the grave in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Thompson was the wife of Harry O. Thompson, 1969 Lovelace avenue, Los Angeles, real estate man. She is survived, also, by a sister, Mrs. H. R. Pietz and a brother, George Erbes, both of Minnesota, who were visiting her at the time of her death. She leaves no children. She was born November 15, 1844.

She was active in club affairs. In addition to membership in the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 168, and the Stanton Women's Relief Corps No. 16, she was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Ebell Club and the Galpin Shakesperean Club.

MONROVIA CONTRACT LET BY WOMEN'S CLUB

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, May 26.—V. R. Bush has been awarded the contract for the auditorium to be built for the Women's clubhouse, to cost $13,750. Work will be started at once. The contract originally was given to D. E. Snyder, the first successful bidder, but he was unable to begin work on the building soon owing to other contracts previously begun. The auditorium will seat 600 and will be a wing adjoining the clubhouse on the north. The clubhouse is a perfect type of Georgian Colonial architecture surrounded by beautiful grounds and was purchased last November by the club from John Matthews. The Matthews residence, which is an exact replica of the John Hancock home, has long been the scene of many motion-picture set in Southern residences.

BRIDGE PROJECT COST AGREEMENT IS SOUGHT

In order that the railroads and the city can hold further conferences so as to agree on a division of the expense of the proposed $535,000 bridging of Anaheim Road in the Wilmington district at Dominguez Creek so that the railroads will use tracks under the highway, thus eliminating a dangerous grade crossing, the interested parties agreed yesterday at a meeting at the City Hall to ask the California Railroad Commission to delay its hearing in the matter for thirty days. The hearing was set for tomorrow.
